Avoids Break in Relations After Prod by Washington

BY TONY ESCODA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Faced with a British break in diplomatic relations and prodded by Washington, Indonesia expressed regret today for the mob burning and looting of the British Embassy and other property.

Strong forces of Indonesian troops appeared to have restored order in this capital after Wednesday's rampage by about 10,000 Indonesians protesting against the new, British-sponsored Federation of Malaysia. But in the uneasy calm, British women and children were preparing to quit Indonesia.

Violence Deplored

President Sukarno's government issued a conciliatory statement deploring the mob violence, worst demonstration ever staged here against a foreign power. British Foreign Secretary Lord Home had denounced "such uncivilized behavior" and threatened to sever diplomatic relations unless assured British subjects and property would be protected.

The Indonesian government statement was issued after U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones called on Sukarno with a message from Secretary of State Dean Rusk expressing the U.S. government's concern over the rioting. Rusk voiced similar concern to Indonesian Ambassador Zairin Zain in Washington.

Mob Action Renounced

The Indonesian statement said the government "certainly does not approve" of mob action and blamed the outburst in part on "the destruction of the Indonesian Embassy in Kuala Lumpur (capital of Malaysia)."

That riot followed Monday's stoning of the British and Malaysian embassies in Jakarta.

The Indonesian mob, screaming "Crush the British" and "Crush Malaysia," vented its fury against Britain's support of Malaysia, four-day-old nation formed in a federation of Malaya, Singapore and the British Borneo territories of Sarawak and North Borneo.

Sukarno's Stand

Sukarno opposed the federation on the ground it would perpetuate British colonialism in Southeast Asia. British officials believe, however, Sukarno is more interested in trying to take over Sarawak and North Borneo, which share the island of Borneo with Indonesian territory.

The Indonesian government said it had taken steps to prevent further violence.

In Kuala Lumpur, about 30 anti-Indonesian demonstrators seized the former Indonesian Embassy residence and threatened to burn themselves and the building if police tried to eject thm. Protesting the Jakarta riots, they vowed to stay inside until Malayan diplomats returning from Jakarta were safely home.

The Philippines also opposes Malaysia because of some territorial claims on North Borneo but has not been as vocal in its opposition as Indonesia. Malaysia has broken relations with both Indonesia and the Philippines.

California and U.S. Probes in Bus-Train Crash

Mexican Labor on American Farms May be Prohibited

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—Mounting investigations and outcries over Tuesday's railroad crossing crash which killed 28 Mexican migrant workers raised a question mark today over the status of the nation's bracero program.

As probes were pushed on both federal and state levels, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., called for defeat of a pending bill which would extend for one year the right to import Mexican laborers, or braceros, to do farm work.

"My witnesses are the dead and maimed," he said.

Legislation Urged

At Boulder, Colo., the migrant committee of the National Council of Churches said the crash, in which a freight train demolished a makeshift bus carrying 62 workers, underscored the need for more protective legislation.

"Such appalling accidents, which occur in every harvest season, should cause every American to take to heart the plight of one million migratory farm workers," stated a resolution passed by the committee.

Six of the more than 30 injured in California's worst vehicular accident in history remained near death.

Francisco Espinosa, 34, driver of the bus which was carried a half mile down the track while bodies tumbled on both sides, was in jail in felony manslaughter charges.

Federal and state investigators planned to question him further as to why, after stopping, he started across the tracks near Chualar eight miles south of Salinas, as the three-diesel freight bore down on the crossing.

Youth Admits Many Burglaries in 5 Years

RACINE (AP)—A 19-year-old youth, who said he started stealing at the age of 10 and is quoted by police as admitting between 100 and 200 burglaries in the last five years, was arraigned on a burglary charge Wednesday.

Bernard Smith waived a preliminary hearing in an appearance before Court Commissioner J. Lester Johnson and was jailed under $2,000 bond pending an appearance in County Court Friday.

Smith is charged with burglarizing the Square Deal T-V Service Store last weekend.

Cloudbursts End but Water Threatening to Top Levees

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Weary men labored through the night to keep flood waters loosed by departed hurricane Cindy from topping a levee and spilling into the neighboring town of Port Acres.

Cloudbursts of the past two days subsided into occasional light showers. All but a few of several thousand evacuees were able to return and start shoveling mud from soggy homes.

Emphasizing that losses could not be appraised accurately until flood waters finish ebbing, the Jefferson County Civil Defense Council estimated damage might reach $10.5 million.

The council appealed for Texas Gov. John Connally to declare the county, which includes Beaumont and Port Arthur, a disaster area.

Heavy Rains

Rains measuring up to nearly two feet drained into the Neches River and created the threat to Port Acres, 10 miles south of here and just west of Port Arthur.

Spokesman for the U.S. Engineers said if water topped an eight-foot levee protecting Port Acres, it could gush into 600 of the town's 1,000 homes and rout more than 2,000 people.

In a final advisory on hurricane Cindy, the Weather Bureau said it had degenerated into little more than a trace of the storm which packed 80-mile winds two days ago.

Predicting showers for another day or two over southern Louisiana and much of south Texas, the Weather Bureau said the last traces of Cindy should disappear by early Friday at the latest over southwest Texas or northern Mexico.

Russia Proposes Summit Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Soviet Foreign Minster Andrei A. Gromyko today proposed an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament during the first quarter of 1964.

The proposal was made by the Soviet leader in a major policy declaration before the U.N. general assembly. President Kennedy will give the U.S. policy statement tomorrow.

Gromyko asserted that the assembly session was opening in a more favorable atmosphere this year as a result of recent developments, including the signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Colleges to Help Firms In Research

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's nine state colleges will offer research assistance to the state's industrial firms in an effort to improve the economic growth rate.

Eugene R. McPhee, director of state colleges, said Wednesday the institutions, in cooperation with the State Division of Industrial Development, are preparing a directory for use by industry. It will be similar to a University of Wisconsin directory, and will include the names of faculty members with special technical and scientific skills and an inventory of scentific equipment at the state colleges, private colleges and Marquette University.

More Technical Help

David Wiggins, director of the industrial development division, said that areas of greatest economic growth are on the East and West coasts, where colleges and universities are assisting industry.

The Wisconsin directories, Wiggins said, will make it easier for firms to seek technical aid.

"This should enable them to improve their products and production menthods in order to increase business and to bid on government contracts," Wiggins said.

The University of Wisconsin said Wednesday that one of its coed astronomers will begin outer space research when she joins the Northrup Space Laboratories in California next month.

Negro Youths Attack Police In Michigan

Officers Try to Prevent Violence At New High School

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—A mob of Negro teen-agers stoned police Wednesday as helmeted officers tried to prevent racial violence at a new $3-million high school in a predominantly white neighborhood.

Later, police fought with several of an estimated 100 to 150 Negro adults who congregated at a residential street corner. No injuries were reported in either incident.

Ten students, including a white girl, were arrested after the hour-long disturbance Wednesday afternoon. Seven white youths were picked up later and released after questioning.

Inquiry Asked

Four policemen were assaulted by a mob of Negro students which also hurled rocks at the patrolmen and at passing cars. Police Chief Roscoe Gray, who said his "show of force didn't work," dispersed about 18 Negro youths at one point with a fire extinguisher.

The president of the Jackson chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Harold White, asked Gov. George Romney to investigate.

School officials scheduled classes as usual today at the Parkside High School, starting point of the flareups. Police ordered extra patrols for the day.

Appeal to Students

Dr. Elven Duvall, Jackson school superintendent, planned to appeal to the students in an assembly for an end to the incidents and tension.

The school is located on the southwest side of Jackson, a Southern Michigan city of 56,000.

After classes ended Wednesday several hundred students—mostly Negroes—gathered in the parking lot. About six Negro and white girls began shoving each other, witnesses said.

Some 200 Negroes began walking away from the lot, some of them throwing rocks at passing cars and at homes. Others shouted, "This isn't Alabama."

Police said the stones were hurled at them when they tried to disperse the mob. None of the officers reported being hit by the rocks.

The nine Negroes and one white student arrested were released to their parents. They were charged with disorderly conduct and ordered to appear in Juvenile Court.

Parkside High School opened for the first time Sept. 4. Its enrollment of 1,500 students was about evenly divided between whites and Negroes, officials said.

Dollar, Freedom Would be Strengthened, He Asserts In Appeal to U. S. Public

BY EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has urged the people to speak up in support of his tax reduction program. He said its benefits would range from new washing machines for families to new strength around the world for the American dollar and freedom.

"But that bill is in danger of being weakened or deferred," declared Kennedy. "It needs your help, your voice."

Thus through a national radio and television speech, the President sought to light a grassroots fire under Congress on behalf of the $11-billion tax reduction — which he called the most important domestic economic measure in 15 years.

House Test Next Week

The first major hurdle will come next Wednesday when the House is expected to vote on the tax program. But Kennedy was also looking toward the Senate where the bill faces a stormy time.

Kennedy directed his appeal all along the economic front, from businessmen to factory workers, from families watching their own shaky budgets to citizens worried over the government's unbalanced budget.

He asked for quick passage of the bill without a proposed Republican amendment tying tax cuts to curbs on spending.

Asks Equal Time

Almost as soon as Kennedy finished his address, William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, fired off telegrams to the networks asking equal time to reply to the President.

Reforting to GOP charges of fiscal recklessness, Kennedy said:

"No wasteful, inefficient or unnecessary government activity will be tolerated on the grounds that it helps employment. We are pledged to a course of true fiscal responsibility, leading to a balanced budget."

Much of his appeal was directed to people like the $8,000-a-year family whose prospective benefits he singled out as an example. The head of such a household, he said could look to the tax cut for enough extra take home pay to meet "the installments on a new dishwasher for his wife."

Points to Benefits

Other families, he went on, might prefer to use theirs on "a new spring wardrobe, or a washing machine, or a longer vacation trip, or a down payment on a new car or a new home." And he said the demand so created would help the country "skip a

3 Bodies Found In Vernon County Airplane Crash

HILLSBORO, Wis. (AP)—Three Illinois men were killed when their single-engine plane broke apart and then crashed in rain and fog in a hayfield five miles south of here early today.

The victims, who were heading for International Falls, Minn., and a fishing vacation, were former Streator, Ill., Mayor Albert E. Dittman, Eugene McMillion, 57, and Eugene McMillion Jr., 25. All three were Streator residents.

One body was found in the plane, a second was on the ground nearby and the third was lying in a hog pasture several hundred feet away. Wreckage was strewn in a wide area which is made up of rough terrain and heavily wooded sections.

There were reports that two planes had collided, but officials found wreckage from only one and said later they doubted that another plane was involved.

President to Confer With Negro Leaders

Racial Situation in Birmingham Will be Principal Topic

BY CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy meets today with the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., and six other Negro leaders to discuss the simmering racial situation in Birmingham, Ala.

On Monday, five of the Negroes called on Kennedy to send federal troops to Birmingham to control "civil disorder."

Long weeks of racial tension in the Alabama steel city reached a climax Sunday when a bomb was tossed into a Negro church, killing four children and injuring 23 others. In later incidents the same day, two Negro youths were killed.

Day of Mourning Asked

Tunnel Favored Under Channel

LONDON (AP) — A group of British and French experts today recommended their governments build a tunnel under the English Channel but warned that financing it may be difficult.

After a two-year study the British and French officials estimated the capital cost of a tunnel at 143 million pounds ($400,400,000.)

They rejected an alternate suggestion of a bridge, saying it would cost twice as much and would be a serious hazard to shipping.

The plan calls for a 32-mile railway tunnel between Folkestone on the English side and Sangatte, a French village five miles west of Calais. It would take about six years to complete.

The experts suggested a joint venture by the British and French railways, both state-owned, or by the governments themselves "would be better suited to the nature of the project" rather than to leave it in the hands of a private operating company.

China Accuses Soviets Of Nuclear Blackmail, Avoiding Showdown

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China says the Russians like to play at nuclear blackmail but yield in a showdown.

In a new broadside against the Soviet Union, President Liu Shao-chi of Red China accused "modern revisionists" of replacing the hard revolutionary policies of Marx and Lenin with a soft philosophy of survival.

Liu spoke Wednesday in the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. His remarks were broadcast by the New China news agency.

$100,000 Home Planned

Cash and Gifts to Quintuplets Estimated at About $250,000

ABERDEEN,S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets squirmed and squalled in their hospital nursery today while their fortunes and chances for survival continued to mount.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, parents of the four girls and a boy, got good news from several directions Wednesday:

They will someday live in a new house costing up to $100,000.

A potful of money (some say about $50,000) is coming their way for an exclusive contract signed with the Curtis Publishing Co.

Authorities at St. Luke's Hospital reported the quints still improving, eating more and showing lots of life in their Isolettes.

It is estimated that gifts and money received by the family so far total some $250,000.

E. C. Pieplow, president of the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce, told a news conference Wednesday night that the Fisher fawily has accepted the chamber offer to build the home, which may cost up to the $100,000 mark.

The site and size of the home have yet to be determined.

Don Schanche, managing editor of the Saturday Evening Post, announced that Curtis has secured radio, television and publishing rights to stories and pictures about the famous quints.

He refused to disclose any details of the agreement. Unofficial reports set the purchase price at about $50,000 for rights to the story for a few issues of the Post and Curtis' Ladies Home Journal.

Schanche said his company was "very happy to have concluded the agreement and thinks it is the best thing for all concerned."

He pledged the story of the quints would be handled "with dignity and decorum."

A hospital bulletin reported the quints were "still tolerating their food well" and the food intake has been increased beyond the teaspoonful or so of artificial milk formula and water being received every two hours.

The boy, James Andrew, remained the most active of the infants.

"He lets you know he's a boy," one nurse reported

Also reported highly active and healthy were the four girls—Mary Margaret, Mary Magdalene, Mary Catherine and Mary Ann.

The babies haven't yet been weighed or measured but unofficial estimates place their weight at between three and four pounds and their length at about 17 inches.

Dr. James Berbos, the family physician who delivered the brood last Saturday, said they had not gained any weight since their birth but that this was normal for premature babies. He said they were developing normally and "nothing apparently is wrong."

Babies Irritable

The quints were expected to remain in the hospital for at least two months but Mrs. Fischer, 30, was due for release later this week.

The infants, he said, are irritable and hard to handle—like all premature babies. They still are being fed through plastic tubes inserted into the nose and leading to the stomach. The doctor said he would take the infants "off the tubes" as soon as possible.

Premature babies are not fed by nipple and bottle until they acquire a sucking instinct.

Reynolds to Limit Hunt for New Tax Man

Top Candidate to Head Agency Now George W. Corning

BY HARVEY BREUSCHER

MADISON (AP)—Gov. John W. Reynolds has decided to limit his hunt for a replacement for State Tax Commissioner John A. Gronouski to personnel already in the agency, an informed source said.

And the man regarded as the top candidate for the job is George W. Corning, chief of the department's Division of Intelligence.

Corning, 39, joined the Tax Department in 1955. He was elevated to his present post in 1961 when Gronouski reorganized the agency.

Gronouski has been named Postmaster General and is in Washington where Senate confirmation of his appointment is expected shortly.

Reynolds volunteered last week that the man accepting Gronouski's job would have to be a bit of a gambler since he would have tenure only to July 21, 1965, the remaining time of Gronouski's term.

No Job Risk

But for Corning, the element of job risk would not be present. He is a Civil Service employe and would not lose status as a state worker should Reynolds fail in his expected bid for re-election and not be on hand to reappoint him.

Corning worked closely with Gronouski and the governor in setting terms of the compromise legislation which last month became Wisconsin law.

Under the circumstances, the appointment of Corning would hold two immediate advantages for the governor. It would put at the head of the department a man acquainted with its workings, and give Reynolds a man prepared to fill the financial adviser's role Gronouski handled during Reynolds' 1962 campaign.

French Party to Send Delegation to Russia

PARIS (AP)—The French Socialist party decided Wednesday to send a delegation to visit the Soviet Union at the invitation of the Soviet Communist party. No details were given.

The French Socialist party consistently denies it is drifting toward the French Communist party. However, during legislative elections last November when they faced a broad Gaullist opposition, the Socialists in some cases recommended votes for Communists rather than Gaullists.

Kennedy Appeals to Public on Tax Slash recession" and provide the 10 million jobs needed in the next 2½ years.

Kennedy obviously was looking for some help from Republicans, too.

He said:

"This is not a question of party—it is a question of jobs and growth. It is a question of whether our taxpayers and businessmen and workers will get the break they deserve. As the Congress prepares to vote on this issue, I strongly urge you to support this bill for your family's sake and for your country's sake."

Republican Proposal

The tax proposal that Republicans have put forth would provide that the tax cut, which Kennedy wants to start Jan. 1, would not take effect unless he submitted spending budgets not greater than $97 billion for the present fiscal year, which started July 1, and $98 billion for next year.

This would mean cuts of about $1 billion from this year's spending and perhaps as much as $3 billion to $4 billion from next year's which has not yet been estimated in detail.

Denouncing "credit card government," Miller, a New York congressman, told the networks in his telegrams asking equal time that millions of Americans in both parties disagree with what he called the "formula of living it up today through huge spending and charging the bills to our children and reducing federal revenues."

Bids for Speed

Without spelling it out, Kennedy lit into the earlier Republican proposal—and tried also to counter an expected slowdown in the Senate that might delay the bill until next year.

"Very few are openly opposed to cutting taxes," he said. "But there are those who, for one reason or another, hope to delay this bill, or to attach ruinous amendments, or to water down its effect.

"It must not be diluted by amendments or conditions. It must not be sent back to the House Ways and Means Committee. It must not be put off until next year.

"This nation needs a tax cut now—not a tax cut 'if'—not a tax cut 'when'—not a tax cut in the future or a tax cut for the few."

Some Democrats were quick to say the President's effort had improved their chances in the crucial votes next week.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., a member of the Ways and Means Committee which wrote the bill, said: "I definitely think the speech has helped us defeat the Republican motion. I think the vote will be fairly close, but I think we'll win."

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, who as Democratic leader has the main responsibility for getting out the vote, said he thinks "the President has made a very strong case."

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said that what he called Kennedy's excellent address would help.

Mansfield pledged continued efforts to have the bill passed this year.

But Republicans professed to find no reassurance in what Kennedy had to say about holding down spending — either in his speech or in an earlier letter endorsing a congressional declaration that passage of the bill would be a commitment against spending merely for the sake of economic stimulation.

Rep. Howard H. Baker, R-Tenn. a Ways and Means Committee member and author of a long-pending bill for combined tax relief and budget control, said "it is more important than ever" that the present Republican effort succeed.

The congressional declaration that was written into the bill and accepted by Kennedy is not enough, he said. "Expenditure control should be incorporated into the statute as a requirement."

The author of the Republican amendment, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, said he is "very optimistic" of the chances for adoption.

Calumet Trying To Extradite Man From California

CHILTON — Extradition proceedings to bring a California man back here to face morals charges have been launched by Calumet County District Atty. F. J. Schmieder.

Wayne H. Cundy, 60, who is being held by Los Angeles police, is wanted here in connection with a morals offense involving two Menasha girls aged 12 and 14. Cundy is being charged with indecent behavior with a child as a result of an alleged incident Aug. 4 in the Town of Brillion, Schmieder said.

Cundy escaped from Calumet County and Menasha police shortly after he was taken into custody by a Calumet patrolman who said he found Cundy with the girls in a parked car at a wayside near Forest Junction. The man fled from the home of the two Menasha girls when it became apparent charges would be brought against him by the girls' parents, county police said.

Once processed here, the extradition papers will be forwarded to Gov. John Reynolds for approval, Schmieder said. If approved, they will be sent to California for action to return Cundy to the county.

Major Points in Tax Slash Appeal

Kennedy Says Levies Too High, Vital to Block New Recession

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has had to feel his way toward the $11-billion tax cut he asked the people to support Wednesday night in his television and radio broadcast.

His argument can be put this way:

Taxes are too high and have been for years. If they're cut, people and corporations will have more money to spend. This, by pepping up the economy, will be insurance against another recession.

Concern about a recession has been on his mind since he took office in 1961 although the word "recession" can be a delicate one with presidents.

President Eisenhower on Jan. 18, 1961—two days before he turned over the White House to Kennedy—told Congress in his economic report that there had been a "decline" in the economy.

Kennedy went a lot stronger than that 11 days later. In his State of the Union Message to Congress on Jan. 29, 1961, Kennedy said: "We take office in the wake of seven months of recession, three and a half years of slack."

'58 Recession

He pointed back to the recession of 1958—which Eisenhower at the time had also called a recession—and said this country's recovery from that one was incomplete.

By the end of June 1961, after he had been in office six months, he reported the United States "had emerged from the recession." But fear of another one was high in his mind, as he showed later.

He referred Wednesday night, as he had before, to four recessions since the war: 1948-49; 1953-54; 1957-58; and 1960-61. He said high tax rates had helped cause the last two recessions.

In his first year Kennedy proposed various measures to bolster the economy but by 1962 he had definitely settled on a tax cut as a program to pursue, although in the beginning he only inched up to the problem.

Budget Message

In his budget message in January 1962, Kennedy didn't ask for a direct tax cut but suggested Congress give him stand-by authority to cut taxes if the economy began to show sickness.

Later in the year he went further and talked of wanting Congress to cut taxes across the board for individuals and corporations in 1963, a cut applying to 1963 income. This didn't get anywhere.

But, starting out this year, he made the across-the-board tax cut his major program for 1963. It eventually became apparent, as this tardy Congress dawdled along, that even if it approved a cut it wouldn't apply to 1963 income.

Then last week he got over his first big hurdle when the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles tax matters, approved 17 to 8 a tax cut of $11 billion.

Fifteen Democrats and two Republicans teamed up to aprove the measure over the opposition of eight Republicans. Approval by this committee was a necessary preliminary before the full House could get a chance to vote on it.

The full House tackles it next week. And Wednesday night Kennedy used some of his television time to take a swipe at foes of the bill, mostly Republicans. Republicans quickly announced they will demand equal television time to answer.

But even if the House gives Kennedy the tax cut he wants, there can't be any tax reduction unless the Senate also approves and it may be weeks before a Senate Committee even begins hearings, and more weeks before there can be a full vote on the bill in the Senate, if it ever gets there.

In his economic report last January Kennedy said in the 1948-49 and 1953-54 recessions a tax cut had helped check the decline and spur recovery.

Congress cut taxes $4.7 billion in 1948, just before the full impact of the recession was felt. The upturn began in October, 1949.

In the 1953-54 recession individual, corporate and excise tax reductions cost the government, Kennedy figured, about $7.4 billion in revenue. That recession ended in August 1954.

But Kennedy said it might have ended sooner if the cuts had been made sooner. There's no recession in sight now. Kennedy takes the position a tax cut before there is a recession will help avoid it.

The main protest of his opponents is that it's poor economy to reduce government revenue, through a tax cut, when government spending is outdistancing government income.

President to Confer With Negro Leaders

ognition of next Sunday as a day of national mourning for victims of the Birmingham church bombing.

A bipartisan group of senators, headed by Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota assistant Democratic leader, has introduced a resolution calling on Kennedy to proclaim Sunday "a day of national observance in memory of these children and a day of rededication in the nation to the principles of law, equality and tolerance."

The senators, who also include Thomas H. Kuchel of California assistant Republican leader, sent a similar request to President Kennedy by letter. Asked for reaction to it Wednesday, Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said "It's in the hands of the Senate."

"Sabbath of Silence"

A group of religious leaders, including Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders, called on House Speaker John McCormack and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Wednesday, seeking support for a "Sabbath of silence" or silent prayer period on Sunday.

In New York, leaders of the 10 organizations that sponsored last month's civil rights march on Washington issued a statement calling upon all Americans to observe this Sunday as a day of mourning.

Observances are also planned in other cities.

The situation in Birmingham brought a call Wednesday from Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, for the federal government to "cut off every nickel and every dime going into Alabama."

Wilkins told a news conference here that President Kennedy should start by "closing down Maxwell Air Force Base at Montgomery immediately."

FAA Reaffirms Its Stand Supporting Winnebago Port

But Agency Will Reconsider if Counties Agree on Joint Venture

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The Federal Aviation Agency today reaffirmed its position of support for the Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh to serve Appleton-Neenah-Menasha as a regional field but said it would "re-examine its position" should Outagamie and Winnebago Counties agree to construct a new, joint air facility.

The FAA opinion was sent to the Bureau of Economic Regulation which, several days ago, reversed itself on the same issue and recommended establishment of a new regional airport serving Appleton and Oshkosh to be located between the two communities.

In cases where the FAA and the Civil Aeronautics Board disagree on the site of a new airport the FAA usually accepts the recommendation of the CAB as to location, according to an FAA spokesman. The FAA then decides what kind of facility will be built and how much money will be spent on it.

CAB Examiner Edward T. Stodola, in charge of the air service case, has strongly recommended the two counties pursue a course of negotiation which could lead to a new, joint airport. But failure to agree on ground rules and scope have brought the situation to an impasse.

Today is the deadline set by Outagamie County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath for conference negotiations. The Winnebago County Aviation Committee met Wednesday night and no mention was made of Ponath's deadline or of a meeting with Outagamie officials.

Winnebago County has insisted that Fond du Lac and Green Lake County officials sit in on any airport discussions plus representatives of state and federal agencies.

Outagamie officials contend such a meeting goes beyond the scope set down by Stodola. They charge such a broad conference would be nothing more than a re-hearing of facts already presented at the 3-week CAB sessions in Wausau. If a joint airport agreement is to be worked out it would have to be done quickly since Outagamie has set Oct. 14 for the opening of bids for runway construction work at its Town of Greenville airport site.

The FAA opinion reaffirming its original stand said "The Oshkosh area can be made fully adequate to serve the communities in the Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha area .... at substantially less cost than constructing a new airport."

The Bureau of Economic Regulation in reversing its original stand favoring the Winnebago port said "our position is being revised in order to reflect our belief that this area should be served through a single airport that, ideally, would be a new regional airport located at some point between Appleton and Oshkosh and in such a manner as to best serve the majority of the area's air passengers located at Neenah-Menasha."

The bureau made it clear "that our revised position is not based upon any belief that the present Oshkosh Airport is unsafe." Safety factors at the Oshkosh port and its ability to handle full air service potential of future years were questioned several times by witnesses at the Wausau hearings.

Bringing Daughter to College was an especially momentous trip for the G. Robert Law family, for they came from Montevideo, Uruguay, to do it. At right is Gwenifer, who enrolled Wednesday as a freshman at Lawrence College, then Mr. Law, who graduated from Lawrence in 1934, and Mrs. Law. They are pictured coming through the doorway arch at Ormsby Hall, traditional freshman residence for women. Law is associated with General Electric in South America, and Gwenifer graduated as salutatorian of the American Community School in Buenos Aires.

Eureka Man Gets 15 Years

Meryle Langeberg Sentenced for Burglary, Arson

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County Judge James Sitter today sentenced Meryle Langeberg, 24, Eureka, to 10 years in the state reformatory at Green Bay for arson and to two concurrent terms of five years each for burglary.

The burglary term will be consecutive to the arson sentence. Langeberg pleaded guilty last week of breaking into the Helmuth Food Store at Eureka and the Eureka Home Store on June 14 and of starting a fire at the Eureka Home Stote.

He underwant 60 days observation at Central State Hospital, where he was found sane and able to stand trial.

Judge Sitter said Langeberg's record showed a number of burglaries and one other case of arson.

Dr. Courtenay, Dr. Knight To Talk at Green Lake Session

More Than 500 Laymen Expected For Protestant Meeting Sunday

Dr. Douglas M. Knight, former Wisconsin Council of Churches president of Lawrence College, and is open to all interested men and the Rev. Dr. Walter R. Courtenay, former Neenah pastor, will be among the featured speakers at the 17th annual Laymen's Conference at the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Friday through Sunday.

Some 500 laymen from Protestant churches in Wisconsin are expected to attend the conference. Several Fox Cities men will preside at the conference sessions.

The conference theme will be "Toward Making Christianity Relevant." It is sponsored by the Division of Men's Work of the William Moseley, a young Presbyterian pastor who went from Kentucky to direct schools and farm projects in northern Brazil, and the Rev. J. Ellsworth Kalas, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Madison.

Meet in Groups

In addition to major addresses, the laymen will meet in discussion groups to consider the conference theme. Plans have been made for special music, recreation and fellowship.

General chairman of the conference is Edward Gruber, Prairie du Sac. Program chairman is Frank C. Shattuck, Neenah.

Shattuck will preside at the session at 8:45 p.m. Friday at which the Rev. Mr. Moseley will speak on "Christianity at Work in Brazil." Miller will speak at 7:30 p.m. Friday on "The Tangle of Modern Ethics."

Dr. Knight will speak at 8:15 a.m. Saturday on "Intellectual Growth and Christian Commitment." At 9:40 a.m. Saturday, the Rev. Mr. Moseley will speak on "Christianity and Revolution in Brazil." Oscar C. Boldt, Appleton, will preside at this session.

Vesper Service

The Rev. Mr. Kalas will speak at the vesper service at 5 p.m. Saturday on "To Become What We Are." Dr. Courtenay will speak on "Making Christianity Relevant in the Total Life of America, Part I" at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Samuel N. Pickard, Neenah, will preside at the session at 8:15 p.m. Saturday at which Dr. Judd will speak. Dr. Judd will speak again at 9 a.m. Sunday. His subjects are to be announced.

Harwood Orbison, Appleton, will preside at the final conference session at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, when Dr. Courtenay will give the second part of his address on "Making Christianity Relevant."

Area men working on conference committees include Shattuck, program chairman, assisted by Carl W. Tonjes, Fond du Lac, and F. H. Orbison, Appleton; E. A. Dettman, arrangements committee; Herbert W. Rowe, Port Edwards, chairman, and Lorren Schroeder, Neenah, member, recreation committee.

Kaukauna Police Checking Theft From School Candy Machine

KAUKAUNA — Kaukauna police are investigating the theft of an undetermined amount of change from the candy machine at Kaukauna High School. The machine was broken into sometime after 7 p.m. Wednesday, according to Walter Schmidt, principal.

An attempted break-in was reported at the Kaukauna Community Hospital sometime Tuesday night. According to Mrs. Bernice Elliott, hospital administrator, a long stick was used to penetrate the screen and release catches on the window to the drug room.

Overflow Crowd of More Than 800 Hears President's Address

"Life can be simplified by counterfeit schemes. It is not easy life, but the significant life which is worth living," said Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, twelfth president of Lawrence College, as he welcomed 380 new students to the campus Wednesday afternoon in the Music-Drama Center.

An audience of 800 overflowed the 500-seat capacity of Stansbury Theater into Harper Hall and the building's lounge, where the speech was heard on the public address system. Dr. Tarr appeared briefly at the end of his speech before those who could not get seats in the main auditorium.

The Lawrence president gave three pieces of advice for students to follow during their college lives: "Be yourself; Be more than yourself; and be true to yourself."

Dr. Tarr said, "This is no time to follow the crowd. Keep alive those characteristics which make you unique. If you can express yourself artistically or athletically, continue to do so and learn to do it better. To neglect your strength to conform to the average talents about you is to cast aside the very advantages which which make you outstanding among your fellowmen."

More Than Self

College, particularly, he noted, is the time to be more than yourself, for education is designed to produce change "through growth, enrichment and strengthening." He urged students to set their sights far beyond the minimum level, and to involve themselves so fully in the process of education that their entire lives will be changed.

"Taxing your mind and souls for new thoughts and revelations is a process far removed from the mechanical drugery of memory work. To do so is to place yourself in the same enterprise which taxed the abundant imaginations of Plato, Galileo and Tolstoy," he said.

If a student aims too low in his college ambitions, he probably will acquire the habit of "easy mediocrity," Dr. Tarr observed. "This is the golden chance to commit yourselves to significant enterprise; the next good chance may never come."

Commenting on being true to oneself, the president said, "Perhaps we think too quickly of temptation. You will be tempted

Rezoning for Arlan Center is Delayed

Question on Shopping Area In Appleton Goes Back to Plan Commission for Third Time

Opponent of rezoning a 10-acre tract on the northeast side where Arlan's, Inc. wants to build a $1 million shopping complex were successful Wednesday night in forcing the Appleton Common Council to refer the matter back to the plan commission for the third time.

At the Sept. 4 meeting of the council, aldermen had voted 14 to 4 to rezone the property from residential to commercial on the basis of two previous recommendations of the plan commission to do so.

Wednesday night, prior to the first reading of the ordinance establishing the rezoning, Ald. Douglas Ogilvie (12th) said he had voted with the majority at the last meeting and moved for reconsideration. His motion was seconded by Ald. George Buckley (14th), who has strongly opposed rezoning of the property which is located in the 15th Ward.

Reverses Position

Ogilvie gave no reason for reversing his position. It is known that some aldermen received numerous telephone calls and a four-page mimeographed "white paper" entitled, "Rezoning Fact Sheet, Fifteenth Ward," urging them to change their minds and oppose the rezoning and proposed development.

The vote to reconsider the original rezoning question resulted in a 9-9 deadlock. Mayor Clarence Mitchell broke the tie, declaring, "In view of all the confusion, I vote 'aye'."

Several weeks ago when the rezoning recommendation was first before the council, Mitchell also broke a tie vote which referred the matter back for further study.

Although the reconsideration motion was debatable, there was no discussion prior to the vote.

Normally, when a reconsideration vote passes, the original matter is then before the council for a vote which would either kill or pass it once and for all.

To Commission

Immediately after the mayor announced the reconsideration vote passed Ald. Buckley moved the rezoning request be referred back to the plan commission. His motion was seconded by Ald. Al C. Fischer (15th).

The motion to refer back had precedence under common council rules, but was decided by a voice vote.

The action was received with jubiliation by an estimated 50 persons, most of them northeast residents, seated in the audience.

- Voting for reconsideration were: Alds. Buckley, Fischer, Edwin Krueger (11th), Donald Mueller (17th) Ogilvie, Clifford Radder (16th), Howard Stumpf (13th), Alvin Tews (5th), Gerald Wagner (18th) and Mayor Mitchell.
- Those against reconsideration: Alds. Derald Ahrens (2nd), R. P.

Appleton Man Chairman of GOP Campaign

William Fisher to Explain Fund Drive At Monday Meeting

William Fisher, 2304 S. Greenview Street, Appleton, has been named 8th District chairman for the Republican Party of Wisconsin Neighbor to Neighbor Campaign. His appointment was made by Mrs. C. W. Chatterson, Eau Claire, statewide Neighbor to Neighbor Committee chairman.

Fisher will present details of the state fund raising plan at the regular meeting of the Outagamie County GOP scheduled for 8:00 p.m. Monday at the Conway Hotel.

Olson to Speak

Lieut. Gov. Jack Olson will be featured speaker at the meeting which will be preceded by a reception at 7 p.m. Mrs. James Veum, 1736 N. Outagamie, president of the County Federation of Republican Women, is in charge of reception arrangements.

The Outagamie County GOP executive committee and other Republican leaders will meet and discuss state issues with Olson at a 5:30 p.m. dinner in the hotel.

Caucus Planned

Plans for the caucus were discussed at a meeting this week of the County Republican Executive Committee. County Chairman John Conway announced almost 750 people attended the Republican Party corn roast held recently. A resolution commending and thanking Appleton City Clerk Elden Broehm for his efforts as picnic chairman was unanimously passed by the committee.

The group heard a report from James P. Sutherland, county chairman for the October 19 "Salute to Byrnes" dinner and from William Fisher, chairman of Appleton's Republican Voluntary Precinct Organization.

Unidentified Body Shipped to Medical School

The body of Dennis S. King, 62, who was found dead last week at 1101 S. Grider St., has been shipped to the Marquette University Medical School, Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said.

John King, Allison Park, Pa., viewed the body this week and said he could not positively identify the body as that of his brother who left home 40 years ago and has not been seen since. His brother had been declared dead 20 years ago for insurance purposes, King said.

A baptismal certificate found on the body of Dennis King lead to the trip here by John King. The sheriff's office wrote to the church in Pennsylvania where the certificate was issued. The church in turn notified John King.

Kemps said bodies without proper burial facilities from this part of the state are sent by law to the Marquette medical school. He said it was the first such body to be donated to the school from Outagamie County.

Grant to College

Lawrence College has received a grant of $1,000 from the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, a part of the company's 1963 aid to education program for privately-supported colleges and universities, according to James F. Oates Jr., president.

Railroad Tells Marina Plans

No Objections at Public Service Commission Hearing

OSHKOSH — Chicago and North Western Railroad officials this morning explained plans for their proposed marina development on railroad property at Lake Winnebago and the Fox River at a public service commission hearing in the Winnebago County courthouse.

No one appeared in opposition to the proposal although the state conservation department made several requests and two private citizens raised questions.

Harry Bierma Jr., head of the railroad's real estate department, said the railroad made "exhaustive" studies of Winnebago County and the Fox River valley and concluded there is both a demand and a need for additional facilities of the type proposed by the railroad.

The North Western proposes a marina-motel - recreational complex on the 21-acre site to be developed jointly by the railroad and other private enterprise.

Bierma said plans would be to dredge the basin area to a depth of about 5 feet, using the dredged material for fill in other areas. About 48,000 yards of fill would be involved, he added. He estimated the cost of dredging, filling and building a breakwater at about $175,000.

Mental Health Workers To Attend Conference

State Meeting Discussions Center on Administration, Policies and Programs

Representatives of the Outagamie County Community Guidance Center board of directors, staff and association will attend a meeting for guidance clinic board chairmen and clinic directors at the Wisconsin Center, Madison, on Sept. 27.

James T. Haight, secretary and general counsel for the Meyer Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee, will be the speaker. He is author of a prize-winning article entitled "A Community Mental Health Services Act for Ohio", and active in mental health work at Milwaukee.

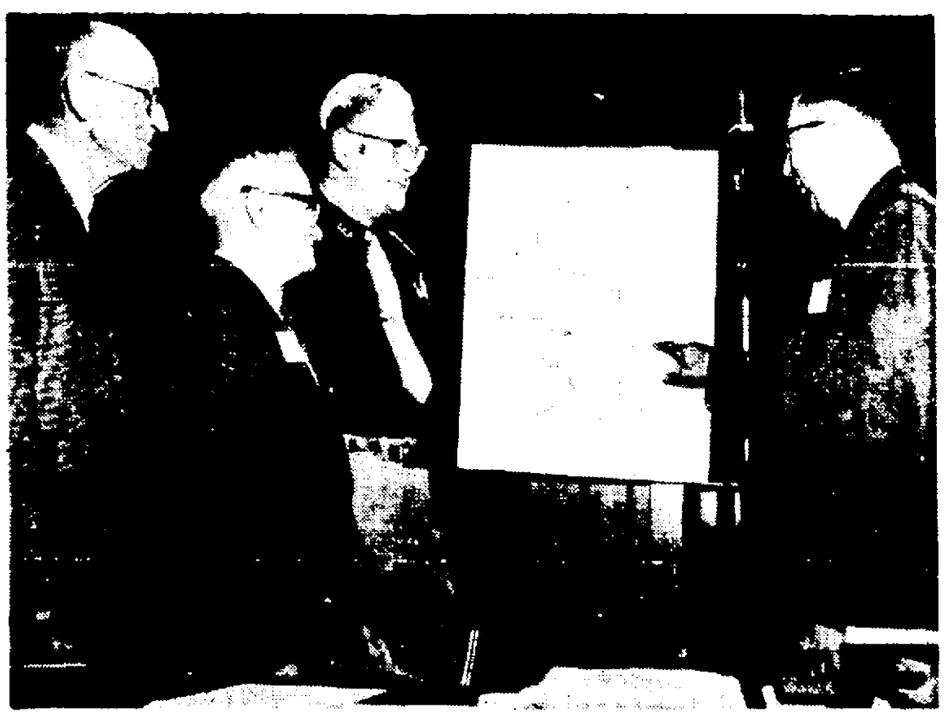

Others Attending

Small discussion group meetings of particular interest to laymen will be held in the afternoon. Topics will include responsibilities of board members, clinic administration and personnel policies, program planning in clinics and coordination of mental health services.

Attending from the board of directors of the Outagamie County Community Guidance Center will be Mrs. Bradley Shepard, Appleton; the Rev. Richard Deems, Seymour; Mrs. Marian Freemore, Seymour, and Mrs. Edward Dahl, Appleton. Miss Elizabeth Vredenburgh, psychiatric social worker at the center, also will attend.

Outagamie County Community Guidance Center Association members who will attend are Mrs. M. J. Schulenburg, Mrs. Rudy Cherkasky, Mrs. Olga Bronstad and Mrs. Charles Lingelbach.

The entire center staff will attend a meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Psychiatric Clinics for Children Nov. 8 and 9 in Madison. Staff members are Dr. Harold G. Cooper, psychiatrist and medical director; Dr. Alan Townsend psychologist and Miss Vredenburgh.

Stanley Arnold, Right, Appleton, county police traffic patrolman and chairman of the 1963 convention of the Wisconsin County Police Deputy Sheriffs and Police Radio Operators Association, checks boundaries of Wisconsin police districts between convention sessions. With him are from left, L. H. Huibregtse, Calumet County board chairman; Charles Steidl, Outagamie County patrolman and a charter member of the association; and Irvin Vice, Calumet County patrolman. The convention is jointly sponsored by Outagamie and Calumet Counties. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Mansion Saddest Dwelling

Dionne Quints Say Dad Had Them Work in Home Their Money Built

NEW YORK (AP)—When Papa Dionne got his millionaire daughters away from the crown and Dr Allan Dafoe, he put them to work cleaning the bathrooms in the mansion he built with their money, the quints say in their autobiography.

"It was the saddest home we ever knew," they added

The life story, as told to James Brough by the four remaining quintuplets — Annette, Yvonne, Marie and Cecile—appears in the current issue of McCall's magazine.

Felt Set Apart

In it they tell how the secret of the fifth quintuplet's epilepsy (Emilie died after an attack in 1954) was carefully guarded because "the family considered her illness a shameful thing" and how the five little girls were made to feel set apart from the rest of the family, and filled with a sense of guilt.

"If love begets love, guilt begets guilt," the 29-year-old quints said "The air of the big house was thick with it. Mom and dad behaved toward each other as though they had been partners in some unspoken crime in bringing us into the world We were drenched with a sense of having sinned from the hour of our birth"

The quints, who spent their first seven years in a special government built and government-supervised nursery on the family farm at Callendar, Ontario, were "wards of his majesty" by an act of the Canadian Parliament and were cared for by a corps of nurses teachers and guards superintended by Dr Dafoe the country doctor who had delivered them

Father Won Fight

They describe these early years as happy and carefree, but recall few pleasant memories of their life after they returned to the family — a victory for their father, Oliva Dionne, after a long legal battle against Dafoe.

"Dad wanted us and the quintuplet funds 'in his own exclusive custody," the sisters said "In the beginning he needed money for the sake of the other children But afterward, his fortunes improved, it made no difference By then, it was a matter of self-esteem that he should win. We were such a prize."

Today, three of the quints are married and mothers and the fourth, Yvonne, is in a convent.

Cecile, the wife of television technician Philippe Langlois, was the first of the quints to have a child She now has three sons and a daughter. Two of the boys are twins.

Annette, whose husband, Germain Allard, is a finance company executive has three sons, and Marie, wife of government clerk Florent Houle, has two daughters

Dionnes Say Daughters' Story Untrue

CALLANDER, Ont (AP) — The father of the Dionne quintuplets said today his famous daughters' story about a hard and unhappy childhood is untrue.

"There are two sides to every story and Mrs Dionne ad I have ours," said Oliva Dionne in an interview in the rambling farm house where the quints once had lived.

He expressed dismay over the publication of a magazine article in which the four surviving sisters said

"It was the saddest home we ever knew" Dionne said "the magazine article is full of untruths"

"I cannot understand why the girls, who will be 30 next May, should after all these years suddenly hold their parents up to public ridicule and dishonor," he said

"I hate to think it was for financial gain, but if it wasn't for that, what was it?"

The Rev. Joseph H. Duncan was installed recently as pastor of Hortonville Baptist Church. He came to the congregation from the East coast.

Tax Bills Top Economic Measure Since WW II

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The $11 billion tax reduction bill is the most important domestic economic measure to come before the U.S Congress in 15 years, says President Kennedy — a claim which at first glance seems highly exaggerated but which, after study, turns out to have surprising validity.

Porter

Of course, in the foreign economic field, there's no disputing that Congress has passed legislation of revolutionary significance since World War II.

Already in a secure place in history are the grandiose laws Congress passed between 1948 and 1963 to spur and finance the rebuilding of war-devastated Europe (the Marshall Plan), to provide foreign aid on an unprecedented scale, to develop the economies of underdeveloped lands, to give the President great powers to slash tariffs By these laws the United States has shaped the free world as we know it today It has helped hold the West together, fought Russia, successfully in a prolonged cold war, laid the foundations for an era of unity as well as competitiveness among freedom-loving peoples.

Not Many New Laws

But in the domestic economic sphere a careful review of legislation passed by Congress since the late 1940s underlines the fact that what we have been primarily doing is extending, broadening, refining laws put on our statute books in the 1930s—a generation ago.

In retrospect, astonishingly few breakthroughs have been made on the bread-and-butter front at home and most of these breakthroughs are still on a tentative, comparatively minor scale To be specific.

There have been major laws expanding and extending Social Security benefits far beyond what was originally dreamed—but the initial Social Security law was passed in 1935 In 1950 1952, 1954, 1956, 1961, Congress passed laws broadening Social Security to the point where it is fundamental in the retirement plans of tens of millions of Americans. But the heart of the matter is that none of this has been "new" in the sense that this tax reduction bill is new.

Minimum Wage

There have been important laws expanding and raising the minimum wage also far beyond what was originally dreamed—but the initial Wage & Hours Act was passed in 1938 In the years since then, the minimum wage has been hiked from 25 cents an hour to 40 cents to 75 cents to $1 to $1.15 and to $1.25, and the law covers many millions of workers now But the heart of the matter again is that none of this has been new in the sense that this tax reduction bill is new.

In the postwar period, Congress has passed housing, farm and unemployment legislation which has had a crucial impact on our economy. (You need not agree with the aim or form of the legislation to recognize its impact.) Yet, once more, the heart of the matter is that the basic agricultural, housing and unemployment legislation goes back as far as 1916 and the 1930s Our farm price support laws have deeply affected the economy of the U.S. The efforts of Congress to stimulate public and private housing via government loans, mortgage insurance, minimum down payments, etc., have been vital in our postwar prosperity. Our unemployment insurance system has been a key anti-recession cushion But the origins, I repeat, were long ago

Safeguard Dollar

Yes, there have been some breakthroughs—laws authorizing the spending of billions on highway construction, aid to school construction, redevelopment of depressed areas, training-retraining of the jobless And there was a large-scale tax revision law in 1954

But there is no equal to a tax reduction bill of this magnitude specifically designed to speed and sustain the nation's growth. Not ever has a President argued so strongly for tax reduction in the face of huge and persistent budget deficits. Not ever has across-the-board tax cutting been proposed as both a prop to prosperity and a weapon against recession.

Not ever have the White House and our Central Bank been so much in agreement on the urgent need for coordination of tax reduction and money-credit policies to accelerate the domestic economy and simultaneously safeguard the dollar's value.

This tax reduction measure does stand at the top of postwar domestic economic legislation. Kennedy's claim can be documented

(Distributed 1963)

Girls Didn't Die in Vain, King Asserts

Negro Leader Says Blood of Bomb Victims May Serve as Redemptive Force for City

BY HOYT HARWELL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "They did not die in vain," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before grieving thousands buried three Negro girls killed in a bomb blast during Sunday school.

"God still has a way of bringing good out of evil," he assured the parents Wednesday. "The innocent blood of these little girls may well serve as a redemptive force for this city."

Denise McNair, 11, Addie Mae Collins and Cynthia Wesley, both 14, were buried a day following the funeral of the fourth victim of Sunday's unsolved bombing, Carole Robertson, 14.

Still to be buried, next Sunday, are two young Negro victims of violence that broke out a few hours after the bombing of the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church.

Meanwhile, seven Southern integration leaders went to Washington to report today to President Kennedy on the racial crisis in Birmingham, where Negroes have generally followed their advice against retaliation for the dynamite blast.

The seven included King, who said at Wednesday's funeral:

"This tragic event may cause the white side to come to terms with its conscience. In spite of the darkness of this hour we must not despair, we must not become bitter.

Can't Lose Faith

"We must not lose faith in our white brothers. Life is hard, at times as hard as crucible steel. But today you do not walk alone."

The children, King said quietly, were "the modern heroines of a noble crusade for human dignity and freedom."

Police estimated that 4,000, including numerous white persons, went to the funeral although only about half that number could get inside the Sixth Avenue Baptist Church, across town from the church where the girls met their deaths while studying a lesson on "the love that forgives."

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said:

"We came to this place to restate our determination to press on undeterred in the crusade that is not ours alone—a crusade for the righteousness and redemption of the soul of a nation."

White Clergyman

One white clergyman participated in the service. The Rev. Joseph Ellwanger, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, spoke of the Christian hope of resurrection.

The dead children's pastor, the Rev. John H. Cross, quoted the words of Christ in delivering the eulogy:

"Let not your hearts be troubled. Ye believe in God, believe also in Me."

After one funeral procession had left the church, a group of Negro youths formed back of another procession, waved small American flags and began to sing "freedom songs." They talked of marching to Mayor Albert Boutwell's office, then to a cemetery.

A Negro appeared with a bullhorn and said:

"It has been requested by Dr. Martin Luther King that you do not sing and do not holler and do not demonstrate. Please do not demonstrate. This is a funeral occasion. This is no time for a demonstration. Please keep it as solemn as you possibly can."

The group began to disperse. When some reformed and began to march toward the downtown section, police stopped the march without trouble.

Thompson Deaf To Request by Gov. Reynolds

Governor Seeking Court Action to Seat Lucey on Board

MADISON (AP) — Atty. Gen. George Thompson refused Wednesday a request by Gov. John W. Reynolds that the attorney general start court action to seat Patrick J. Lucey on the State Investment Board.

Thompson's action was expected, and the Democratic governor immediately announced he has hired Milwaukee attorneys' Max Raskin and Philip Padden as special counsel for a court suit to make Lucey a trustee on the board.

"It will likely be in the nature of a petition to the Wisconsin Supreme Court to take original jurisdiction," said Reynolds' legal counsel Leonard Zubrensky.

He said the court would probably be requested to restrain the board from refusing to seat Lucey.

Jamison Quit

Lucey, a former Democratic state chairman, was appointed to the board by Reynolds to succeed C. Hayden Jamison who had resigned to become full-time director of the board.

The board, acting on an informal opinion from the attorney general's office, refused to seat Lucey until his appointment has been confirmed by the Republican-controlled State Senate.

Thompson held in the opinion that Lucey would not be qualified to sit on the board until confirmed by the Senate.

Reynolds called the opinion ridiculous and last week directed Thompson to start a court suit to force the board to accept Lucey.

20,000 May be At Ashland to Greet Kennedy

President Will Go On Tour of Islands, Make Airport Speech

ASHLAND (AP) — Officials planning for President Kennedy's brief visit to northern Wisconsin next Tuesday expect about 20,000 persons to jam the city of Ashland.

Planning is in the hands of a five - county development group that includes representatives of Ashland, Bayfield, Douglas, Iron and Price counties.

The President will arrive at the Ashland-Bayfield county airport, where he is expected to make a prepared 10-minute speech, probably on a conservation subject.

Martin Hanson of Mellen, general chairman of the committee, said that after the airport speech the President will make a helicopter tour of the Apostle Islands in Lake Superior. Hanson is the brother of J. Louis Hanson, the Wisconsin Democratic party chairman.

Duluth Trip

The presidential party will arrive in Duluth, Minn., by plane Tuesday afternoon, and they will board helicopters for the Wisconsin stop and a tour of the 22 islands. Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., says he will offer legislation to make the islands a national park.

On the helicopter with the President will be Nelson, Gov. Gaase, head of the Wisconsin Highway Commission; J. Louis Hanson, and Patrick Lucey, former state Democratic chairman.

Martin Hanson said that about eight helicopters will be used in the tour, which he described as non-political.

400 on Committee

About 400 officials of the five counties are members of the host committee, Hanson said, and they will be seated for the airport program.

Most of the schools in Ashland, Bayfield and Iron counties will be closed early so children may see the President. Bands from the Ashland public high school and Ashland DePadua, a Roman Catholic high school, will play at the airport.

Sen. Nelson is scheduled to make a brief address. The President will be introduced by Gov. Reynolds.

The program is expected to begin about 5 p.m. The President will return to Duluth, where he will address the Northern Lake States Regional Land and People Conference at 8:30 p.m.

New Dairy Plan Is Outlined

Fond du Lac Man Hopes Setup Will Aid Farm Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Wisconsin man outlined before the House Agricultural Committee's dairy subcommittee Wednesday a plan he said would bring the dairy farmers' income "out of the slump."

William C. Eckles, general manager of the Pure Milk Products Co-operative at Fond du Lac, Wis., offered his three-point proposal as the committee heard divergent views on the needs of the dairy industry.

Gilbert C. Rhode of Chippewa Falls, president of the Wisconsin Farmers Union, told the hearing a serious situation is developing in the dairy industry.

Eckles proposed:

Government purchase, at 75 per cent of parity, of cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk solids as it does now. Parity is a measurement of farm cost against income.

Producers of manufacturing milk—after agreeing in advance to reducing marketings by 7 per cent to 10 per cent—be compensated at $1.04 a hundred pounds for milk sold.

Direct Payment

Dairy producers agreeing in advance to reduce marketings by 10 per cent to 20 per cent of their base to get a direct payment on milk actually sold of 110 per cent of the parity on manufacturing milk.

Eckles said the program would reward those "who wanted to correct a worsening and oversupply problem."

Rhode told the hearing that "not since the Chicago milk strike and the Farm Holiday Association have we witnessed such open defiance of the dairy marketing system."

He said the Farmers Union favors bills introduced by Rep. Lester Johnson, D-Wis., and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn.

Russians Urge Red Chinese to Respect Borders

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today cautioned Red China that good neighborly relations depend on respect for borders. It made clear Moscow will not side with Peking in any Chinese conflict with India.

The apparent reference to reported tensions on the Soviet-Chinese border appeared in an editorial in the Communist party organ Pravda, assailing the Chinese attitude in its border dispute with India. The editorial reproached Peking for refusing to negotiate a settlement with India.

In what appeared to be a veiled allusion to Moscow's concern over Chinese claims to Soviet territory, Pravda said:

"As for the Soviet Union, it treats with respect those countries on its borders. It understands that good neighborly relations are possible only with respect for the frontiers established between states.

U.S. to Study Easing of Red Trade Embargoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

TRADE WITH REDS: Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges has indicated the administration will undertake a study on whether to ease the U.S. embargo on exports to Communist-bloc countries.

A committee of industrialists taking part in a White House conference on export expansion recommended a review of the policy, and Hodges told reporters Wednesday at the end of the two-day meeting:

"I should think we would take very seriously what has been suggested here."

AIR ROUTE: The plan for a New York to Moscow airline route—which has been on ice for two years—is expected to be brought up again next week in talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The air link, trade, space cooperation and disarmament are among the subjects expected to be discussed at the New York meetings, informants said.

The purpose of the talks will be to explore whether any further East-West agreements may be reached in the wake of the limited nuclear test-ban agreement.

HEALTH CARE: Prsident Kennedy's plan for health care for the aged will not reach the House for debate this year.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., confirmed Wednesday that the Ways and Means Committee, which will handle the legislation, is unlikely to take further action on the measure before 1964.

He assured the Rules Committee that he would not seek House debate on the proposal this year.

ANTI - SEMITISM: Nineteen members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee have called on the Soviet Union 'to alleviate the reported conditions adversely affecting" Russia's Jewish community.

The letter was sent to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin Wednesday, the eve of Rosh Hashonah, the Jewish New Year.

British Prince Will Attend Stanford U.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Prince William of Gloucester arrived Wednesday from London to enroll as a graduate student at Stanford University.

Prince William is Queen Elizabeth IIs first cousin and seventh in line of succession to the British Throne.

He will be the first member of the royal family so close to the throne to study at an American university.

A graduate of Eton and Magdalene College, Oxford, Prince William hopes to enter British civil service and go into the Commonwealth relations office.

Defense Spending May Face Serious Cutbacks By Congress in '64

McNamara Believed Applying Brakes Now to Some Projects

BY FRED S. HOFFMANN

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We've had a couple of good years. Now it looks like we may have a couple of tougher ones."

This was the way one senior Pentagon official sized up today the prospects facing the Defense Department in the light of what appears to be a toughening mood in Congress.

The realization is expected to act as one more factor in holding down next year's defense budget requests, although even before the congressional pattern became clearer Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was putting on the brakes himself.

The feeling that Congress no longer will be relatively open-handed in defense appropriations—as it has been for the past three years—was underscored by actions of the Senate Appropriations Committee two days ago.

The committee restored only about half of the $577 million the Pentagon had asked be put back after the House had slashed the current fiscal year's defense money bill.

Sharp Knife

The bill sent to the Senate totals $47,371,407,000, more than $1.6 billion below what President Kennedy asked in January.

Thus, for the first time since the Kennedy administration took office in January 1961, Congress is wielding a sharp scalpel on its defense-spending proposals.

Last year Congress gave the administration $48,350,000,000 for defense, somewhat more than it had asked.

In 1961, Kennedy's recommendations for big increases over the Eisenhower administration's military spending went through without difficulty.

Congress voted large increases in 1961 in response to arguments that the nation's missile striking forces and conventional fighting power were badly in need of beefing up.

Berlin Crisis

Another factor was the Berlin crisis of two years ago when the Soviet Union was threatening military action to drive the United States and other Western nations out of Berlin.

The intercontinental ballistic missile buildup is well on its way, and Congress has appropriated all the money needed to build the Polaris submarine fleet to its goal of 41 boats.

Also, the armed forces now have about 200,000 more men than when the Kennedy administration took office. They now total about 2.7 million men.

And for three years the Army has been getting hefty infusions of money to modernize with the latest in tanks, artillery, helicopters and other equipment.

Even with the cuts made by Congress, the Army still stands to get nearly $3 billion.

The Army probably has seen the peak of its modernization splurge, although its leaders feel they need a few more years at the present rate.

The services are due to turn in their budget proposals around Oct. 1.

Knowledgeable sources said they expect the services to come up with realistic proposals that may need a minimum of cutting.

Expects Approval For Nuclear Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has expressed confidence that the Senate will ratify the limited nuclear test ban treaty "by a margin large enough to show the world that the American people want a just peace."

Referring briefly to the treaty in his national radio and television address on tax legislation Wednesday night, Kennedy said the pact "is the first concrete limitation on the nuclear arms race since the bomb was first invented."

As the situation stands now in the Senate, Republican and Democratic leaders believe Kennedy will get his large margin.

Neenah Seeks New Post Office Unit

Petition Will be Sent Asking Immediate Action on Project

NEENAH — The United States Post Office Department will receive a petition from the City of Neenah asking immediate steps to provide an adequate post office building and facilities for the city as the result of a proposal Wednesday passed by the Common Council authorizing the mayor and city clerk to take such action.

Copies of the petition will also be sent to Postmaster General Gronouski, Sen Gaylord Nelson, Sen. William Proxmire and Rep. William K. Van Pelt

The proposal was actually passed in the place of an initial measure designed to petition for a new Neenah post office

Ald. Florian Jabas objected to the first proposal on the grounds that all possible modes of acquiring adequate facilities — such as adding to the present structure — may not have been examined.

"I can not vote until I've seen that they (the Post Office Committee, not of the council) have studied all the considerations such as enlarging the present facilities, removing the cab station, widening Franklin Street and making use of the parking facilities," he said.

Jabas added "If they haven't made a study and just want a new post office, I feel this is a little bit of pork-barreling and I can't vote for the proposal."

Mayor Loehning defended the proposal on the grounds that the city has been pushing for a new post office, the need is apparent and that Neenah through federal tax is helping to construct new post offices across the nation regardless of the need. "Maybe we can get one for our community," he said

Jabas replied that there was no need for a new post office if the present facilities can be made adequate, and that maybe other communities throughout the nation would follow Neenah's example in making use of the present facilities.

R V. Hauser then read the second proposal which was a watered down version of the initial measure and agreeable to all of the council members.

In other council action, the bid of Fred Holtz of $14,397.07 for curb and gutter construction was approved. The low bid of Central Contracting Corporation of $15,097 50 for sanitation sewer and water main construction, was likewise approved. Other bids ranged from $18,090 to $23,947.50

The council also authorized the mayor and city clerk to enter into an agreement with Karl Baldwin permitting him to construct underground electrical wiring and individual light construction.

The agreement stipulates that the subdivider require a minimum of 7½ feet mounting height, not more than 10 feet from the sidewalk property line with not less than a 75 watt bulb and 10 foot arcs at intersections.

The city also reserves the right to make necessary repairs in the lighting system and make a claim of the repair costs against the contractors.

Child Burned, Family Home Lost in Fire

Truck Blaze Halts Migrant Workers On Texas Trip

NEENAH — Helping hands from Neenah, Menasha and Appleton are being extended today to help a three year old American Mexican girl badly burned in a truck fire at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and the seven members of her family made virtually possessionless by the blaze.

Olga Salas, 3, daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Salas, migrant workers from Lubbock, Texas, is in serious condition in Theda Clark Hospital with second and third degree burns about her face, and arms and hands

She and her family were traveling in the back of the family pick up truck on U.S. 41 between Highways 114 and 150 on the way home to Texas when the canvas top of the vehicle caught fire and set the rest of the truck, clothing and personal possessions afire.

Truck Burns

Salas who was driving the truck and the only person in the cab of the vehicle, noticed the fire apparently after it had been burning quite a while, and stopped the truck.

Neenah police found the family running along U.S. 41 away from the blaze, noticed that Olga was badly burned and called for the Neenah fire department ambulance. The Town of Menasha fire department also arrived on the scene to put out the fire.

Neither the mother nor father, nor any of their other five children ranging in age from four months to 8 years were injured.

Salas spent the night in the hospital with his daughter, while the rest of the family stayed at the Neenah Red Cross center where they were fed and given places to sleep by Mrs. Earl Pantton, secretary of the Neenah Red Cross.

The Mexican consul for Neenah, Miguel Wimer Jr. was notified of the mishap and began making preparations for clothing housing and feeding the Salas's

Holds Prayer Book

About the only thing salvagable was a small prayer book which George Salas, 8, had clutched tightly in his hand when rescuers arrived

Wimer took the children to the Appleton Apostolate for clothing, this morning, but according to Mrs Pantton there is need for much more to adequately handle the Salas's needs.

As yet there is no definite place for them to stay, although the Wimer's and the Red Cross Center will attempt to give them temporary housing.

The other Salas children are Rosie, Susie, Margie, and Eva.

Cause of the fire had not been officially determined although it is believed to have been begun by a lit cigarette in the canvas top of the truck

Anyone wishing to give food, clothing or other assistance may contact Mrs Pantton at the Red Cross Center, 111 E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah.

According to the Town of Menasha fire department only the back compartment of the truck was damaged by the fire. The front cab and motor are in operating condition.

Appleton Firemen Extinguished a fire along a wooden wall at the Tuttle Press, 802 N. Lawe St., Wednesday. The minor fire was caused by heat from a nearby incinerator, firemen said. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Eggerts Clouts 687 Series in Classic Wheel

Jolts 256 Game; Burdick Collects 660; Feavel 656

NEENAH — Bob Eggert of the Payne's Point Bar team thundered a 687 series, the highest count in the Twin Cities this season, in the Fox Valley Classic League at Lakeroad Lanes Wednesday night. The trio included a 256 game.

In general, the bowlers were in good form with several other big counts shot. Lee Burdick whacked a 660, including a 255 singleton, and Jack Feavel notched a 656, highlighted by a 234.

Ed Meyer jolted 222-615, Jim Haack 234-614, John Oberweiser 232-611, Ormie Stach 227-610, Ed Muth 604, George Miller and Willie Karnopp 602 and Jim Kluba 600.

Paul Harvath and Mike Stepanski recorded 586, Sam Handy and Roy Ginnow 580, Marv Pues and Bill Berndt 577, Hub Heilsberg 576, Rodger Loret 573, Elmer Schultz 567 and Bob Sengstock 564.

Lakeroad fired a scratch 1,000 game and Lang's Pharmacy jolted a 2,902 series for team bests.

Lang's leads with 11 points. Lakeroad has 10, Verbrick's nine, Yankee Paper eight and Fox Point Shopping Center, Menasha Sheet Metal and Hoffer Glass seven.

Apartment Zoning Bid Is Withdrawn

Industrialist Wants Further Thought on Part of Citizens

An Appleton industrialist who had planned to provide Appleton with its first luxury apartments withdrew his rezoning request Wednesday night. At the same time he defended his proposed $400,000 development.

The hearing before the common council was adjourned shortly after an attorney representing Corwin Van Housen, president of Scolding Locks Co. of Appleton, said he was withdrawing a request to have property at 711 E. South River St. rezoned from single family to multiple family.

Since the luxury apartment project was announced some time ago, and the rezoning request received approval of the city plan commission, there has been considerable citizen opposition to the project. Petitions, signed by more than 300 residents in various parts of the city, were filed with the council opposing the development.

Attorney Speaks

A brief statement was made by Atty. Franklin Nehs on Van Housen's behalf and the hearing was adjourned with no further discussion.

He contended the rezoning would be good for Appleton.

". . . It would be in the best interests of the City of Appleton, the residents of the area and will best utilize the property," Nehs said.

At the same time, Nehs expressed Van Housen's concern that residents and property owners in the area were fearful of consequences of the improvements he proposed to make.

"Mr. Van Housen does not desire to force his program on unwilling residents to the end that strife among the persons involved may be detrimental to the maximum use of the particular property and the future growth and good planning of the city," Nehs said.

Withdraws Bid

"Consequently, Mr. Van Housen desires that the application for rezoning be withdrawn from the consideration of the common council with the view that more time and study be given by all factions toward the improvement of the property," Nehs said.

"If this be done free from fears and distrust, and with full and complete understanding of the interests of all, everyone concerned, as well as the community at large, cannot but benefit," he concluded.

Nehs said Van Housen appreciated the consideration given to his proposal by the plan commission and council.

Nurses Going To Convention

6 From Fox Cities Will Attend Annual Milwaukee Meeting

Six Fox Cities nurses will be delegates to the annual convention of the Wisconsin Nurses Association Oct. 2 through 4 in Milwaukee.

The convention theme is "Target: Progress Through Learning." The convention is open to all registered professional nurses.

Official delegates from the Fox Cities will be Mrs. Leona Stapel and Mrs. Fern Schultz, both of Appleton; Mrs Margaret Klau, Kaukauna; Mrs Jeanne S. Reubold, Menasha; Mrs Jane Jonscher and Miss Lenora Smith, both of Neenah.

Speakers will include Judith Peterson, student at Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, Madison, and president of the National Student Nurses Association; Warren Guthrie, chairman of the department of Speech, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio; and Helen C. Hanson, associate professor at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.

Ianthe C. Harrison, New York, assistant executive director of the American Nurses Association, will represent and discuss the ANA's proposed Goal III, which if adopted would provide that within 20 to 30 years the baccalaureate program would become the basic educational foundation for professional nursing.

Mrs. Marthasue Houston, University Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, will discuss continuing nursing care for patients after they leave hospitals.

Appleton Has Director of Finance Today

Appleton has its first finance director today.

The appointment of Donald E. Hassler of 638 Main St., Neenah, was confirmed Wednesday night by unanimous action of the common council.

At the same time, the council concurred in Mayor Clarence Mitchell's appointment of Joseph Schoenhaar, 2306 N. Meade St., as acting city electrical inspector.

The council created the office of finance director several months ago. Hassler, the top-rated candidate on the basis of State Bureau of Personnel examinations, will receive a starting salary of $9,100 a year

Hassler will assume his new duties with the city Oct. 1. In the meantime, a portion of the city hall is being renovated so he will be able to establish an office where the welfare department is now located.

The new finance director will assist with preparation of the 1964 budget He was introduced to the members of the council

Schoenhaar, a veteran electrical department employee, was the assistant inspector prior to his latest appointment.

Kaukauna May Alter Pay for Conventions

City Officials Want Increase in Per Diem Payment

KAUKAUNA—The finance committee has voted to recommend to the common council changing the per diem pay for part time city officials attending meetings or conventions as city business.

The change would raise the pay from $25 to $35 per day and would apply only when the official is required to stay overnight. The amount includes cost of lodging, food and transportation. Full time employees of the city would continue to receive the $25 allowance.

The increase was granted after officials indicated the $25 failed to adequate cover overnight lodging plus food and other expenses and still compensate them partially for losing a day's employment pay.

An offer to sell business property at Wisconsin Avenue and Lawe Street was refused when the finance committee indicated the city had no use for the property at the present time.

Salary Changes

Pay increase retroactive to Aug. 1 as approved for an employee of the park department who had completed six months of satisfactory work.

The committee went along with the recommendation of the board of public works to establish the combined position of construction foreman and assistant street department foreman at a salary of $500 per month retroactive to Aug. 1. The post is held by Quentin Driessen who has been serving in this capacity, but never officially.

The annual salary set is slightly higher than wages paid previously to the same man.

Court Upholds 6-Month Term Of Menasha Man

OSHKOSH — Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane this week upheld a six-months county jail term imposed Aug. 23 by Winnebago County Judge James Sarres on James L. Veach, 25, 409 First St., Menasha, for operating a car after his driver's license had been revoked. The sentence is to run concurrently with a three-months sentence for battery on his wife imposed Tuesday by Judge Sitter.

Veach pleaded guilty of driving after revocation of his license when arraigned before Judge Sarres Aug. 23. Judge Sarres then sentenced him to six months in the county jail, and Veach appealed this sentence to circuit court.

He again pleaded guilty of the charge when arraigned before Circuit Judge Cane Tuesday. Judge Cane also imposed a six-months sentence.

Veach had been arrested by Menasha police Aug. 17.

Kimberly Water Break Damages Parking Area

KIMBERLY—A break in a 10-inch water main leading to the Kimberly-Clark Corp. caused water department crews considerable problems for a brief period Wednesday.

Charts in the pumping station indicated the break occurred about 5 a.m., but source of the break was not located until about 6:30 a.m. when water was noticed bubbling through a blacktop parking lot area adjacent to the mill.

At about 10:30 a.m. the mill line was switched to an auxiliary station from a second well and the plant utilized its own water supply while crews repaired the break. Normal service was resumed shortly after noon. No interruption of production was noted at the mill.

here, but you will resist it best if you disregard popular appeals in favor of your own desire to be yourself. Remember how James wrote triumphantly in the New Testament: 'Count it all joy when you fall into diverse temptations.'"

More than temptation, however, should be the concern for the fundamental honesty upon which a life of thought or affairs must be based, he went on, pointing out that individual integrity involved genuineness, truthfulness and uprightness.

Dr. Tarr referred to Sir Francis Bacon's essay on truth, in which an alloy of truth and falsehood is compared to an alloy of gold and silver—"the metal works more easily, but it is debased nonetheless."

"We can never understand the concept of morality unless we see how deeply into life it can penetrate," Dr. Tarr concluded. "It concerns a scholar as much as it does a minister, and a businessman as much as it does a judge."

Lawrence's twelfth president will address the entire academic community next Tuesday at 10:40 a.m. when the matriculation day exercises take place in Memorial Chapel. Other public appearances he will make during his first month in office include speeches for the Chamber of Commerce Sept. 30, the opening of the All Saints Episcopal Lecture series Oct. 3, and his formal installation Oct. 17.

Menasha Man Dies 6 Weeks Short of 100th Anniversary

MENASHA — John Ziolkowski, 850 First St., died at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, just six weeks short of his 100th birthday. He was born Oct. 29, 1863 in Poland and came to United States 80 years ago. He worked at the Menasha Wooden Ware, now the Menasha Corp., for 45 years before retirement.

Double funeral services will be held for the nonagenarian and a son-in-law, Harold C. Moore, Racine at 9 a.m. Saturday at St. John's Catholic Church. The son-in-law died Tuesday at Racine the day before his 63rd birthday. He is survived by the widow, the former Emily Ziolkowski of Menasha.

Mr. Ziolkowski is survived by two daughters, five sons, one sister, 11 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Friday and the rosary will be said there at 8 p.m.

Survivors of Two Outagamie Workers Receive Compensation

Survivors of two Outagamie County employees who were killed during performance of their jobs last year, received total compensation of $40,420, the county's insurance and property committee learned today.

Killed were Elwin Welch, a county patrolman, and Wilbur Wendenwerder, a county highway worker. Welch's patrol car was involved in a collision with a car while he was on police patrol. Wendenwerder was struck by a car as he worked on a county highway project.

Welch's widow received $20,060 and Wendenwerder was awarded $20,362. The payments are made on a periodic basis over several years.

The county insurance premium for 1962 was increased by $27,000 to cover the death compensation payments. The normal premium payment amounts to $25,000 per year.

Amherst Boy Found After Long Search

STEVENS POINT — A wet, badly bruised rural Amherst boy was found about 7:35 a.m. today after an all night search.

Donald Kealiher Jr., 8, route 1, was rushed to St. Michael Hospital after he flagged down a school bus in the search area.

Sheriff Emil Meshak, Portage County, who directed the search said the boy was in a state of shock and apparently suffering from concussion in addition to bruises on his face, arms and body.

The bus driver, who participated in the search last night, brought the boy to the county ambulance stationed in the search area.

Kealiher was last seen about 4:35 p.m. Wednesday when he told his parents he was going to visit his grandfather, Raymond Kealiher. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kealiher Sr., notified the sheriff's department the boy was missing about 7:30 p.m. when he failed to return for supper.

The boy, according to Meshak, had bicycled about four miles from his home and was about two miles from his grandfather's home when he accidently drove into a ditch. He told the sheriff he went into a hay field to spend the night because of injuries.

About 25 persons took part in the search, including the sheriff's department, Portage County police, Stevens Point city police, neighbors and relatives. A golden retriever trained for trailing owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Strasser, Wausau, was leading to the boy when rain washed away the scent.

About 75 Stevens Point State College students joined in the search about 5:30 a.m. today. Sheriff Meshak said he plans to question the boy when he recovers sufficiently at the hospital.

Delay Zoning For Arlan's

Groh (8th), Harold Hannemann (10th), Kenneth Loss (3rd), Arthur Mueller (19th), Mrs. Dorothy Stillings (7th), Robert Stumpf (9th), All Stoegbauer (4th) and Fred Ziemann (6th).

● The four aldermen who voted against the rezoning Sept. 4 were: Donald Mueller, Howard Stumpf, Wagner and Radder. Fischer and Buckley had already left when that roll call was taken.

● Aldermen originally voting for the rezoning, but casting ballots in favor of reconsideration Wednesday night included: Krueger, Ogilvie and Tews.

Two Absent

● Alds. Ervin Bogan (20th) and Richard Huisman (1st) voted for the rezoning at the last meeting of the council, but were excused from attending last night's session. Bogan is confined at St. Elizabeth Hospital and there was a death in Huisman's family.

The action of the council now dumps the rezoning issue back into the lap of the planning commission, which first had the matter before it on April 1. Since arriving at its first recommendation, the commission—backed up by a land use map and the recommendation of the regional plan commission—has steadfastly maintained its position that the property near the corner of Northland Avenue and Ballard Road should be used for commercial purposes.

Delays Development

In having the rezoning question sent back again, opponents managed to wedge a delay, along with propping the proposed million dollar development into a state of uncertainty.

Had a motion to recind previous council action been made, it would have required a two-thirds vote for passage. The reconsideration vote needed a simple majority.

Officials of Arlan's, Inc., who were to have met a week ago to finalize construction plans for the Appleton project, could not be reached for comment.

Institute Begins 34th Year Monday

3 Fox Cities Men, 2 Foreign Students in Freshman Class

The Institute of Paper Chemistry will start its 1963-64 school year Monday, Sept. 23, with registration for returning students. Orientation for students in this year's entering class will be completed this week and the faculty will start classes Tuesday.

Twenty new students constitute the 34th class of the institute. One is a special student. They are graduates of sixteen colleges and universities in the United States and two foreign countries.

Students from Appleton are David E. McIntyre and Paul C. Wollwage. John F. Perry, Neenah, is a student also.

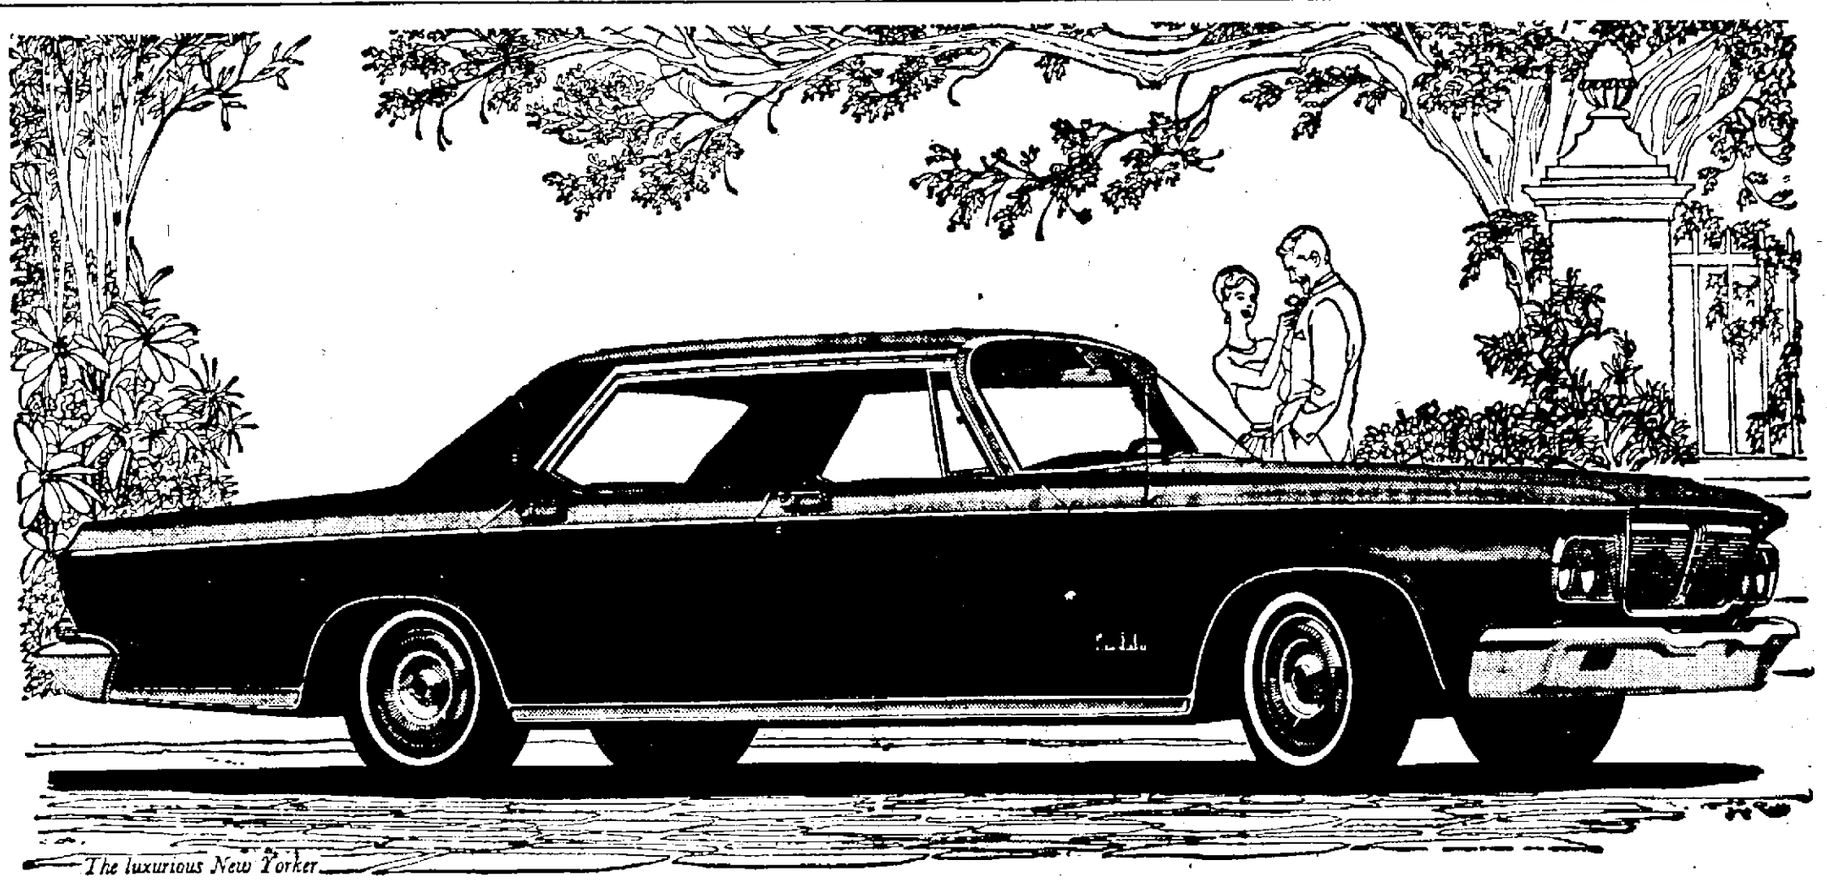

Other Degrees

Six of the new students have bachelor's degrees in chemistry, six have bachelor's degrees in chemical engineering, five have bachelod's degrees in pulp and paper technology, one has a bachelor's degree in wood utilization and a master of science degree, and one has a bachelor's degree in both civil and geological engineering.

The special student is Tapani K. Kaila from Tampere, Finland. His advanced study at the institute is being sponsored by the Finnish Paper Engineers' Association. Enrolled as a regular student is another foreign national, Hanuman P. Didwania, Bhagalpur, India.

Of the total student body, twenty-nine have been admitted to doctoral candidacy and are completing work for their doctoral theses.

Scholarships awarded by the institute to its students are expected to equal last year's total of over $210,000. The institute awards full time scholarships to each of its regular students who is a citizen of the United States. Much of the sum awarded annually is the result of scholarship gifts from industry, foundations, and individuals.

The luxurious New Yorker

MOVE UP TO CHRYSLER '64

Engineered better...backed better than any car in its class

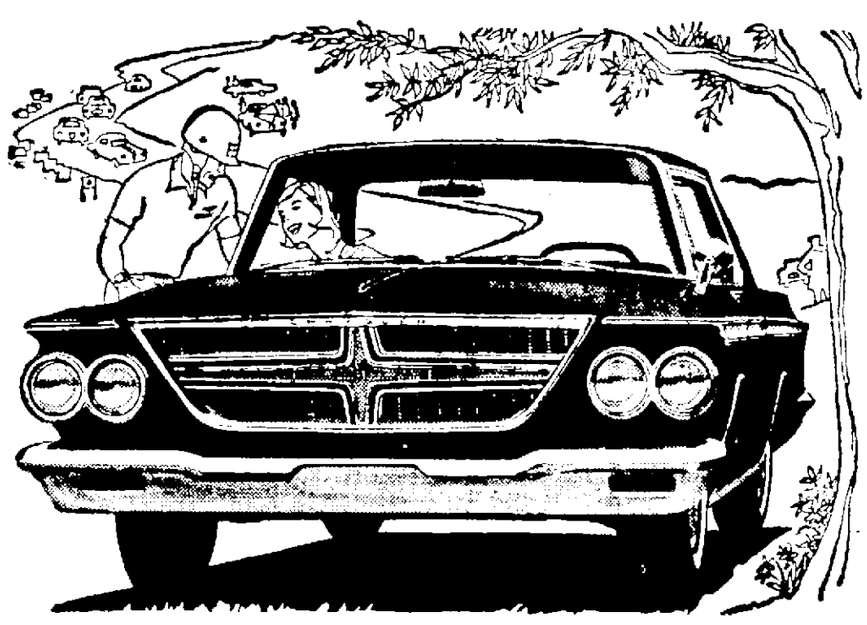

The '64 Chryslers are here: the luxurious New Yorker; sports-bred 300; and the surprisingly easy-to-own Newport.

Clean. Crisp. Handsome. Engineered by men who have accounted for more "firsts" than any automobile maker. The vital moving parts are warranted for 5 years or 50,000 miles. (Details below.)

The '64 Chryslers are full of news: there's an optional seven-position steering wheel. Bucket seats are standard on 300 models. The one on the passenger's side reclines.

See them today. Move up to Chrysler '64.

Solid protection for a solid investment . . . 5-year—50,000-mile warranty. Chrysler Corporation warrants, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship and will replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business, the engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings of its 1964 automobiles, provided the owner has the engine oil changed every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, the oil filter replaced every second oil change and the carburetor air filter cleaned every 6 months and replaced every 2 years, and every 6 months furnishes to such a dealer evidence of performance of the required service, and requests the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the car's then current mileage.

The 1964 Chrysler 300. Not for the faint-hearted. Its standard V-8 is 383 cubic inches. For a little extra you can go right up to 413. Bucket seats. Torsion-bar suspension. One-piece welded body.

The 1964 Chrysler Newport. Surprisingly easy to own. Standard equipment includes: sill-to-sill carpeting; padded dash; foam rubber front seat cushions; trip odometer; jacquard and vinyl trim.

DEAR CY:

My father was a collector of mottoes His favorite was "Men who get what they want in this world, both those who seem to hasten and those who seem to lounge, are always at the right spot at the right time" I am 26 and want to go with a company on the right spot now Name the best

MR. SPOT

DEAR MR. SPOT:

It is impossible to say one company is best but any company's future can be judged by its past performance One example of a firm speeding ahead and dragging the right spots behind it is Grain Processing Corporation of Muscatine Iowa Richard C Kautz executive vice president administration exclaimed to me while touring the plant, "When we add a new building we just bolt on the ends to facilitate expansion" Grain Processing was formed in 1943 to operate a wartime government plant producing alcohol for the manufacture of synthetic rubber Following Japan's surrender the need for alcohol evaporated So from 1946 to 1950 Grain Processing conducted a strenuous research program to define new produce and areas of opportunity By 1955 it had become one of the major suppliers of fermentation products for the feed drug and food industries In '56 it again hypoed research With its flair for timing Grain Processing expanded into the wet milling industry in 1959 Now the company is embarking on an entirely new project corn sugar As Kautz and I wove around the industrial complex on the Mississippi shores, I noticed executives working in open necked shirts My guide remarked, "We work with an air of informality and attract a lot of top people from large cities" Grain Processing's payroll has grown from 280 employees in 1950 to over 800 today Find a company like this You'll see spots

CY

DEAR CY:

I saw a man at a hotel bar last night who must be plenty ingenious in his business The bar was lined thick with people and I noticed him waiting patiently for the bartender to take his order. After he left, without being served, the house phone on the back bar rang The bartender picked it up said, "What ? Who . ?" and then burst out laughing Turning he said, "That phone call was from a man who was standing here waiting to place his order. Says he called to make an appointment to get a drink'" When the telephoner returned to his former spot at the bar, he was greeted with a free drink and cheers

FRED NEILL

DEAR FRED:

Hats off to the man for using his head! Let's hope he wants what he wants in business as badly as he wanted that libation

We toured the good old U S A I read almost a hundred different newspapers and it seems people are working up to using the power of classified advertising Having also listened to my car radio I am curious about something Which is bigger radio advertising or newspaper classified advertising?

COAST-TO-COASTER

DEAR COAST-TO-COASTER:

According to the Harrison C MacDonald Company, a Lafayette Indiana firm which tabulates such figures, classified newspaper advertising outstrips radio The want ad investment in 1962 totalled $834,000,000 Total radio advertising was $709,000,000

the magnificent

Magnavox

new ASTRO-SONIC Stereo High Fidelity

This astounding development exceeds all previous accomplishments in the perfect recreation of music — Stereophonics from FM radio as well as records with incredible fidelity, to give you the greatest musical entertainment you have ever experienced — and all this without a single tube!

The Astro Sonic has such great tonal dimension it can fill a concert hall like a full symphony orchestra — and in your home can whisper the full beauty of music, or shake the walls with the crescendo of a great symphony.

Vacuum tubes and component damaging heat — the source of most service troubles — are eliminated The Astro-Sonic is so reliable that the parts are guaranteed for five years — twenty times as long as the standard industry guarantee for tube sets

The Normandy Provincial Model 671 in Fruitwood $495

Now solid state circuitry—a by-product of the billion dollar space age - gives ten times the efficiency of a comparable tube set—uses but one tenth the power—no more than a small light bulb.

New, large exponential treble horns—ten times as efficient as conventional cone speakers—reproduce treble tones without a blemish of distortion High efficiency 15" bass woofers give you bass definition you have never heard before.

A new "Micromatic 60" record player completely eliminates pitch distortion—for the turntable speed is as accurate as your electric clock! The new pickup plays at only 1/10 ounce touch, banishing record and stylus wear—therefore the diamond stylus is guaranteed for ten years and your records can last a lifetime

Come in for a thrilling demonstration of this Stereo marvel. Choose from a variety of styles and finishes. Other Stereo consoles as low as $149.50

The Art of Vegetable Cookery

A Full-Flavored vegetable dish, this casserole uses safflower oil as its cooking oil. Layered with seasoned vegetables and baked, the topping of browned bread crumbs and grated Parmesan cheese then goes on and the dish is popped back into the the oven for 10 minutes. Serve with wedges of honeydew melon or cantaloupe filled with seasonal fruits and berries.

Italian Cooks Have made the herb basil (basilico) outstandingly famous as a subtle flavoring for all their tomato dishes, but it's equally good on snap beans, zucchini squash, spinach, eggplant, green beans or Swiss chard. The recipe for the Italian Snap Beans, above, couldn't be easier but results are Epicurean with its sly touch of basil and other seasonings.

As Their Recipe names imply, it's lemon juice that gives the Lemon Skillet Salad and Lemony Glazed Squash, shown at the right, their artistic culinary touch. The squash may be served with the skillet dish to complete an interesting all-vegetable luncheon, or it makes an excellent accompaniment to a fall meat dish. The skillet salad is a quick and unusual method of preparing vegetables.

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Most vegetables have vitamins and minerals from A to Izzard, as every homemaker knows, but the vegetable cook par excellence never has to urge her family to eat them "because they're good for you." Not even if they profess a deep-seated animosity toward vegetables. Father and the youngsters will reach for seconds if vegetables are cooked properly . . . if they are colorful, good textured and smartly seasoned or "dressed up" a little. Better not to serve them at all if they come to the table drab and dull without any sort of enticing aroma.

Vegetable cookery rules really are simple: Cook quickly only until crisp-tender whether simmered, baked or sauteed. Start top-of-the-stove vegetables in as little boiling salted water as will keep them from sticking. Cook green vegetables with the pan uncovered for several minutes, then cover to finish the job.

Wash all vegetables before using, even if they look clean . . . a vegetable brush often is handy here. Many vegetables, particularly of the bud, head and fruit types, are improved if immersed in cold salt water for a half-hour before cooking. This freshens the fiber and drives out any insects that may have taken refuge in crevices. Baking is a good method for cooking such vegetables as squash and kindred varieties. Outright boiling is out if flavor . . . not to mention those precious minerals and vitamins . . . is to be preserved. The vegetables may be put in water that's boiling at a gallop, if need be, but then keep the limited liquid at a simmer while the cooking is underway.

These are the mechanics. Add to this a little culinary art, such as the following recipes have in the way of herbs, seasonings and taste-pleasing combinations, and

A Savory Rice stuffing, a blend of cooked rice, green onions, crumbled bacon and seasonings, are used to fill green peppers. But the surprise to this recipe is that the same stuffing can be used for acorn squash or tomatoes to give tempting variation for several dishes. All of them are served with a cheese sauce.

Fellowship Tea, Meeting Set by Church Women

The Annual Meeting and Fellowship Tea, given by the Board of United Church Women of Outagamie County, will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Memorial Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Lester W. Brann, Racine, state president, will represent the state organization.

New officers will be elected during the business meeting. Mrs. Robert Boldt, has served as nominating committee chairman, assisted by Mrs. Layton Meisele, and Mrs. Con Riggles.

Guests have been invited to attend the program, for which Mrs. Don Herrling and Mrs. John Haugner are general chairmen. Mrs. O. C. Boldt Jr. is tea chairman and Mrs. Clifford Pierson and Mrs. Melvin Bunnow will assist at the tea table.

Members of the group who attended the state board meeting Monday in Madison were Mrs. Harold Lovdahl, president of the Outagamie County Board of United Church Women, and Mrs. Robert Boldt, representative of the northeast section on the board.

Assistants Play Golf Jamboree

The Outagamie County Medical Assistants Society played its annual golf jamboree Saturday at Winagamie Golf Course.

Miss Lynn Thorne scored the low gross for the day. Low putt honors were shared by Miss Imogene Koehn, Little Chute, and Mrs. Ralph Buesing. Miss Nancy Raisler made the longest drive and Miss Donna Schultz, the longest putt. An approach shot was sunk by Mrs. George Mills.

Among prizes awarded after the game was a trophy to Miss Schultz, as the most improved golfer.

Thrifty Meat Meal

Cooked until they are so tender the meat falls from the bone, beef short ribs are about the tastiest meat you could serve for a fall dinner. An economical cut from the ends of standing rib roasts, short ribs have all the full meat flavor of the more expensive cuts and the same kind of high-quality proteins. To insure the most tender short ribs, long, slow cooking — braising — is best. Brown the meat and simmer it in a little liquid until tender.

Bad Manners Give Clue to Woman's Lack of Refinement

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend of mine has an irritating habit. If you say her behavior is acccptable I will try to overlook it. Please reply in the paper because I know of others who wonder about this person, too.

Landers

She is forever turning over the China to see if it is the genuine stuff. She examines the silver the same way. I've seen her fingering my table linen and my draperies to determine the quality of fabric. Most people can look at a picture and enjoy it but not her. She has to touch it to see if it's really done in oil.

I will admit the woman is cultured, refined and knowledgeable but this habit of hers raises my blood pressure. Will you please comment? — Plain Folk

Dear Folks: I do not agree that the woman is cultured and refined. Cultured and refined people do not examine articles for hallmarks nor do they handle fabrics to test the quality while visiting in the homes of friends. And I don't agree that she is knowledgeable. If the woman knew her stuff she wouldn't have to touch and scrutinize everything. She'd know.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our seven-year-old son has been taking odds and ends from the homes of neighbors and friends. Sometimes he takes objects from the nearby novelty store or the drug store. He doesn't need, or even want, many of the items he takes. He just enjoys carrying things off without being caught. When he brings the stolen objects home he proudly presents them to me.

I have scolded him repeatedly and explained that it is wrong to steal. I always insist that he take each object back and leave it somewhere on the premises. After he has returned everything he tells me, and I then forgive him.

His father learned of this yesterday. Strangely enough the boy blurted out, "Let's tell daddy our secret." My husband was shocked and then furious. He says something must be done but we don't know what. It was his idea to write to you. Can you help? Trouble House

Dear Troubled: Without meaning to, you have encouraged the boy's stealing by making a game of it. He doesn't see anything wrong with sneaking things out so long as he is able to sneak them back in.

You must tell him that if he takes anything else he will have to hand it to the owner and confess that he stole it. Go along with him to make sure he does it.

If this does not cure him, the boy needs professional help. Youngsters who steal usually have deep - seated emotional problems.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Six months ago our office supervisor took up a collection to buy a gift for a girl who was getting married and leaving the office. The girl said the gift was too bulky to carry home on public transportation but she promised to drive in the following week and pick it up. The gift is still in the office and none of us have received a thank you note. It seems evident that this girl has no intention of picking up the gift and that she cares nothing for it.

It's too late to return the gift for a refund. We've asked the supervisor to please do something about the gift but still it sits here. If you have any suggestions we'd like to hear them—since everyone's money is involved.—Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: The supervisor should phone the girl and tell her if she doesn't come for the gift within the week it will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. Then put it on the block.

Wood Flooring

As everything else grows more decorative underfoot, so does wood flooring. The trend is toward rich wood grainings, the use of more kinds of woods, and widened variety of parquet and strip patterns. Medium and dark colors are more favored than light colors, and shades of brown are closely related to the tones of furniture wood finishes.

While the design of wood floors becomes more intricate, their installation simplifies. Strip, plank and block flooring can be had pre-finished—lengthy processes of applying coatings to seal the wood and to make it wear-resistant and more beautiful have been completed by experts. No floor is easier to lay than a block floor. The blocks come with locking edges, which need only to be pressed together to insure proper fit and stability. Some blocks are plain, and others combine contrasting strips to make a floor seem to be laid with many small pieces. Both simple and complex designs use nearly all of the currently popular furniture woods.

Grade Label Tells Story Of Butter

Uniformity of flavor, texture and appearance of the butter the homemaker serves to her family can be assured by carefully looking for the grade label on the wrapper, says Robert Probst, in charge of dairy product grading for the State Department of Agriculture.

"Some families may find that they prefer certain characteristics of taste and texture inherent in Grade "AA," Grade "A", or even in Grade "B", and by looking for the brand and grade mark they can decide on the butter which they prefer," he points out.

Flavor classification is determined by taste and there is much skill involved in the process. Only highly skilled and licensed graders are able to make this classification which is designated as "AA," "A", or "Undergrade."

The sample, thus classified, is then graded for defects in body, color, and salt. The relation of the flavor classification to the defects, determines the final grade which is marked on the butter carton.

The words "slight" and definite" may mean little to the consumer, but to the grader they mean that the defects in a butter sample are definitely established as to degree, and thus will affect the grade and score. Under the system used in Wisconsin, defects are rated from ½ to 2, depending upon whether the defects are "slight" or "definite."

Grade AA, possesses a fine, highly pleasing flavor, and it may possess a slightly normal "feed" flavor, or a definitely "cooked" flavor, however, the total defects may be only ½ for body, color, and salt.

Grade A has a pleasing and desirable flavor, and may have any one of several flavors in slight degree. It may have normal feed, or cooked flavor in definite degree.

Grade B may possess several stronger flavors to a definite degree.

Butter which is rated as AA in taste may be graded down one grade or two, if total defects exceed the amount permissible. Thus, butter which is rated AA in taste could be Grade B if it had a total of 1½ or 2 in defects of body, color, and salt.

Pythian Sisters Honor Chiefs

The Pythian Sisters honored past chiefs when they met for a potluck supper Monday evening at Castle Hall. The guests of honor also occupied the officers chairs during the opening and closing ceremonies of the meeting.

Plans for the Oct. 8 rummage sale, to begin at 9 a.m. at KP Hall were discussed. A Friendship Night, with guests from area Temples invited, is scheduled for Oct. 21.

Mrs. David Meyer was chairman of Monday evening's event, assisted by Mrs. Gilbert Woldt, Mrs. Frederick Matthews, Mrs. Robert Maves and Mrs. Henry Schallock.

The next meeting will be Oct. 7.

Pair Weds in Catholic Nuptial Rite

LITTLE CHUTE — The wedding of Miss Susan M. Driessen and Eugene W. Wildenberg took place at 10 a.m. today at St. John Catholic Church. The Rev. Martin Vosbeek officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Driessen, 628 Taylor St. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wildenberg, route 1, Kaukauna, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Miss JoAnn Van Vreede atteended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Kenneth Hietpas, a sister of the bridegroom.

Kenneth Diedrick served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsman was Kenneth Hietpas. Ushering duties were shared by David Driessen, a brother of the bride, and Ronald Van de Voort, Kaukauna, the bridegroom's cousin.

A wedding dinner, reception and dance have been scheduled at the Catholic Club, Appleton.

When the couple returns from a Canadian honeymoon they will reside at 110 W. Prospect Ave., Beaver Dam, where the bridegroom is employed at Western Electric Co. The couple was graduated from St. John High School. The bride has been employed at Moe Northern Co.

Make Best Play and Don't Worry

When you must give up two tricks in the course of developing your own, try to give up the first to the opponent who can do no damage. This may not completely guarantee success, but you can make an astonishing number of difficult hands if you merely make the best move at each turn.

Opening lead — ♠ Q

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the king of spades and returned the singleton diamond. East properly played low.

South shrewdly finessed the ten of diamonds, trying to lose the first trick to West. As it happened, West did take the jack of diamonds.

West couldn't afford to continue the attack on spades, so he shifted to a heart. South won with the king of hearts and led the king of diamonds to force out the ace.

All Over

It was then all over. South could take three diamonds and two tricks in each of the other suits.

It's quite true that West could have complicated South's task by refusing to take the jack of diamonds at the second trick. (South would still make the hand if he continued with the nine or eight of diamonds, but he probably wouldn't do this.) The point is that few defenders would think of refusing the first diamond trick, and South virtually assured his contract by his clever first play in diamonds.

Try making the contract if South plays the king of diamonds on the first round of that suit. If he continues with the ten of diamonds, East wins the trick and returns a spade. The rest of the defense is easy, and South makes only two tricks in each suit.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one club, the next player passes. You hold: S A 10 5; H K 4; D K Q 10 9 8; C A K 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds. The jump response in a new suit shows a possible slam opposite a normal opening bid. You are ready to bid slam in clubs, diamonds, or no trump — depending on where a good fit can be found.

Newcomers to Hold Style Show At Elks Club

The Welcome Wagon Newcomers luncheon Tuesday will feature a style show. The 1 p.m. event, at the Elks Club, will present models in fashions by Foote Furs and Fashions and hats by Newmans. Mrs. Jerry Mendelsohn and Mrs. Jack Richardson are co-chairmen of arrangements.

Mrs. Joseph Treleven will serve as narrator and Mrs. Charles Kubes will provide music.

Models at the show will be Mrs. Robert Donahue, Mrs. Robert Jensen, Mrs. William Campbell, Mrs. Herbert Schweitzer and Mrs. Dean LaCoure.

Mrs. Eileen Schreiber, president of the Oshkosh Altrusa Club, visited with Mrs. George Hoffer, Appleton, Governor-elect of District Seven, Altrusa International, at the Raulf Hotel Wednesday evening. Mrs. Hoffer spoke to the women about the national convention held this summer in Philadelphia. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Altrusans to Begin Anniversary Year

OSHKOSH — The 15th anniversary season of the Altrusa Club of Oshkosh was inaugurated at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday when the professional women met in the Fountain Room of the Hotel Raulf for a dinner and program.

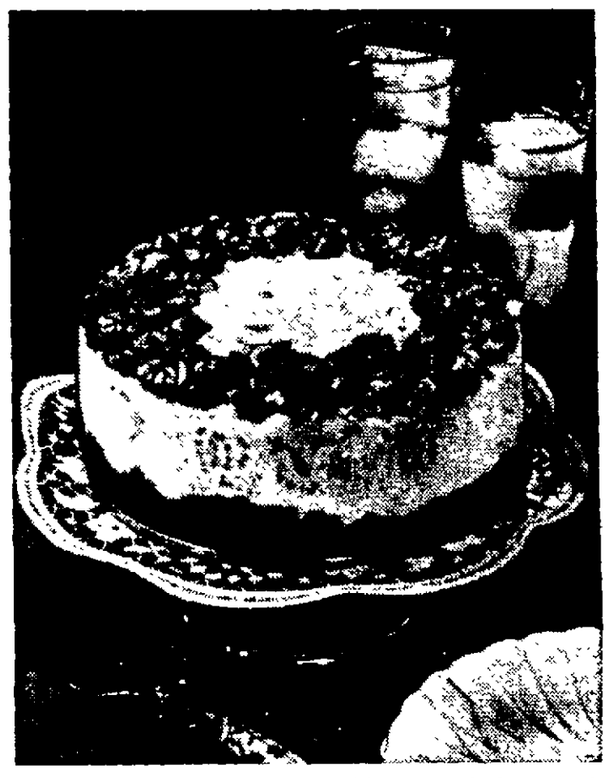

Guest speaker was Mrs. George Hoffer, Appleton, Governor-Elect of District Seven, Altrusa International. Included in District Seven are 43 clubs in Wisconsin, Upper Michigan, Iowa, Mennesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Ontario.

Mrs. Hoffer discussed highlights of the Altrusa International Convention which she attended at Philadelphia, Pa., July 21-25.

Theme of the meeting was "Show Your Classification" Altrusans wore particular accessories or clothing appropriate to their profession which entitled them to membership.

Hostesses were members of the Altrusa information committee: Miss Mary Malnar, Mrs. Geneva Fry, Mrs. Allen Webster and Mrs. Edward Sitter.

Officers for 1963-64 are Mrs. Eileen Schreiver, President; Mrs. Sophia Haase, vice president; Mrs. Lucille W. Rodat, recording secretary; Mrs. Roland A. Polplatz, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Milton W. Seefeld, treasurer.

No Baking Is Called for in this unusual cheese cake that is a refreshing, show-off beauty. The cheese layer is bright with the light, keen flavor of lemon and Apple. The contrasting cake base is made of rich, buttery cookie crumbs and crunchy chopped walnuts. Nuts also circle the top just before the cake goes into the refrigerator to chill.

Pretty Cheese Cake Takes No Baking

A no-bake cheese cake that's a refreshing, show-off beauty is this easy lemon-apple one. In serving, the cake cuts down into tender yet firm wedges with ease. The cheese layer is spongy in texture and the rich cake base compact.

It goes well with apple juice or cider to make a delightful duo for autumn. For a variation, substitute lime flavored gelatin for the lemon for a different and second recipe on the same theme. Here is the recipe for Lemon-Apple Cheese Cake

LEMON-APPLE CHEESE CAKE

- 1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ¾ cup boiling water
- 8 ounces cream cheese
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 2/3 cup evaporated milk
- 1 cup graham cracker or gingersnap crumbs
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- ¼ cup butter, melted
- ½ cup chopped walnuts

Mix lemon gelatin and unflavored gelatin thoroughly; add boiling water and stir until dissolved, then cool. Combine cream cheese and sugar, blending until smooth and creamy. Blend in apple sauce, vanilla and cooled gelatin mixture. Chill until mixture is well thickened. Chill evaporated milk in separate bowl until icy.

Mix crumbs, brown sugar, melted butter and one-fourth cup chopped nuts. Press crumb mixture firmly into the bottom and about an inch up the sides of a greased seven or eight - inch spring form pan.

Whip thickened apple-gelatin mixture while gradually adding chilled milk. When blended, continue to whip at high speed until mixture is very light and fluffy. The mixture will double in volume.

Turn into prepared pan over the crumb layer. Sprinkle top with remaining quarter-cup of nuts. Chill until set, at least five hours or overnight. Recipe makes 12 servings.

A Lovelier You

Face Muscles Do Show

The network of muscles in a woman's face is invisible to the eye. Yet it shows — in her expression and complexion.

Actually, in the face there are fifty - five muscles, intricately grouped and attached to the inner strata of the skin. A few of the groups have a mechanical purpose, like blinking the eyes. The function of the rest is purely esthetic. Because of it you can smile or frown; your skin is firm or crinkly.

With so much at stake, how foolish it would be to let the facial muscles deteriorate. And that they will do when neglected or misused. So let's analyze what constitutes neglect and misuse:

—Habitual Expressions: Frowns pouts, squints and their sour-faced likes stretch the muscles, leaving open spaces for lines to form.

—Poor Posture: Hold the head high, or the jaw will become slack. Then the cheeks and throat are wide open to a crepey condition.

—Weight Fluctuations. Reduce very slowly and stay reduced. See-sawing weight causes an ebb and flow on the muscles that is completely debilitating. Under all circumstances, the body - building foods — proteins and vitamins — must be given starring dietary roles.

—Inadequate Stimulation: However pampered, the facial musculature requires extra attention in mature years. It takes the form of steam followed by cold compresses, of muscle toning exercise. For a good tonic drag up the face, as when sucking a lemon; then relax and smile, as when you are really happy. In the routine, there's more than muscle tone. It proves that your attitude can make you lovelier.

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat & Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of your newspaper enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Big Bulb Beauties Blossom Brilliantly

Housewives and hobbyists who want to hasten spring are starting early this fall to force hyacinth, daffodil and tulip bulbs for bloom in January.

To enjoy this thrill, ask your florist, garden center, or supermarket about bulb varieties recommended for forcing and pick up a supply of red clay pots for planting. Choose the low, squatty, clay pots known as bulb pans.

Prepare Container

Start by covering the drainage hole of each clay pot with a flat or concave piece of a broken flower pot, and fill in a half inch of pebbles. Over this, add a mixture of equal parts of loam, leafmold, and sand Press down firmly, leaving about three inches of space to the rim of the pot. Place the bulbs one-half inch apart. Use the same variety of bulbs in a single pot so all will flower at once.

After bulbs are in place, fill in soil so the noses of the bulbs barely show, and press the soil down firmly Leave about an inch of space so it will be easy to water the bulbs after they have sprouted.

Next, mark each pot with the variety name by tying the label on a tall slim bamboo stake at least a foot long.

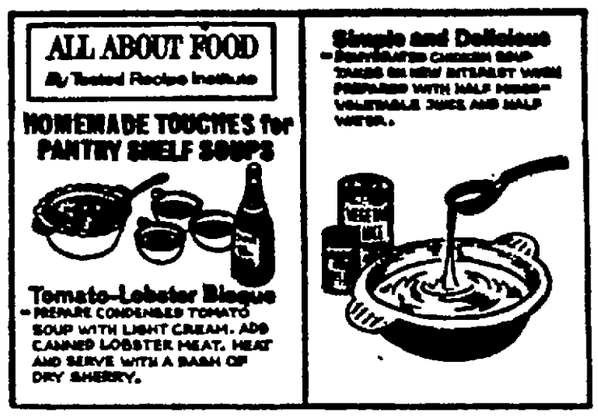

Then, place each pot in a pan of water to soak all the way through the porous clay pot walls and the soil within. After this initial soaking, cover each pot with an empty inverted clay pot of the same size This will protect the new shoots as they grow. Next, place each container in a deep trench or coldframe for an eight to ten week rooting period. Fill in six inches of soil over the tops of the pots and cover this with a thick layer of leaves or salt-hay mulch

Check Growth

Along about the first week in January, dig up one of the pots, and gently knock the soil ball from the pot to see whether it is covered with a network of roots Well rooted, slip the earthball back into the pot and move into a 50 — 55 degree F. north window until the shoots turn green. Place your plant in a sunny 60 degree spot and keep the soil well watered You can bring in several pots at once for a gala display, or one by one in succession to spread the blooming period over several weeks

Buds will pop open quickly and will leave you breathless with their unbelievably lovely colors and springtime perfume

Here's a Bumper Crop of Tomato Recipes

The useful ripe red tomato isn't round in shape alone — it really gets around! You can bake it, fry it, broil it, grill it, pickle it, marinate it and stuff it.

Now is the right time to enjoy the tomato's rich, fruity goodness and its affinity for so many other flavorful foods So little seasoning is needed with a good tomato, but a bit of Tabasco, the aromatic liquid red pepper sauce, enhances its delicacy in a variety of recipes.

Tomatoes are delicious grilled with a topping of Cheddar cheese sauce seasoned with Tabasco and basil They also are delicious served freshly sliced in a marinade of oil, vinegar, salt, sugar, mustard, paprika, dill and spicy Tabasco

Tomatoes take to a wide assortment of stuffings, but one of the tastiest combines cubes of corned beef with chopped celery, pepper and cucumbers, mixed with mayonnaise, milk and Tabasco. After spooning all this into the waiting tomato garnish it with black olives for a really appetizing salad.

Grilled Tomato Halves

2 large tomatoes
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry basil leaves

Remove stem end and slice tomatoes in half. Combine cheese, milk, Tabasco, salt and basil in saucepan, heat until cheese is melted. Line broiler rack with foil Place tomatoes on rack Pour some of mixture over each tomato half Place in broiler about three inches from source of heat for about five to seven minutes

Tomato Dill Salad

½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
½ cup vinegar
½ teaspoon Tabasco
½ cup oil
4 sprigs fresh dill, stems removed
3 tomatoes, sliced

Mix first four dry ingredients thoroughly; add vinegar and Tabasco, stirring until blended Add oil, beat or shake well. Snip dill and add to marinade. Pour about half over tomato slices and store the rest Let stand in refrigerator about one hour before serving. Recipe makes four to six servings and one cup marinade

Stuffed Tomatoes

4 large firm tomatoes
1 can (12 ounces) corned beef, chilled
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon Tabasco
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped pepper
¼ cup chopped cucumber
5 pitted black olives, sliced

Core tomatoes Scoop out some of seeded middle. Score tomatoes in quarters but do not cut through tomato. Slice corned beef into small cubes. Combine mayonnaise, milk and Tabasco. Add celery, pepper, cucumber; toss. Add corned beef. Spoon into tomatoes. Decorate with olive slices. Recipe makes four servings

Here Are Three interesting ways to prepare the bountiful, ripe-red tomatoes so plentiful now in the Fox Cities area With the help of spicy Tabasco sauce, they are grilled with a topping of Cheddar Cheese sauce as shown on the platter in the foreground, stuffed with corned beef salad, center, and served in slices after being marinated

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

UNSPORTING GUEST

Dear Louise· I moved here a year ago and am enjoying my new neighbors. At intervals, husbands and wives get together for cook-outs on Sunday afternoons. One of the men is a semi-professional photographer. He brought his camera one day and snapped pictures individually and in groups. The next time we got together, he presented each of us with our own picture. I was stunned when I saw mine. It was awful. I admit I'm no beauty, but in this one I was "making a face" which showed my worst features. I immediately tore the photograph into pieces while this man and some others were watching I made no comment and neither did anyone else. When mulling it over later, I wondered if I may have been rude and if you think I was, do you think I should apologize? Wouldn't it have been more thoughtful of this man if he had not given me a print?

Davis

Louise Davis Answers:

Yes, I do think that you were rude and suggest that you apologize You could have made some amusing remark such as, "Ain't I beautiful?", letting it go at that. You could have torn up your picture after returning home I have an idea that you are impulsive and oftentimes the trait can lead to thoughtlessness as it did that time when you destroyed the snapshot. Your neighbor-photographer assumed that good manners and a sense of humor would carry you through He didn't expect you to show your temper If he had any idea that you would have been offended he never would have let you see the picture.

The Ailing House

Buy New Starter

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q We have two fluorescent fixtures in our kitchen The one over the sink is very balky very slow in lighting we have to turn the wall switch on several times for it. How can we correct this?

A It's probably due to a defective starter A new starter is inexpensive It plugs into a socket at one end of the fixture

Unless you are familiar with fluorescent lighting however, ask an electrician or the electrical dealer for directions

POWDERING CONCRETE

Q The concrete floor in our basement seems to be powdering Is there anything we can apply to overcome this?

A Prepared liquid cement hardeners are available at masonry supplies dealers and some large hardware stores follow manufacturer's directions carefully

Floors treated with this type of preparation can later be painted.

Patched Plaster

Q We bought an old house which we are painting and reconditioning ourselves Most of the plaster walls have large cracks in them, which require filling before painting I used prepared plaster patching on the walls in a bedroom, but it fell out What do you recommend for filling the cracks?

A To get patching material to stay in a crack, the crack should first be widened and opened down to the lath All loose particles must then be brushed out, and the inner surfaces moistened with water Then the patching is put into the groove vegetable cookery really becomes an adventure.

The crack should be wider at the lath than it is at the surface

ITALIAN FRESH SNAP BEANS

- 1 pound fresh snap beans
- ¼ cup olive or salad oil
- ½ cup diced green sweet peppers
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon instant minced garlic
- 1 tablespoon onion flakes
- ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 teaspoon basil leaves
- 2 tablespoons water
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Wash beans, drain, cut off tips; cut into one-inch pieces. Heat oil, add beans, green pepper, salt, minced garlic and onion flakes. Cover and cook five minutes over low heat. Add black pepper, basil and hot water. Cook, covered, 20 to 30 minutes or until beans are just tender. Watch carefully to keep beans from burning. Serve hot with Parmesan cheese sprinkled over the top. Recipe makes four to five servings.

MARINATED ZUCCHINI

- 2 zucchini squash, each 7 inches long
- ¼ cup olive or salad oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground black pepper
- ½ teaspoon instant minced garlic
- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
- 1 tablespoon parsley flakes
- ½ cup wine vinegar
- ¾ teaspoon basil leaves
- ½ teaspoon sugar

Wash zucchini and cut into slices about one-inch thick. Fry in hot oil until lightly browned. Drain on paper towels. Place squash in bowl. Combine remaining ingredients in a saucepan. Heat to boiling point, then pour over zucchini slices. Cover and marinate in refrigerator for at least 12 hours. Serve cold as needed. This dish will keep several days in a covered bowl in the refrigerator. Recipe makes about six servings.

HERBED SPINACH

- ½ cup diced green sweet peppers
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 2 pkgs. (10-ounce each) frozen spinach
- ½ teaspoon basil leaves
- 1 teaspoon instant minced onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper

Saute pepper in butter. Add spinach, basil, minced onion, salt and sugar. Cover and cook only until spinach is defrosted and hot throughout. Add black pepper and mix well. Serve hot.

VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

- 8 tablespoons sunflower oil
- ½ cup dry bread crumbs
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 6 green onions and tops, sliced
- 1 medium cucumber, pared and sliced
- 3 large tomatoes, peeled and sliced
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- ¼ teaspoon pepper

Melt four tablespoons oil in an eight-inch skillet. Add bread crumbs; stir over low heat until crumbs lightly browned. Stir in cheese. Remove from skillet and reserve for later use.

Melt remaining four tablespoons oil in same skillet. Add onions and cook over low heat until tender. Layer remaining vegetables and seasonings in buttered casserole with onions. Bake in 375-degree oven about 30 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Sprinkle bread crumb mixture on top for last 10 minutes of cooking. Recipe makes four servings.

LEMON SKILLET SALAD

- ¼ cup butter
- 1 pkg. (10-ounce) frozen lima beans, cooked
- 4 cups shredded cabbage
- 2 cups grated carrots
- ¼ cup bottled lemon juice
- Salt, pepper to taste

Melt butter in heavy skillet. Add vegetables, placing cabbage at outer edge of skillet, then carrots with limas in center. Cook until vegetables are tender. Add lemon juice and seasonings. Recipe serves six to eight persons.

LEMONY GLAZED SQUASH

- 2 acorn squash
- ½ cup water

* * *

- 1/3 cup lemon juice
- 2/3 cup brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted

Wash squash; cut in quarters lengthwise; remove seeds. Bake cut side down, in shallow covered dish in 350-degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Combine lemon juice, brown sugar and butter. Turn squash cut side up; pour lemon mixture over squash. Continue baking for 20 minutes longer, or until squash is tender. Baste occasionally to glaze. The squash should look crusty when it emerges from the oven. Recipe serves four.

RICE STUFFED VEGETABLES WITH CHEESE SAUCE

- 4 medium green peppers

or

- 4 large, ripe tomatoes

or

- 2 large acorn squash

* * *

- 6 slices bacon
- 2 tablespoons bacon drippings
- 2 cups cooked rice
- ½ cup chopped green onion, including tops
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ teaspoon thyme

* * *

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon paprika
- ½ cup grated sharp cheese

Peppers — Wash peppers; cut off tops and remove seeds. Cook peppers in small amount of boiling, salted water for five minutes. Drain. Fill with rice stuffing (second part of recipe); bake in 400-degree oven for 15 minutes. Serve with Cheese Sauce (third part of recipe).

Tomatoes — Wash and remove stem ends of tomatoes. Scoop out pulp with a spoon; blend with stuffing ingredients. Keep tomato cases intact. Pile filling into tomato cases and place in greased baking dish. Bake in 375-degree oven for 20 minutes.

Squash — Wash and cut two acorn squash into halves lengthwise; discard seeds and stringy fibers. Brush cavities with melted butter; season with salt and pepper. Bake, cut sides down, in 400-degree oven about 45 minutes, or until squash is tender. Turn cut sides up; pile rice filling into cavities; bake for 10 minutes longer, or until heated through.

Stuffing — To prepare the stuffing (second part of recipe), fry bacon until crisp, then drain thoroughly and crumble. Cook rice and onion in two tablespoons bacon drippings until all drippings absorbed. Add salt, pepper and thyme. Add crumbled bacon and mix.

Cheese Sauce — To prepare sauce (third part of recipe), melt butter, then blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened and smooth. Add seasonings and grated cheese; cook until cheese is melted.

Each of the variations of this recipe makes four servings.

Governor Signs Mental Health School Bill

Assemblyman Rogers From Kaukauna Was Author of New Law

KAUKAUNA — Gov. John W. Reynolds Monday signed into law a bill to improve Wisconsin's program for providing classrooms for the mentally handicapped according to 2nd District Assemblyman William Rogers, author of the bill.

The bill gives school boards authority to enter into agreements with counties to build, operate and maintain facilities for the mentally handicapped. "The new law could open the doors to hundreds of much-needed new classrooms for the handicapped," Rogers said.

The bill was introduced in the legislature last spring at the request of the mental health advisory committee and was drafted as the result of a plan drawn by the Deerfield School district and Dane County.

County School

Under the plan, Dane County would build a $100,000, five-classroom addition to the Deerfield School. For 10 years Deerfield would assume liability for operating the addition and Dane County would have use of the facility, rent-free. At the end of the 10-year period, Deerfield would become owner of the facility.

Before the plan could be put in effect, legislation was necessary to allow Deerfield to accept the original $100,000 building. The new bill provides necessary statutory changes.

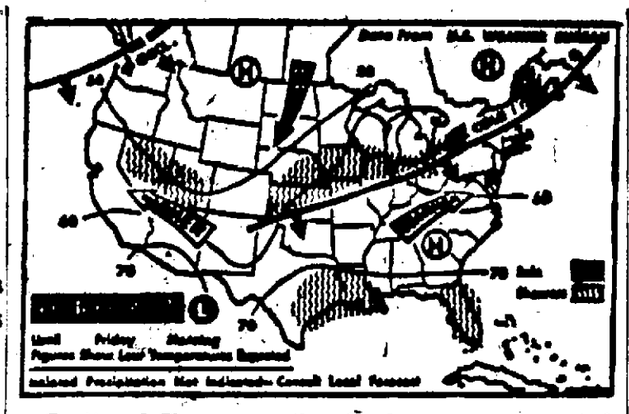

"It is our hope that other counties and school districts will take advantage of the new law and pilot Deerfield-Dane plan to provide teaching facilities for their handicapped youngsters," Rogers said.

Cyclist Escapes Injury When Struck by Car

KIMBERLY—Daniel Van Ooyen, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Ooyen, 340 S. Ann St., Kimberly, escaped without injury about 12:45 p.m. Wednesday when he rode his bicycle into the path of a car driven by Richard Schelfhout, 19, 415 E. First St., Kimberly.

According to police, Schelfhout was driving south on S. Main Street when the youth drove his bicycle from the sidewalk, jumped a curb and ran directly in front of the slow moving auto. The boy was examined by the family physician and returned to school.

Over $400 damage resulted to two cars about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday when Richard Van Lanen, 38, 409 E. Second St., Kimberly, opened his car door after parking on N. Main Street and, as the door swung open, it was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Annabelle B. Hammer, 532½ Grand Ave., Little Chute.

Scattered Showers or thundershowers are expected Thursday night in the extreme north Atlantic and southeastern Atlantic coastal areas, the west Gulf coast, the Lakes region and Ohio valley westward through the central Plains into the central Plateau. It will be clear to partly cloudy elsewhere. It will be cooler in the upper Lakes and central Plains and warmer in the north Atlantic coast area, the southern Plains and central and southern Pacific coast areas. (AP Wirephoto Map)

$9,875 Hill Family Grant For St. Norbert Research

DE PERE — The St. Norbert College psychology department has received a grant of $9,875 from the Hill Family Foundation of St. Paul, Minn., for research on an experimental learning process, according to the Rev. D. M. Burke, O. Praem, president.

Dr. Neil J. Webb, Psychology Department chairman, is conducting research based on the premise that students can learn more effectively through teaching.

Dr. Webb said this approach to learning results from an oft-repeated phrase, "teaching a course offers a new dimension to the understanding of its material."

This project will extend through the 1963-1964 school year. Students from three different courses will form the experimental groups. The money will be used to purchase electronic recording equipment and booths.

Dr. Webb, an associate professor, joined St. Norbert in 1959 following completion of doctoral studies at Loyola University of Chicago. He is a native of Fond du Lac, attended elementary schools at Waupaca and has a bachelor's degree from Marquette University.

Oshkosh Teacher To Head Study of Neenah-Menasha

OSHKOSH — Lawrence H. Larsen, Oshkosh, assistant professor in the Wisconsin State College History Department, has been granted a year's leave of absence to head the State Historical Society's urban history section.

Financed by a two-year grant from the University of Wisconsin urban studies program, Professor Larsen will work with Charles Glaab, Milwaukee, associate professor of history at the University of Wisconsin, on researching the urban and economic history of Neenah - Menasha.

The Neenah - Menasha project is designed to develop methods of urban history research applicable to other urban centers. The UW urban studies project is financed by the Ford Foundation.

A graduate of Lawrence College at Appleton, Prof. Larsen earned master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees in history at the University of Wisconsin. He is the author of several papers published in the Wisconsin Magazine of History.

Appleton to Hire Garage Architect

Works Board Authorized to Obtain Plans for City Facility

Authorization was given the Appleton Board of Public Works Wednesday night to hire an architect to prepare plans and specifications for a new municipal garage on the city's southeast side.

It has been roughly estimated a new garage could cost between $300,000 and $500,000.

The city has a large tract of land near the industrial park for the proposed garage which would replace the obsolete building now occupied at 925 Spencer St.

The common council went along with the recommendation of its street-sanitation committee that the board of public works start interviewing architects.

It is planned to include funds in the 1964 budget for architectural fees. Last year $10,000 was requested but the amount was deleted.

Need Facility

Public Works Director Robert Bues and street-sanitation committee members say there is an urgent need for a new facility.

The common council also:

Approved the spending of $4,000 for building a health department laboratory and establishing a new office in the basement of the city hall building.

Renewed the city's contract with Wisconsin Physicians Service, Madison, for hospitalization and medical insurance for municipal employees. The city pays 80 per cent of the cost and the municipal employee the other half for coverage. Rates were increased this year.

Designated a three-man committee to prepare a report and recommendation on the feasibility of the city selling the No. 1 fire station property at Washington and Oneida Streets, or keeping it as part of a site for a future new city hall.

Gave the board of education the go-ahead to hire an architect to draft plans and specifications for a new senior high school on the south side.

Deeded 22.3 acres of land in the industrial park to the State of Wisconsin for construction of a new national guard armory in 1964 or 1965. The council included a clause that the land would revert back to the city if construction was not started within five years.

Concurred in the recommendation of the city plan commission that $9,016 be included in the 1964 budget, the amount representing the City of Appleton's share of the Fox Regional Plan Commission operations budget for next year.

Charlie, Craftsman Make Broom Using Method Believed Very Old

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Together we created a broom — Old Timer Frank Bayer who does it artistically, and I who cannot do it at all. Bayer believes he is one of the last of the artisans who make brooms by hand and he is proud of his craftsmanship.

House

He's also proud of the number of years he has spent on earth as old folks have a right to be. He is, he says, "seventy-nine-and-a-half-years old."

Step by step the old master led me through the production of a broom. The steps were ancient ones, perhaps hundreds of years old, perhaps thousands.

Selecting an armful of broomcorn (grown in Oklahoma), Bayer began to sort the fronds according to size, length, coarseness and fineness and placed them in separate piles. One was for the shorter toy broom he makes, one pile for the household broom, one pile for whiskbrooms, one pile for the tougher shop broom. With these he arranged some stalks for filler and some of the finer pieces for the outside, the "cover."

500 Pound Bales

Broomcorn is a botanical member of the grass family and is originally a native of the East Indies. In this country the stalk of broomcorn grows from five to 15 feet in height and is notable for its length, strength and straightness. Bayer purchases his broomcorn in 500 pound bales from a supply house in Chicago at the rate of 29 cents per pound. When it arrives at Bayer's broom works, it still contains its seeds which must be removed.

"This selection of broom corn must be done very carefully," said Bayer, "with each piece the right length and thickness, or you'd have two sweeping jobs — one with a poor broom and one to sweep up what falls out."

In his old shed-like factory behind his home at 649 Milwaukee Street here, Bayer works alone and happily. "But," he said, "you have got to talk to yourself for company."

With the component elements of the production at hand, we turned to the only machine in the factory. A powered wheel studded with old files, spins and the broom is pushed into it. Its job: remove the seeds. Next we soaked the broomcorn in water briefly to make it pliable.

We moved then to a manually operated treadmill, placed a broomhandle in it and applied some of the filler by pulling a wire round and tautly over the fibrous broomcorn, then cutting off the extra bits on the upper end.

"Where's that knife?" Bayer asked himself, and then, "Come here, knife," he said to it, and he shaved off the ends of the corn.

He chatted as we moved along.

"It takes a man six to eight months to learn how to make a broom properly. Now I learned it from my uncle, also Frank Bayer, who founded this factory in about 1891. I even helped him to build this place. Then I was a motorman on the interurban cars from Neenah to Kaukauna.

15 Brooms a Day

"Uncle Frank died about 30 years ago and people asked me if I wouldn't try to get his factory back in operation. I had learned from him for about two years, so I came back, and tried my hand.

"It took me all afternoon to make one broom but I kept poking around until I remembered all I had learned. I got so I could make about 15 brooms in a day, but I'm not so swift any more. Old guys," he added thoughtfully, "aren't so fast."

But Bayer still can make ten or twelve brooms a day. His house brooms are sold to stores in the region and his shopbrooms go to factories and to farmers.

Little by little in a rounding motion, Bayer laid the broomcorn on the handle, pushing tight on the foot treadle which held the wire taut and which turned the stick.

"Sometimes here," he said bearing down on the floor treadle, "you have got to grunt," and he did.

Now he took two handfuls of the finer, straighter fibers and he wired them around the handle but they were upside down.

"Why upside down?" asked the reporter.

"Them who watches learns," he said smiling. Then it became apparent. When the upside down straws had been firmly attached he bent them down toward the bottom: they formed the "shoulders" of the broom. Then he added other fine straws circularly to the shaping broom and he slipped a belt over it to hold it in shape. A staple pounded into the wire and the wooden handle made it fast. He cut the wire loose from the big spool, tacked down a short nail and wrapped the remaining bit of wire to it. The broom looked like a broom.

Squeeze Broom

"I like this work," he said. "It keeps me busy and gives me enough spending money for my few glasses of beer at noon and my seven or eight glasses at night. Sometimes I stay up until midnight," he added proudly. "I do like my beer."

Now we took the partially finished broom to a press. We squeezed it into the familiar shape every householder knows and Bayer sewed deftly across the fibers. He used a needle about five inches long with its eye in the middle and in and out from one side to another, securing the waxed string on each runthrough. Then he tied a knot in the string, tucked it out of sight and the broom was all but finished.

"I've had nine children, all of them living around here except one son who is a lawyer in Minneapolis. I work as hard as I want to and I have all the work I can do, and when I go there won't be any more hand - made brooms," said Bayer.

The wooden handles for the house broom are made of Washington fir; the shopbroom handles are made of hardwoods — maple birch ash.

Now we put our brooms into a simple pail filled with green crystal dye. The broomcorn must be dyed, he said, because it makes them prettier. Just the lower part of the straws are dyed; above the string the color is natural.

Deftly Bayer put a red velvet capping on the upper section of the broomcorn ("It makes it pretty"), and then applied a gummed label. The broom was finished.

"That," said the reporter, "is a good-looking broom."

The old artisan grunted and inspected it and then he added with pride:

"You're gol darned right!"

Sta-Right Products Dividends Boosted

Night Speeder Fined $103

James Weber Admits Driving 100 MPH In Calumet County

CHILTON—High speed driving and a truck overload brought fines to two in Calumet County Court this week.

Fined $103 after he admitted driving 100 miles per hour at night on State 57 just north of here was James R. Weber, 22, 338 N. State St., Chilton. Weber was arrested at 1:15 a.m. Aug. 30 by county police.

Driving 30 m.p.h. over the posted 25 mile speed limit in High Cliff Forest Park led to a $25 fine for Harold A. Frederick, 1412 S. Kernan St., Appleton. He was arrested by state police Aug. 19.

A Golden and Sons, 205 Maple St., Kaukauna, paid fines totaling $154 for an axle overload on one of its trucks. State police made the arrest in Forest Junction on U.S. 10 July 3.

The overload penalty, tabulated at the rate of three cents a pound for the 3,300 overload, amounted to $99. The arrest also resulted in a $50 fine and $5 court costs.

Fined $50 were Gordon W. Koehler, 21, route 1, Malone, and John N. Abitz, 20, 1500 E. Frances St., Appleton. Koehler admitted reckless driving on State 57 north of here Aug. 17 and Abitz was fined for six point speeding on U.S. 10 just south of Appleton.

Top Teaching Stars on TV Special Today

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 4-5)—An Experiment in Excellence is an absorbing study of modern educational systems in Pittsburgh, and an old-fashioned teacher helping a delightful little Italian boy whose language difficulties have put him behind in his reading. Some of the most fascinating scenes show high school pupils reading at the average of 10,000 words a minute. You'll also see "team teaching" in the first grade; high school pupils taking college courses; language classes monitored by a teacher at an electric console. Frank McGee narrates.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5)—Temple Houston is the show that received word on July 18 to get ready for a fall air date. Jeffrey Hunter stars as a lawyer and Jack Elam, late of The Dakotas, is a lawman in the series revolving around legal conflict of ye olden days.

7-7:30 (Channel 11)—The Donna Reed Show returns for another sugar-coated season. Gone is Shelley Fabares, but little Patty Peterson remains as Trisha. And it is her new best friend, and the best friend's overly-indulgent grandfather, which places Donna in the middle of a bitter family feud which she straightens out.

7:30-8 (Channel 11)—My Three Sons moves to an earlier time with its sense of humor intact. To impress a girl, Robbie writes a "bugga, bugga, ooh, ooh" song which wins a television contest. So Robbie (Don Grady) and his family, complete with a very embarrassed Fred MacMurray, appear on a teen-aged show to sing the song.

8-9 (Channel 11)—The Jimmy Dean Show is a sprightly variety show. Some good camera work highlights the premiere as Jimmy does a duet with cartoon character Fred Flintstone, and as guest Dick Shawn, in a filmed spot, "conducts" New York City's drinking fountains, skyscrapers, Wall Street at night and lovers in Central Park. The major segment on the show is "What's New?", a weekly feature which comments on today. Gospel singers, The Jubilee Four, appear here and so does singer Karen Morrow.

8:30-9 (Channel 4-5) — Shirley Booth still has Hazel wrapped up tightly in talent. As the show premieres for its third season, she deflates a pair of snobs who arrive at the Baxter home "this" Saturday instead of "next" Saturday. (Color)

9-10 (Channel 4-5)—Sid Caesar-Edie Adams Together is a wildly funny show. Sid and Edie, plus Gisele MacKenzie and Joey Forman (who will be regular on Sid's show), have three hilarious skits.

Homemade Plant Hanger Can Brighten Up Kitchen

BY CAPPY DICK

A hanging planter in the kitchen (Figure 1) would be certain to please Mother. It is easy to make one.

You will need an empty soft drink can, some paint or enamel, four "S" hooks, a wall bracket that sticks out at least four inches from the wall, a piece of lightweight steel jack chain about 18 inches long, four pieces five inches long and some real or artificial vines, leaves or flowers.

Remove one of the lids from a soft drink can. With a nail and hammer, make four holes around the open end about one half-inch below the edge, locating them at positions equivalent to three, six, nine and 12 on the face of a clock. Paint or enamel the can a color that will match the curtains in the kitchen.

Screw the wall bracket to the wall and to its arm attach the 18-inch length of chain. Place the four "S" hooks in the holes in the can as the boy is doing in Figure 2. Attach the four short pieces of chain to the "S" hooks and connect the other ends to the bottom link of the 18-inch chain.

Fill the soft-drink-can planter with artificial vines, leaves or flowers, or, if you prefer, fill with earth and plant real vines or flowers in it.

June Allyson Back at Work

Dick Powell's Widow Returns to Singing For Garland Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It was Judy who made me go back to work," said June Allyson, inactive except for a brief television drama since the death of her husband, Dick Powell, Jan. 3.

One night Judy Garland spotted her at a restaurant.

"She came over to my table and started to bawl me out," June recalled. "She told me, 'You look terrible. You don't even look like a movie star. Your eyes are all red. Have you been spending all your time crying in the back room.'

On Garland Show

"I had to admit that I had. 'All right,' she said, 'you're going to work on my show. I need you and you're going to help me out.'"

I found June rehearsing for the Garland show at CBS, her hair in curlers and a new note of enthusiasm in her voice.

Talks About Old Times

"I didn't think I could do it," she said. "I've had two throat operations and I didn't know if I could still sing. I haven't done anything musical in 10 years. I started out in musicals, but then I cried in one picture, waving goodbye to Jimmy Stewart, and from then on I was typed."

She reminisced about the days when she and Judy starred at MGM.

"We didn't find out about it until later, but the studio used to work us against each other," she said. "They'd say to Judy, 'Now don't you get out of line, because we've got this new girl Allyson ready to take over for you if you do.'

"They they'd say to me, 'Don't start thinking you're great, because Judy is the big star around here.' The reason we're both so short is that they kept beating us down."

Melody Top Theater Has Great First Year

But Jingo Wonders About Future Seasons In Light of Milwaukee's Usual Pattern

BY JINGO

The disquieting rumors out of Milwaukee tend to make one believe the Cream City may soon have one more gravestone in the cemetery of its cooled ardors.

Jingo

Of course, Jingo — being an optimist from the word go — doesn't put much stock in the rumors of the Braves becoming an attraction of Atlanta. He's been wrong before and very likely will be again, but there's always a chance that he'll be right too.

One of the characteristics of Milwaukee's attempt to be big time is its extravagant reception of each new development. Jingo dates himself when he recalls Milwaukee's latter day boxing glory, but the squared ring used to pack the old auditorium Not any more, of course.

The arena when it was new rocked with enthusiastic cage fans, but not any more; nor is there any stick and puck in the Cream City.

Pattern of Failure

Is baseball to follow? The pattern is there. Braves tickets were worth their weight in platinum—once. Jingo's trip to County Stadium this season was a pleasant one It almost was like a family affair, relatively speaking, with only some 11,000 other fans there

Jingo doesn't want to work a jinx, but the facts are in and it looks as if Milwaukee has received another new attraction with its customary starting enthusiasm.

Despite a road strewn with blown-down and beat-up tents of the past, the Melody Top of Chicago moved into Milwaukee and set up a blow-down-proof tent and named it the Milwaukee Melody Top and put Bill Rach in as producer.

The Top staged a season of six musical comedies, each starring big names and grossed an estimated $396,000 on an investment of $185,000 giving the backers something like a dividend of 10 per cent

How They Grossed

The big grosser was "Bye, Bye Birdie" starring Van Johnson which brought in $75,912 and played to 25,445 people in two weeks Jaye P Morgan in "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" played to 23,626 and grossed $70,141 Dennis Day in a run that was interrupted by the death of his brother grossed $64,489 playing to 22 130 in "Brigadoon" The rest of the season included Gordon and Sheila MacRae in "Guys and Dolls," Forrest Tucker in "The Music Man" and Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt in "Vagabond King"

The stars took $65,000 in salaries and the orchestra of local musicians took $18,500 while the rest of the company got $150,000 The state and federal government profited by $37,750

Elmer Regner, general manager, is quite sanguinary about the next season since there is considerable interest evinced in inquiries for seats. He forecasts a jump from 72 per cent of last year to 85 and 90 per cent of capacity in 1964.

He may be right, but what about 1965? Milwaukee cools quickly.

Arthur Godfrey, Radio and TV star, is all smiles as he gets the knack of hand harvesting cranberries with an old-fashioned scoop at the Bay View cranberry bog in Hyannis, Mass. Godfrey made the trip to the Cape Cod area to make an inspection tour of the harvesting, both by hand and machines, and the processing of the annual crop. (AP Wirephoto)

Ballet Sequences, but No Singing Planned For Broadway Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Rumer Godden's novel, "A Candle for St Jude," is being adapted for unusual staging on Broadway by John Patrick, winner of a Pulitzer prize for the play version of "Teahouse of the August Moon."

The show, on David Merrick's production agenda, will utilize a full orchestra and include ballet sequences but not have any singing. The story concerns the director of a dance school.

Announcing Plymouth and Valiant for 1964

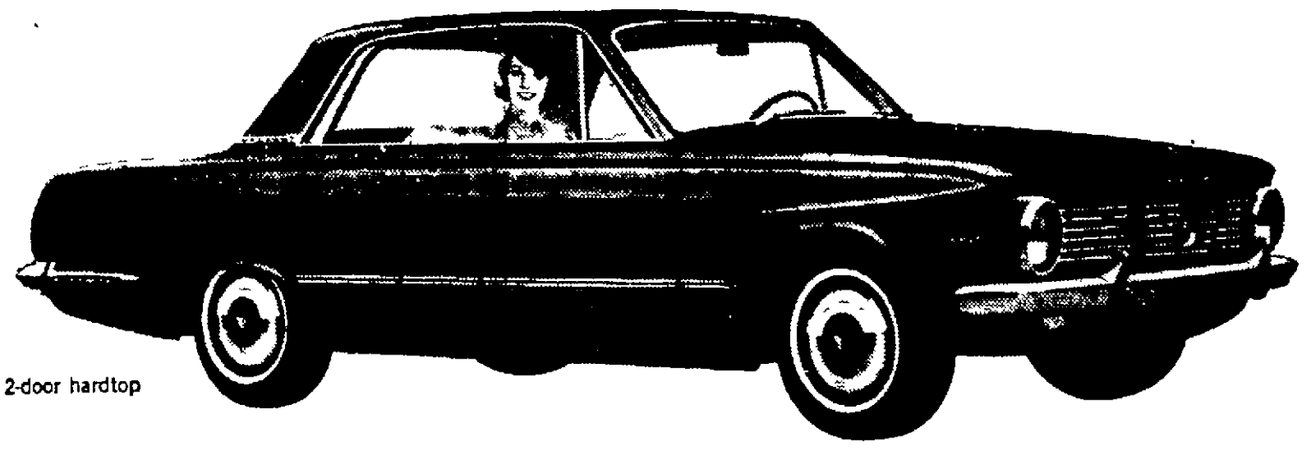

Sport Fury 2-door hardtop

This good-looking 1964 Plymouth really gets up and goes and has a 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* to keep it going that way.

This is the handsome full-size Plymouth for 1964. A few slow circles around it reveal the clean, simple, strong shape of the modern Plymouth. Newness is immediately apparent from the front, back, and profile, especially the new 2-door hardtop roofline shown above. Inside the car, more new beauty, and fabric strength to preserve that beauty. Then there is the special way this car performs. Thousands of laps around the Proving Grounds show that the 1964 Plymouth is quick, alert, vigorous—a sure bet to maintain Plymouth's performance superiority of the past two years. And there's the 5-year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty* that backs up the performance of all 26 models of Plymouth for 1964. In other words, if this is the year you picked to buy a new car, you picked a beautiful year to

Signet 200 2-door hardtop

This smart-looking 1964 Valiant is a hummer in its own right and it's the low-priced compact with a 5-year/50,000-mile warranty.*

It would take an awful lot of compact to top Valiant/64 style. Take styling. The new Valiant is newest coming at you, with its completely redesigned grille. Valiant presents a new rear view, too, to admiring followers. All around the car, there is more charm than compacts are supposed to have. Take performance. The new Valiant's standard 101-hp engine is where the word "hummer" comes from; its optional 225-cu.-in. engine is where the word "good-bye" comes from. Take quality. A 5-year/50,000-mile warranty guards the performance of each new Valiant.* Low price is the new Valiant's wrapper-upper. You could do a lot of looking around and never come up with a better value. It's at the same place you'll find the new 1964 Plymouth . . . at your nearby Plymouth-Valiant Dealer's.

Lawrence Says

Mourning of Bomb Victims May be Useful

Better Understanding Among Races Might Result From Event

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy has been asked by members of Congress to proclaim soon a day of mourning for the four Negro children killed in the bombing of a church in Birmingham last Sunday. This is a step that would emphasize the nation's profound regret that such a tragedy could have happened.

Lawrence

It would, however, be fitting if the President also asked the American people to mourn for all the victims — white and Negro — who have died as a result of racial disturbances in recent months.

The records show that, in the space of a few months, deaths of four whites as well as nine Negroes, or a total of 13 persons, have occurred. As yet, no one has been convicted in any of these cases.

There have been 21 bombings in Birmingham alone in the past eight years, but the one last Sunday was the first in which anyone was killed. This has given rise to the theory that the dynamiting was intended primarily to terrorize, because in every church bombing except the last the bombs exploded either before or after services. A news dispatch from Birmingham says that some white leaders have accused Negroes of being responsible for the bombings to gain national attention for their cause.

Public Officials Mentioned

But thus far the American people have no way to fix the responsibility for these bombings. There has been a lot of loose talk — some of it bordering on libel — mentioning certain public officials as "responsible" for the murder of children at the Birmingham church.

The killings in recent months have occurred under differing circumstances but usually in connection with "demonstrations" or riots, thus raising the question as to whether public demonstrations under highly emotional circumstances are really useful. Protests at public meetings gain publicity just the same as street "demonstrations," but it is the latter which become provocative because there are still many citizens who do not understand the right of petition and resent the expression of views with which they don't agree.

But, in order to introduce a spirit of mutual understanding and in the hope that the processes of reason will be substituted for violence and threats of violence, a day of mourning proclaimed nationally by the President could have constructive results. Every family — both white and Negro — which has suffered a loss deserves the sympathy and compassion of the nation. In the news dispatches for the last 12 months, the following deaths have been noted

WHITES

Sept. 30, 1963 — French newsman Paul Guihard and television repairman Walter R. Gunter, of Oxford, Miss., slain during riot that accompanied the forced enrollment of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi. Unsolved.

April 23, 1963 — Baltimore postman William L. Moore shot to death near Gadsden, Ala., while staging a one - man "freedom walk" to deliver letter to Governor Barnett of Mississippi, urging racial moderation. The Etowah county grand jury refused on Sept. 13 to indict Floyd L. Simpson, 40, arrested in connection with the crime two days after Moore was killed.

June 6, 1963 — Fred Link, 24, automobile mechanic, killed by a rifle bullet fired into a crowd of whites during a riot at Lexington, N.C. Three Negroes have been charged with his death.

NEGROES

June 13, 1963 — Civil rights leader Medgar Evers, 37, shot from ambush in driveway of home at Jackson, Miss. A white man, Byron Beckwith, has been charged, and is being held in jail.

Aug. 10, 1963 — Serina Taylor, 14, killed at Jersey City, N.J., by a shotgun blast fired by white man. One white charged with murder, a second with assault with intent to kill. Incident grew out of earlier argument between seven or eight whites and a group of Negro youths, and about half-hour later two of the whites returned to scene in a car and fired shotguns at random. Girl killed as she stood on steps of house talking to friends.

Sept. 4, 1963 — John D. Coley, 20, killed by bullet in the neck during rioting that broke out in Birmingham after home of Negro attorney Arthur Shores was bombed for second time in two weeks. Not determined who fired bullet that killed him.

Four Girls Killed

Sept. 15, 1963 — Four Negro girls — Cynthia Wesley, 14, Denise McNair, 11, Carol Robertson, 14, Addie Mae Collins, 14 — killed by bomb blast in 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham. Johnny Robinson, 16, died from shotgun wound inflicted by a policeman when he ignored police orders to stop throwing rocks at whites' cars during the disorder that followed church bombing. Virgil Wade, 13, was killed while riding bicycle just outside Birmingham, and two white youths charged with the shooting — Michael Lee Farley, 16, and Larry Joe Sims, 16 — signed statements admitting firing the shots.

In addition to the above, Dennis Earl Robinson, 16, white, is still in a critical condition in a Birmingham hospital. He was hit by a rock thrown by a Negro boy in the violence that followed the bombing on Sept. 15.

There have also been many whites and Negroes injured during these disorders, but not critically. All these victims might well be remembered on the day of mourning proclaimed by the President.

'Channing' Proves Dull

Same Old Dr. Casey Back; 'Price Is Right' Plushier Than Ever

NEW YORK (AP)—"Channing" ABC's new Wednesday night dramatic series may sound like the name of a Western but is a fictional university around which the stories are to be built.

Viewers who tuned in Wednesday night expecting to watch freshmen stuffing phone booths or the quarterback making a last-minute touchdown had a surprise.

Most of the premiere show took place in the death row and visiting room of a state prison. What little college atmosphere shown was strictly coincidental. But despite the iron bars and the hyperthyroid acting of guest star John Cassavetes playing a convicted murderer, the opening show was dawn-moaning, talkity and over loaded with fuzzy philosophy.

A young professor of English—the role assumed for the run of the show by Jason Evers—received a manuscript written in prison by the killer, is vastly impressed and then proceeds to become interested in the man and his fate.

The professor got almost hysterical because the killer of an old lady during a holdup was going to the gas chamber. The show, however, was not exactly a preachment against capital punishment. In fact, its hard to say exactly what point it was making. At any rate, "Channing" was not very interesting to watch.

'Price Is Right'

"The Price Is Right" started its first season on ABC Wednesday night with an expensive splash. This reinforces earlier suspicions that the era of modest rewards in game and panel shows is almost over.

"Ben Casey" came back from a summer holiday and nothing seems to have changed around the hospital.

The excitement of the opening show was an operation on a fellow with a radioactive pellet lodged somewhere. Ben seemed more worried about the exposure on the staff than the patient for a change.

'Patty Duke Show'

The new "Patty Duke Show" also on ABC, may not win that able young actress any new performing awards but as a comedy about a modern teen-ager it may amuse teen-agers—and maybe even teen-agers' parents.

Braves Defeat Giants, 6 to 4, Before 3,865

Milwaukee Battles From Behind to Snap Loss Streak at 8

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"Finally, finally, finally. . ."

That was Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan's initial comment Wednesday after the Braves snapped an eight-game losing streak by defeating the San Francisco Giants 6-4 before a small crowd of 3,865 paid at County Stadium.

"Anyone would think our pitching was too good for us to go through eight games without winning," Bragan said. "You'd think one of our fellows would come up with a shutout. But that has been our trouble all season—inconsistency. Win two, lose two and so forth."

The Braves spotted the Giants a 3-1 lead and bounced back with two runs in the seventh and three in the eighth to move up to fifth place, a half game behind Philadelphia, in the chase for a bigger share of World Series money.

Milwaukee starter Bob Sadowski allowed only five hits in seven innings, but was lifted for a pinchhitter in the last of the seventh when the Braves managed to tie the count.

Scored in First

After the Braves scored in the first on singles by Len Gabrielson and Hank Aaron and an error, Willie Mays belted his 36th homer for the Giants in the second.

San Francisco added single runs in the fifth and sixth. Then manager Alvin Dark lifted starter Jack Sanford for a pinchhitter in the top of the seventh, apparently figuring the big righthander was wilting in the 83-degree weather.

The strategy backfired. The Braves erupted for two runs in their half of the inning on singles by Roy McMillan and pinchhitter Don Dillard, an infield out and Aaron's double to left center.

A single by Joe Torre, a walk, McMillan's two-run double and a single by Ty Cline provided the three runs in the eighth.

Bob Shaw took over for Sadowski in the eighth and was credited with his seventh victory against 11 setbacks. Shaw surrendered a run in the ninth on a questionable call of a hit down the right field foul line and a pop fly double, but worked his way out of the jam.

The Braves enjoyed a day of rest today before heading for Chicago and the opener of a three-game series Friday. They return to Milwaukee next week to complete the 1963 schedule with two games against Cincinnati and three with the Cubs.

BATTING — Dick Nen, Dodgers made first major league hit a homer in ninth inning that pulled Los Angeles into 5-5 tie against St. Louis.

When the Lawrence College football team opens its 1963 season at home Saturday against St. Olaf, Dennis Koskelin, left, will be at quarterback, and Tim Knabe will be at right halfback. The teams, both of whom are considered Midwest Conference title contenders, meet at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Whiting Field.

League leading Los Angeles Dodgers crushed St. Louis' pannant hopes by edging the second-place Cardinals 6-5 in 13 innings Wednesday night.

A 23-year-old left-handed swinger, Nen was in Oklahoma City Tuesday playing for Spokane in the Pacific Coast League playoffs. With that ended, he was called up to the Dodgers and joined the club in St. Louis just before the finale of the three-game series between the contenders.

First Hit in Majors

When the Dodgers got involved in a late-inning shuffle, Nen wound up playing first base. He came up in the ninth inning with the Dodgers trailing 5-4 and immediately collected his first major league hit — a home run that tied the score.

The Dodgers went on to win in the 13th with the help of a two-base throwing error by Julian Javier as relief ace Ron Perranoski got credit for the victory that dropped the Cardinals four games behind and virtually out of the running.

"Nervous?" Nen exclaimed in answer to a question as reporters gathered around in the Dodgers dressing room. "I was scared stiff. I had no idea I'd be called upon."

Nen, who has averaged only one homer every 17 games in the PCL,

Saturday's Game:
Appleton at South (1:30 p.m.)

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

If the collective opinion of Fox Valley sportswriters proves accurate, the most important game of the Fox River Valley Conference football season will be played on the opening weekend.

Appleton High School and Sheboygan South, who have been rated the top two teams in the conference, will clash at 1:30 p.m. Saturday on Sheboygan's Urban Field.

The Terrors have not won a title since 1957, but their lettermen (16- the most in the league) and goodly number of returning regulars (five on offense and six on defense) caught the eyes of the scribes. AHS received five votes for first, two for second and one for third—for a cumulative point total of 12.

Aura of Mystery

Defending champion South, with a 14-game winning streak to protect, was voted second by three writers, third by three and fourth by two—for a point total of 23.

The team surrounded by the greatest aura of mystery is Oshkosh—with votes ranging from first to sixth. The Indians got almost as many first-place votes as AHS—three of them—but also picked up one ballot for third, one for fourth, one for fifth and two for sixth. The unexpected second-division ratings by three writers came in the face of a 9-7 non-conference win over traditionally strong Madison East.

Oshkosh has the best schedule break of any contender—playing its first three games against North, East and Manitowoc, all of whom have been tabbed for the second division.

Close behind Oshkosh's point total of 27 is Green Bay West, with 28. The Wildcats, whose domination of the FRVC ended last year, were ranked second twice, third twice, fourth thrice and sixth once.

Second - division ratings were given Green Bay East (38 points), Manitowoc (45), North (53) and Fond du Lac (63). East garnered one vote as high as second place. Fond du Lac came within one vote of a unanimous pick for last place.

Prospects for 1963 in brief:

Foxes Meet Northwestern Preps Saturday

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fresh from its first victory of the season, Fox Valley Lutheran High School runs into one of the major obstacles on the 1963 schedule when the Northwestern Watertown Preps invade the Foxes field at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Northwestern "11" is expected to be one of the strongest squads the Foxes will have to face this campaign.

Coach Dave Umnus has a revenge motive going for his team. The only setback the Foxes suffered in seven games last season was to the Northwestern squad. The Preps scored a 26-0 victory with a strong ground attack that piled up 227 yards to only 62 for the Foxes.

Close First Half

In last year's game, the Foxes held the Preps in check in the first half and were trailing only 7-0 at the intermission. However, the Watertown club came back with a touchdown in the third quarter and then added a pair of clinchers in the final stanza.

The Foxes have split their two games so far. In the season opener, FVL dropped a narrow 13-6 decision to Weyauwega, defending champion of the Central Wisconsin Conference. The deciding touchdown was scored with 19 seconds left in the game.

Financial Pressure Brings Big Decision For Owners of Braves

Reports Persist That Milwaukee Is Going to Atlanta

BY DAVE O'HARA

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves' "Miracle" is faced with a "Bust" ending and community leaders are feeling the pinch of a shoe on the wrong foot.

Eleven years ago, Milwaukee lured the Braves from Boston by presenting owner Lou Perini an ultimatum: move or we'll get another club. Now Milwaukee is threatened with loss of its major league baseball franchise.

A syndicate of young businessmen, headed by Bill Bartholomay, purchased the Braves from Perini for $5.5 million last fall. Although financially independent as individuals, the new owners borrowed most of the purchase money.

Now financial pressure has been applied on Bartholomay and his partners. As Milwaukee attendance dwindles, they are faced with a tremendous decision. Other cities, especially Atlanta and San Diego, are making fabulous offers to get the Braves.

The Braves were welcomed with open arms when they came to Milwaukee. Players and club officials were showered with gifts and hailed by baseball fans hungry for major league status.

The Braves drew 1,826,937 fans in their first season at County Stadium. They attracted more than two million in each of the next four years, hitting 2,215,004 while winning the National League pennant in 1957.

Milwaukee repeated as league champion in 1958, but attendance slipped to 1,971,101. Home turnouts have fallen off ever since. Last year only 766,927 paid admissions were recorded and, with only five home dates left this season, the count is 30,000 behind that low total.

Bartholomay says he can't "imagine" the Braves playing outside Milwaukee. John McHale, club president and general manager as well as an owner, says only that any decision must be made by the board of directors.

Meanwhile, reports persist that

Hawks Duel Chuters in FVCC Opener

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

It's becoming more and more apparent that Xavier's powerful Hawks are hatching up another brood of prospective Fox Valley Catholic Conference champions.

Coach Gene "Torchy" Clark is preparing the Hawks for another swoop on its prey — this time Little Chute St. John — at Goodland Field. Kickoff time for the league opened will be 8 p.m. Friday.

Xavier has ripped through Rhinelander and Stevens Point Pacelli lines for distances amounting to 482 yards. The Hawks have added another 194 yards by completing 10 of 16 aerials.

Friday night, the brood runs into a St. John team that is one of the smallest in a number of years. It is small, not only in size, but also in experience. Only one senior letterman is returning from last year.

The small stature in both cate-

Team Bent on Vindication

Dodger Clubhouse Wildly Joyous, Chokeup Taunts Are Put to Rest

BY JOE REICHLER

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The triumphant Dodgers today had finally laid to rest the chokeup charge that has followed them since they lost the 1962 National League pennant to San Francisco.

Walter Alston's vindication-bent Los Angeles club all but buried valiant St. Louis' pennant hopes in Busch Stadium Wednesday night with a gritty come-from-behind 6-5 victory in 13 innings that left 25,975 Redbird rooters stunned and speechless.

The dramatic victory gave the Dodgers a sweep of the three-game series and boosted their first place lead over the Cards to four games.

The team that had to listen to such cruel taunts as "choke up artists" and "quitters" heard nothing but praise as they left for Los Angeles where they need to win only five of their nine remaining games to earn the right to meet the New York Yankees in the World Series.

Defiant Group

It was a wildly joyous and defiant group of Dodgers who whooped it up in the clubhouse. They cheered Ron Perranoski, whose brilliant pitching through six runless relief innings kept the Dodgers in the game.

They lauded Tommy Davis, who got the key hit, a two-run single, in a three-run eighth inning that closed the Cardinal gap to 5-4. They hugged Willie Davis who ignited the winning rally in the 13th with a single and embraced Maury Wills who drove Willie home with the winning run.

"There isn't a guttier team in baseball," shouted Don Drysdale, the team's ace right-hander who earlier had vowed to make the choke-up critics eat their words.

"After this performance, we deserve to represent the National League in the World Series," said Johnny Podres, the pitching hero of the Dodgers' first victory of the series here.

"All this choke-up talk just made us that much more determined to win it," snapped Wally Moon.

"The idea that a professional athlete chokes up makes me furious," added the team's player representative. "They wouldn't be in the big leagues if they did that."

Appeared Beaten

The Dodgers appeared beaten as they faced Bob Gibson in the eighth inning, trailing 5-1. The Cards' ace right-hander, throughout the game, had permitted only four hits while striking out nine.

Then the Dodgers went to work. Hits by Wills, Jim Gilliam and Tommy Davis, with a walk to Moon and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis sent Gibson to the showers and trimmed the Cards' margin to 5-4.

With one out in the ninth, Dick Nen, who had joined the Dodgers from their Spokane farm club only eight hours before game time, stroked a home run against relief pitcher Ron Taylor. That tied the score at 5-5.

The game's most dramatic moment came in the Cards' half of the 10th. Perranoski, working in his 65th game for the Dodgers, had already pitched two shutout

NOTES and NOTIONS

John L. Faustin

After a somewhat encouraging start (16 of 21 for 76.2 per cent) last week, we're ready to attempt a squint into the future for another set of grid predictions. Several additional toughies are on the agenda with the opening of some collegiate schedules.

PACKERS OVER LIONS — Detroit was high for the Packers last Thanksgiving Day — and it paid off. The Bears were way up for the Bays last Sunday — and it paid off. Now it's the Packers' turn. Not only have they a score to settle with the Lions, but they're anxious to erase the impression created at City Stadium last Sunday. It should be one of the "games of the year," because the Lions are a bruising crew, indeed. But, unless I miss my guess, the Packers will play as they've played at no time since last December.

WISCONSIN OVER WESTERN MICHIGAN — It may take a quarter or two, but the Badgers will ride herd on the Broncos. There's not much difference in weight between the teams, but the UW has too much experience and class. With Notre Dame coming up next weekend, the Badgers will take advantage of this opportunity to sharpen up.

LAWRENCE OVER St. OLAF — These teams have no time for preliminaries. This opening-day offering appears to be one of the Midwest Conference's "main events" for the entire season. Lawrence has the depth and experience it takes to be a bonafide contender — and the home-field advantage could be the factor that puts the game in the Vikes' column.

South Over Appleton — This has all the earmarks of a toss-up, but the home field could give the Redmen a thin edge. The breaks could decide this battle between an improved Terror team with ambitions to end a 5-year title drought, and a South team riding the crest of a winning streak and reluctant to surrender the titular glory attained last year.

Xavier over St. John — The Hawks have a howitzer, Rocky Bleier, and a number of other big guns as they open their title defense The determined Chuters may be on their way back, and they could make it interesting.

Northwestern Preps over Fox Lutheran — The Foxes will go all out to avenge last year's setback, but the effort may fall a bit short against the strong invaders.

Neenah over Two Rivers — The Rockets got off the ground after a sputtering first half last weekend, and they should continue to fly high against the Raiders.

Kaukauna over New London — In an effort to make amends for last week's surprise loss to Sheboygan North as well as a desire to end their almost-unheard-of (for Kaukauna) losing streak of five games, the Ghosts will be hard to handle. The speedy Bulldogs, however, are capable of adding another win to the one they scored over Mosinee last weekend and the surprise they handed the Ghosts last year.

Clintonville over Menasha — Unless their 45-6 win over Merrill was over a weaker-than-expected team last week, the Truckers should be a top-flight title contender.

Kimberly over Shawano — This could be close, but the Papermakers have the size and the passing to turn the trick.

Pennings over St. Mary — This is another of the host of tight games which seem to be imminent this weekend The DePere school has played one more game than the Zephyrs and may be a trifle sharper at this stage.

Other FRVC Games — Oshkosh over North, West over Manitowoc, East over Fond du Lac.

Other FVCC Games — Premontre over Springs, Marinette over Lourdes.

Other MC Games — Ripon over Grinnell, Coe over Carleton, Cornell over Monmouth, Beloit over Knox.

Other Games — Wittenberg over Marion, Waupaca over Manawa, Bonduel over Weyauwega, Wautoma over Iola-Scandinavia, Chilton over Kiel, Brillion over Sheboygan Falls, Winneconne over Hilbert, Freedom over Wrightstown, Omro over Reedsville, Denmark over Shiocton.

No honor scores were recorded in the Women's National League at the 41 Bowl on Tuesday night

Ace Floors and Peoples Credit top the Women's National standings with 5-1 records.

Fights and Vandalism

Milwaukee Conference Will Play All Afternoon Games

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Because of fights and vandalism following games last week, the Milwaukee City High School Athletic Conference voted Wednesday to shift all night football games for the remainder of the 1963 season to Saturday afternoon.

Alvin Westgaard, assistant school superintendent, said that police and public transportation officials "expressed deep concern, as have many parents and other citizens over the incidents. It was generally agreed that if the incidents were related to night games, as we believe, that an immediate switch to day games would provide a logical solution.",

Westgaard said there was no intention of abandoning football.

The conference has played night football since 1932 With the switch, it will be necessary to play doubleheaders at two stadiums and single games at two other fields.

Harold S. Vincent, superintendent of schools, who had joined in recommending the change said the decision to ban night games was made because officials were worried about what might happen in the future. The principals of the city high schools sought the change because they were concerned for the safety of student spectators in incidents after the games.

Bowling Tips

Hook Best? Not Always

"Susie is going to be a great bowler! You should see how she makes the ball curve!" How often this is heard And how untrue! The bowler in today's illustration is about to throw a curve, for her thumb is turned well to the left at release innings, but Dick Groat led off the 10th with a triple to right center.

The effectiveness of a curve ball is greatly exaggerated. A gentle hook is much better, and a straight ball will bring good results for the average bowler.

Purposely Walked

Working with the same calmness and effectiveness that had earned him 15 victories and 18 saves this year, the southpaw relief artist struck out Gary Kolb, purposely walked the dangerous Ken Boyer and Bill White to fill the bases, then disposed of the next two batters without permitting Groat to score.

"Alston came out to talk to me," Perranoski explained later. "I told him I wanted to pitch to Kolb because I felt I could strike him out.

"I started him off with a curve on the outside corner. Then he swung at a bad pitch and I got him with another curve."

Curt Flood was the hitter now with the bases jammed following the intentional passes to Boyer and White.

"I knew I had to make Flood hit the ball on the ground," said Perranoski. "I started him off with a breaking pitch for a called strike. Then I jammed him all the way until I got him to hit my pitch. It was a ground ball and Wills threw Groat out at the plate.

"Now I had to get Mike Shannon, the next hitter. I know he is a good fast ball hitter so I threw him a sinker on the outside. He tried to pull it and hit a grounder to Jim Gilliam at third. Jim got him on a great play."

Sharing the center of the stage with Perranoski in the Dodger clubhouse was Nen, a 23-year-old left-handed hitting first baseman from Wilmington, Calif., who only two years ago was playing at Reno, Nev

Was Scared Stiff

"I was scared stiff when Mr. Alston told me to go in as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning," the tall, dark haired youngster admitted. "I had no idea I'd play. I just figured I'd sit around."

Nen lined out to right field in his first time at bat in the majors, but in the ninth he slammed a low inside fast ball by Taylor over the right field screen for the game tying home run.

"I knew I hit it good," he said. "But I had no idea it was going out until I saw the umpire signal a home run. It was a strange feeling."

Nen was signed out of Harbor Jr. College in California in 1961 for what he said was a "small bonus" by Kenny Myers, the same scout who discovered Willie Davis.

"Funny thing," said Nen, "I didn't hit much in the playoffs for the Pacific Coast League championship. I didn't get more than a couple of singles."

Nen batted 288 at Spokane with only nine home runs and 84 runs batted in.

"That was a great way to break in, wasn't it," said Drysdale.

"If I have my way, the kid's going to get a full cut of the World Series share

Liston 'Ashamed' to be Back in This Country

Refuses to Tell Newsmen What His 'Problems' Are

BY DON WILLIAMS

DENVER (AP) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, back home suddenly and mysteriously from a British exhibition boxing tour, says he is "ashamed to be in America."

But he doesn't say why, any more than he will explain what prompted him to break off his successful overseas swing and hop a jet flight home.

Asked why he was ashamed to be here, the world's champion said Wednesday night: "You ought to be able to figure that out."

And when asked whether it was financial or family matters that brought him back, he retorted "That's getting just plain nosey."

Liston left British boxing circles buzzing Wednesday with his sudden departure. A boxing writer for a London newspaper said the champion had a tiff with his adviser, Jack Nilon, who denied this was so. The Midlands inspector of the British Boxing Board of Control, William Cotterill, said Liston had accused him of "sending 'two broads' up to his room" but that he convinced the champion it wasn't true.

Mention of Daughter

Sonny himself said he was leaving because of the illness of his daughter, Eleanor, 12, at home in Denver. The mention of the girl was something new in itself It had not been known that Liston was a father.

At the Liston residence in northeast Denver, the champion's wife of nine years, Geraldine, said the girl is Liston's daughter—and her stepdaughter—and that the child was in good health and attended school Wednesday.

Nilon and Liston's sparring partner, Foneda Fox, made another swirl in the conflicting rumors stirred up by the champion's abrupt flight. They said Sonny had not one, but two daughters, and that the older one, Mary, is 17.

This would mean Liston fathered a child when he was about 13. He is now 29, according to Ring, the boxing magazine, or 30, according to Ben Bentley, his aide.

But Liston has offered no light on his age, his parental state, his relations with boxing associates and officials, or his reason for returning stateside.

The champion was slow rising from his seat after his jet landed at the Denver Airport. He made up for the delay by striding at a near-run down the loading ramp and into the concourse at the terminal. He swung a heavy black cane as he loped, and he treated reporters like a pack of unworthy contenders pestering him for a match.

No Word From Me

"Boy, you can't get no word from me," he told the first newsman to approach him.

Photographers puffed alongside and in front of him in the covered hallway leading to the terminal and their lights glinted from his shiny cane. He did not, however, raise the stick in a threatening way, as he had when a photographer snapped his picture at O'Hare Field in Chicago between planes on the trip home.

He stopped suddenly and announced:

"I'm ashamed to say that I'm in America"

But wasn't it the British with whom he was supposed to be angry?

"You should see the way they treated me," the champion replied. "It made me ashamed to be from America."

His only approach to an explanation of his return was:

"Well, I have problems."

It was a question about the nature of his problems that produced the remark about nosey reporters

Looks for Exit

Liston tried to find an exit in the heavy wire fence at the side of the concourse, about halfway from the loading ramp to the terminal building

An airlines employe, W. L. Angell, told him that wasn't the way out.

"You trying to kid me?" Liston demanded.

"You're damn right I'm not," said Angell

"You better watch your language there," Liston said thickly, turning down the walkway again.

Sonny ran the last several hundred feet across the parking area outside the terminal and caught a cab, leaving newsmen out of breath and the boxing world confused.

Carlos Ortiz KOs Philippines Champ in 7th

HONOLULU (AP)—World lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz made a punching bag out of Philippines champ Pete Acera Wednesday night, stopping him with a technical knockout in the seventh round of their non-title bout.

The Filipino from Mindanao never really had a chance. Referee Walter Cho halted the fight with Ortiz, the Puerto Rican from New York City, belaboring his game little opponent without return.

He weighed 138½ to Acera's 135¾.

FVL to Play Here Saturday

safety and intercepted a pair of passes.

This will be the season opener for Northwestern. The Preps have five linemen back from last year's team which held FVL scoreless Four lettermen backs also return, but none were starters last season

The Preps will have Jim Plitzuweit at quarterback, Paul Gurgel and Vern Wittig at halfbacks and John Guse at fullback. Of the returning linemen, John Cuut a 225-pound tackle, heads the list Other returnees are tackle Neil Schroeder, guard Howard Nehmer center Dave Kiecker and end Luther Lemke Newcomers to the starting squad for the Preps will include John Joeglein, end and Gary Pieper, guard.

Coach Umnus of the Foxes is hoping his new found passing attack built around Dahlke will be enough to compensate for the strong defense the Prep line is expected to have

Two Fox Lutheran players will have a special desire going for them Saturday. Halfback Wayne Koenig and quarterback-captain Bob Krueger both spent their freshmen years at Northwestern

On the other hand, Kiecker of Northwestern is a graduate of St Paul Lutheran Grade School here and is one of the most experienced men on the Watertown squad

Overall, this will be the fourth game in the series, and Watertown holds a 2-1 edge.

Orange Freeze and Tin Roof Teams Lead

There were no honor counts in the first week of action in the First English Lutheran Sunday Bowling League at Hahn's Lanes

The Tin Roof and Orange Freeze teams have 3-0 records to lead the loop.

Kilsdonk Hits 601 Series to Pace League

Jeri Cox slammed a 221 singleton, and Ceil Ashauer rolled a 512 series to share honors in a Kaukauna women's league at the Bowling Bar.

Other honor counts were hit by Evelyn Pendleton, 211, Ceil Ashauer, 194, Jeri Cox, 505, and Nancy Nettekoven, 209.

Bock, Rick Martinek, Mark Feltheim, "Chip" Taggart and Jim Bertachy. . . . Offensive returnees, besides Hietpas, are Ron Reick, Tom Callaway, Jim Mahlock and Tom Bauer. . . . Regular quarterback Chuck McKee handled team well in 20-0 win over Menasha and made the option play dangerous. He completed three passes, as did second-team QB Bock. Halfbacks Joe Bowers and Kent Kitzinger debuted well both on running plays and passing plays. . . . The Ade Dillon-coached Terrors have lighter team than in recent years but are more experienced than at the start of last season.

SOUTH—Coach Andy Anderson lost heavily from the No 1-rated public school team in the state, but the Redmen showed they're still mighty dangerous in a 21-13 win over Whitnall last Saturday. . . . Fullback Dick Yentz and tackle George Webster are the top returnees about six letterman. Others are end Jack Fessler, center Bill Banonse, halfbacks Don Bifano and Dave Mangan. The quarterbacks are Danny Dupler and Bill Bensman.

OSHKOSH — Halfback Mike Zuehlke and center Steve Scheuerman are the only returning starters from last year's second-place team . . . Myles Strasser, who gained 133 yards against Madison East, looks like the new bellwether of the offense . . . Other key players for Coach Harold Schumerth are end Jerome Kirkpatrick, tackle Jack McCarthy, guard Tony Ceelen, tackle Pat Schrage, linebacker Hal Malnory, sophomore defensive back Bruce Erickson (whose field goal beat East), and Tom Ambrose and quarterback Gary Scheuerman and Wayne Loots.

WEST—Wildcats have 10 lettermen including transfer Larry Mann from Green Bay East . . . Curt Saari, regular fullback last year, has been moved to guard . . . Mike Baye is a speedy halfback . . . the quarterback is Dave Farr . . . center Chuck Cole and end John Bioli, Jr., are other top prospects. . . . The team, coached by Biolo, Sr , held strong Premontre to a 1-touchdown win (13-6) despite apparent deficiencies in size and experience.

EAST—The 12-letterman squad is headed by tailback Bob Duca and big ends Tom Rein (6-5) and Pat Harrington (6-4) . . . Soph quarterback Larry Ebert may be a starter. . . . Offense looks better than defense at this stage for the Al Mancheski-coached team

MANITOWOC—New Coach John John Heineke, has 11 lettermen and bowed in with a 6-0 non-league win over Two Rivers . . . Halfback Pete Kramer, who made a long scoring run against the Raiders, heads the cast, along with quarterback Bill Prahl, halfback Art Herman, tackle Jerry Karbon and center Jay Weber. . . . Line is heavy but slow . . . Schedule seems to be against Shipbuilders — meeting West, South and Oshkosh in first three games.

NORTH—The Raiders could be a big surprise if their 12-6 win over Kaukauna is any criterion. New Coach Ron Niemann has 12 lettermen, including quarterback Dennis Ruppel, halfback Tory Buschman and guard Randy Becker. . . . Squad, at 30 players, depth may prove problem in case of injuries

FOND DU LAC — Russ Bruce, new head coach, has 11 lettermen, headed by end Doug Sosinske, quarterback Doug Terrill, fullback Keith Searl and fullback Stan DeRushe . . Sophs include John Zoelle, 1963 FRVC 100-yard dash champ . Opened 2 touchdown lead on Neenah before losing, 25-12

stories, however, didn't prevent the Dutchmen from giving a pretty good sized Kimberly Papermaker machine a good go last weekend before losing, 13-6

Coach Bill Fitzpatrick came up with a jitterbug defense which confused Kimberly blocking assignments. Offensively, the team came back from minus-2 yardage at the end of the half to lead both teams in net gains

Junior quarterback Mike Weyenberg (a lefthander) led a passing attack that completed 6 of 11 tosses for 114 yards Jay Van Thuel and Dave Van Vreede were the end targets

Putzer Sidelined

Xavier will be operating without their offensive fullback and linebacker Paul Putzer. Putzer suffered a blood clot in his leg in the Pacelli game and was released from the hospital only Thursday

Clark admits now that his team is starting to come but says the pressure of winning is building up after each victory in the streak The Hawks will go after their 25th straight win tomorrow night

In addition to Putzer, Clark expects Jim Pegel to be out of the contest due to illness this week Colin Smith would move to Pegel's end spot on defense and Paul Springer would move in as a linebacker

Springer is also Putzer's replacement at fullback while Mike Moder would take Pegel's offensive guard post

The greatest Hawk gainer, Bob "Rocky" Bleier, has 273 yards on 31 carries for an 8 8-yard average

Official Says Braves Aren't 'Committed'

the Braves already are committed to Atlanta for the opening of the 1964 season. A lucrative radio-TV contract reportedly has been offered. The Atlanta group also reportedly would take over the Braves' mortgage for a period of time without interest. Reports in Milwaukee place the present interest on loans as high as $375,000 a year.

No Commitment

The Braves officially say that no commitment has been made Their stand has caused Gov John W Reynolds to threaten to seek congressional investigation if the club moves. And County Officials have stated they will go into court to try and force the Braves to stay in Milwaukee under a three-year stadium rental contract which runs through 1965

McHale met with county executive John Doyne for an hour and a half Wednesday. McHale said the meeting was merely to provide Doyne information on what the Braves need to "break even" in Milwaukee.

Doyne said that Milwaukee must "take serious action" if the Braves are to stay here. The county's top official said the picture was "gloomy" unless at least 9,000 season tickets are sold and proposed a promotional drive to sell 10,000.

The Braves sold more than 12,000 season tickets in their top years, but the number in 1963 fell off to 3,800

Doyne also said that a radio-television package of $1,240,000 must be sold. McHale later emphasized that was the total cost of radio-TV rights and that the Braves would be willing to accept the same net of $625,000 they received this season.

McHale called Doyne's proposal "an admirable offer—a herculean task, but not insurmountable." However, he reiterated statements that the Braves "have no commitments anywhere except to finish out the season"

Asked directly whether the Braves would go to Atlanta, McHale replied "I can only say what I've said before, that it will not be my decision alone"

He added that the board of directors will meet soon to review all offers made for the Braves' franchise

Grid Cards Sign Mal Hammack

ST. LOUIS. (AP) — The St Louis Football Cardinals announced Wednesday they have signed Mal Hammack as a free agent

Hammack, a fullback, was recently released by the Dallas Cowboys in their final player cut. He has joined the Cardinals and will dress for Sunday's game with the Eagles at Philadelphia

The Cardinals were down to four running backs, with John David Crow and Prentice Gautt on the inactive list because of injuries

Hammack was a former Cardinal He was traded during the off-season last year to the Cowboys

Vanderhyden Leaves MU '5'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette lost its second basketball letterman in a week when senior guard Pete Vanderhyden of Menasha told Coach Ed Hickey Wednesday he will have to work to support his family Vanderhyden was married last fall and recently became a father

Words Often Misused: Do not say, "Much work still remains to be done." "Still" is redundant, and should be omitted.

Often Mispronounced: Sumptuous. Pronounce sump - tyu-uss, in THREE syllables, and not "sum-chuss."

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's Word: plenary; complete; fully attended; entire. (Pronounce plee-na-ri, accent first syllable). "A plenary session was called to vote on certain vital issues."

Dodgers Beat Cards, Lead By 4 Games

said he hit a fast ball, low and inside.

"I knew I hit it good, but I had no idea it was a home run until I saw the umpire give the home run sign.

"It was a strange feeling."

The loss left the Cardinals with the almost impossible task of making up five games in the loss column with only seven games remaining. The Dodgers, meanwhile, will return home to close out the season with a nine-game stand.

Cubs Edge Pirates

In other NL action Wednesday, Philadelphia belted the New York Mets 5-1 in the last baseball game to be played at the Polo Grounds, Milwaukee defeated San Francisco 6-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and Houston walloped Cincinnati 8-4.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from Boston 8-3 and 4-3 Camilo Pascual pitched a two-hitter as Minnesota crushed Detroit 10-0, Kansas City edged Washington 5-4 and Baltimore took two from the Los Angeles Angels 3-1 and 7-5, with Steve Barber becoming a 20-game winner in the opener.

The Cardinals built a 5-1 lead on a two-run homer by Charley James in the second inning off Pete Richert and a three-run third inning capped by Curt Flood's two-run double. Cardinal starter Bob Gibson took the lead and a four-hitter into the eighth.

A two-run single by Tommy Davis and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis brought the Dodgers to within one run, then Nen tied it in the ninth.

Burdette Loses

Perranoski, 16-3, took over in the eighth and checked the Cardinals on three hits until the Dodgers finally broke through against Lew Burdette, 9-12, in the 13th on a single by Willie Davis, the throwing error by Javier, who stumbled as he fielded Dick Tracewski's grounder, and a grounder by Wills on which the speedy Davis sped home.

That was it. The Cardinals went down quietly in their half.

Perranoski "was great, just great," said happy Dodger Manager Walt Alston. "That's the way he's been all year. He's just the gol-darndest relief pitcher I ever saw."

Perranoski was making his 65th appearance.

As for the game, Alston said "This is the biggest win of the three here. Coming from behind the way we did must make this the biggest game of the year for the boys."

St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane, however, refused to admit defeat.

Asked if he believed in miracles, he replied:

"What do you mean by that?"

Another reporter asked, more pointedly, if the Dodger victory wrapped up the pennant. And Keane replied sharply:

"I'm tired of hearing that question. If I said 'yes,' I'd be giving up, and I'm as far from giving up as I am from the Indian Ocean."

In some of the other games:

41st Home Run

AL home run leader Dick Stuart hit his 41st homer for Boston in the opener, remaining one ahead of Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew, who connected in support of Pascual against the Tigers.

The Cubs edged the Pirates on a two-run, two-out homer by rookie Bill Cowan in the ninth inning after Joe Gibbon had allowed only four hits through eight innings.

Chuck McGinnis Fires 581 Series

Chuck McGinnis fired a 581 series to pace the Freedom Men's League Tuesday night.

VFW and Shorty's are tied for the top position in the team standings with 5-1 records.

Jim Ludwig banged a 257 and a 631 last week. Ray Diedrich added a 568.

Jimmy Brown Out to Regain Rushing Title

Norton Paces NFL Punters on 48.6 Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown is off and running after that rushing title he lost to Jim Taylor last year after leading the National Football League for five straight seasons.

Brown averaged 10.8 yards per carry in Cleveland's opening victory over Washington Sunday as he ran for 102 yards on 15 attempt, including an 80-yard gallop.

Brown may have a new challenger in Bill Triplett of the St. Louis Cardinals. Known as "Mel Triplett's little brother" since he was drafted by the New York Giants in December, 1961, Bill is a big boy now. He charged through the Dallas line for 82 yards on 12 carries for second place among the rushers. He also caught two passes for 51 yards. Not bad for a boy who wound up on defense last year.

"Triplett is strong and fast," said Coach Wally Lemm. "He not only is an outstanding football prospect but also is a fine defensive player."

Traded to St. Louis

The younger Triplett never played with the Giants where his brother starred in the late 1950s. He was traded to St. Louis in the deal that brought Ralph Guglielmi to New York before he even put on a Giant uniform.

The No. 3 boy among the rushers also is a newcomer to the high rankings. He is Lloyd Winston, a former Southern California back, who gained 81 yards in a losing cause for the San Francisco 49ers.

Incidentally, Taylor, the 1962 champ, ranks 10th with 53 yards.

Brown also took over the scoring lead with 18 points on three touchdowns, followed closely by teammate Lou (the Toe) Groza with 13 on three field goals and four conversions.

Y. A. Tittle got the New York Giants off to a fast start by completing 16 of 23 for 243 yards and three touchdowns, a performance that put him No. 1 among the passers in the complicated standings based on four categories. Frank Tarkenton of Minnesota, Frank Ryan of Cleveland and Sonny Jurgensen of Philadelphia followed Tittle.

Favorite Target

Tommy McDonald, Jurgensen's favorite Eagle target, topped the pass catchers with seven for 179 yards and two touchdowns. Buddy Dial of Pittsburgh also nabbed seven for 116 yards.

Jerry Norton, picked up by Green Bay from Dallas, led the punters with a 48.6 yard average. Brady Keys of Pittsburgh was first in punt returns with three for 79 yards and Abe Woodson of San Francisco topped the kickoff return crew with two for 120 yards, including a touchdown run of 103 yards. Night Train Lane of Detroit had two interceptions, best in that department.

Oshkosh '11' Faces UW-M

Unbeaten Carroll, St. Norbert Also Collide Saturday

Wisconsin's college football teams get down to the business of conference action this weekend in 12 games, eight of them championship activity.

The schedule lists five State College Conference games, and three in the Midwest Conference, which will be seeing its first activity.

Stevens Point, one of the favorites in the SCC, and River Falls will be seeking their second straight league victories, with the Pointers at Platteville and the Falcons at Superior. Platteville lost its only start in non-conference play and Superior has a 1-1 non-league mark.

Eau Claire, winner in a non-conference game, and SCC title favorite Whitewater, whipped 55-7 by Northern Illinois last weekend, play at Whitewater. La Crosse, beaten last week by St. Norbert, will be at Stout, loser last week to Stevens Point. Oshkosh and Wisconsin-Milwaukee will match 0-1 records at Milwaukee.

Carroll, of the College Conference of Illinois, entertains St. Norbert in a meeting of teams with 1-0 records. Independent Northland traves to St. Cloud of Minnesota.

Archie Moore Drops Second Decision at Polls

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Former light-heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore dropped his second decision in as many tries at the polls Tuesday, finishing fifth in a feld of six candidates in a City Council election.

The "old mongoose" got 2,166 votes of 15,728 cast in the race. Produce wholesaler Tom Horn got 3,977 votes to lead and will face the Rev. Grandison Phelps, a Negro minister, in a run-off in November.

Moore, who dropped his first outing at the polls in a 1960 State Assembly race, waged a vigorous one-man campaign for the council post.

Negro Voting in the South

In all the current furore over equal rights for Negroes, one of the most discouraging aspects for Negro leaders is the slow progress being made in registering more colored people to vote in southern states.

Negroes comprise roughly 35 per cent of the population in 10 former Confederate states. But it is estimated that only about 30 per cent of voting-age Negroes are registered in contrast to 60 per cent of the whites.

Despite the vigorous efforts of the Federal government, there are still various eligibility restrictions used to discourage Negro registration. One of the most potent is the fact that the registrars are whites. Negroes hesitate to appear before them. Many who are literate stammer when asked to read the words in literacy tests.

In New Orleans there are only 17 registration clerks, one for each parish. It takes an hour or so to register one voter. As one Negro leader put it: "At this rate it would take us 100 years to register all the eligible Negroes in the city."

Mississippi still invokes stiff registration tests, although they are under attack in the Federal courts. Registrants must be "of good moral character," must fill out a four-page form to perfection, and be able to read and interpret any one of the state constitution's 285 sections. A justice of the supreme court could fail that one, given a prejudiced registration clerk.

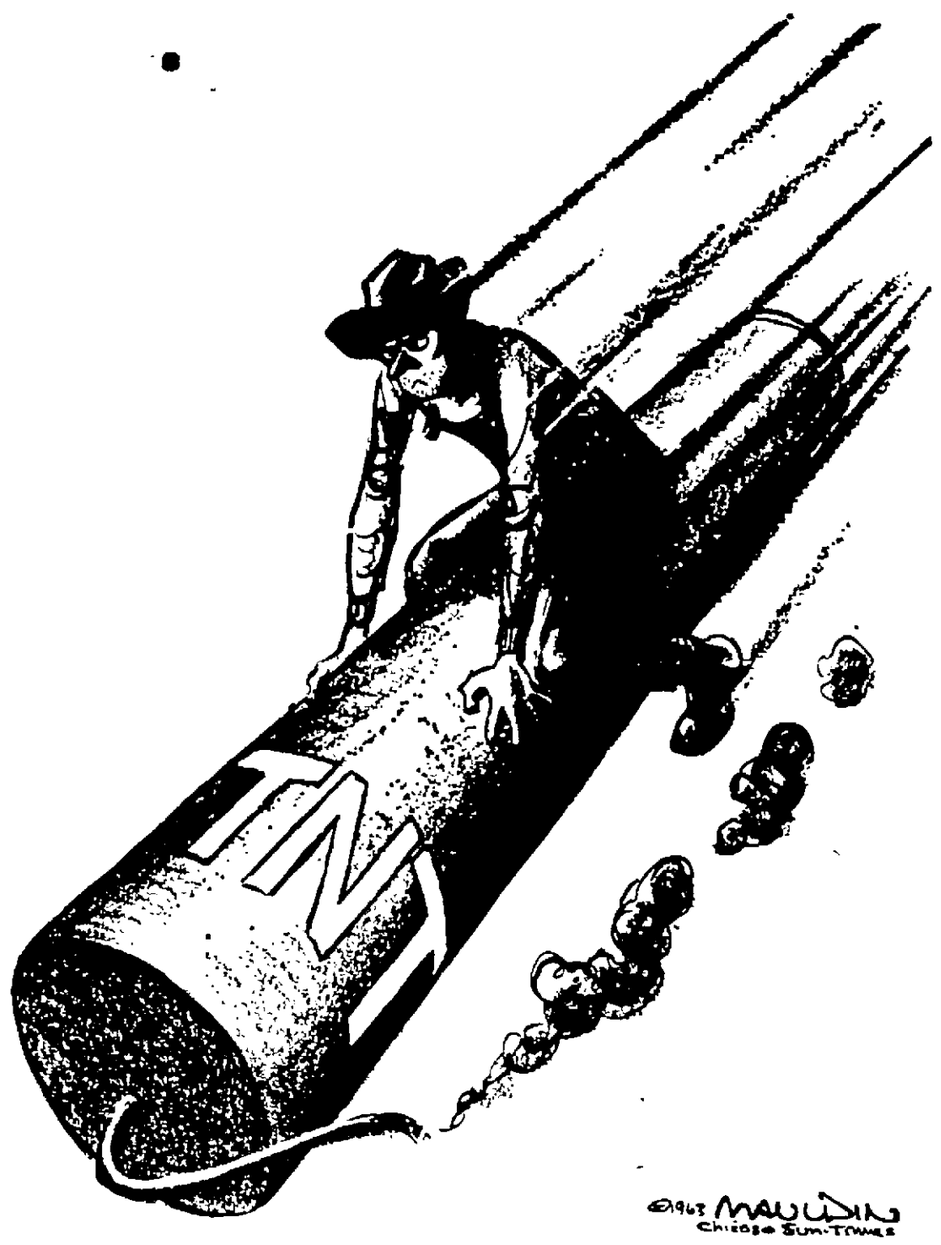

But the biggest handicap of all is apathy on the part of Negroes themselves. In some states like Texas requirements are simple. If registrants can't write they can sign with an X. But still there is no significant increase in the number of Negroes registered. In many cases as many are taken off the rolls for not voting in four consecutive elections as there are new voters added.

Apathy of Negroes toward voting and fear of being embarrassed by registration procedures are deeply rooted in Southern tradition. In a recently published study on Negro voter registration two University of North Carolina political scientists wrote:

"Southern Negroes overwhelmingly possess low social status, relatively small incomes and limited education received in inferior schools. These attitudes are associated with low voter turnouts among all populations. The low voting rate by Negroes in the South are, perhaps to a large extent, a result of these factors more than a consequence of direct political discrimination by the white community."

They concluded that "a large, active and effective Negro electorate in the South may have to await a substantial social and economic change."

The various demonstrations, riots and violence capture the headlines in the efforts of Negro organizations to achieve equal rights today. But what will be more effective in the long run is the quiet work such organizations do with their own people, one of the most important of which is to encourage Negroes to assume their responsibilities as citizens by registering and voting.

Tax-Finance Problems Everywhere

Among the generous quantities of published reports which reach the editorial desk regularly are the bulletins of the Council of State Governments, a kind of trade association which is probably a useful medium for the enlightenment of governors, legislators and others elected to discharge the business of the states.

Remembering the nearly frantic search for new tax sources that occupied most of the energies of our own legislature and governor during the first seven months of this year, there were some eye-catching items in the most recent bulletin about strikingly similar expedients in other state capitals.

The problem of accommodating the will or the ability of the taxpayer to the voraciously increasing demands of the public services is just about as difficult in most other states as it is here.

And the reactions of the politicians however reluctantly and worriedly, are just about the same. The state government story this year is a dreary litany of increasing levies upon reluctant constituencies, with warnings of even more onerous levies to come.

Here and there are exceptions, but a closer examination indicates that the reasons are not especially desirable, and probably are not suited for emulation. For example, some legislatures and governors have bequeathed the financing problem to those who will come after them, in the way of huge bond issues to be amortized over succeeding generations. While such financing is justified, and even advisable, for long-term capital expenditures, it is a dangerously evasive and costly expedient for current service financing which we are confident Wisconsin won't attempt — at least for a while.

The recent Wisconsin tax law incorporated a number of gimmicks and one-time expedients in which our politicians are unlikely to show any pride of authorship. There may be some slight excuse made for them, however, by noting that in other states the beleaguered statehouse leaders succumbed to the same temptation. There is an increasing tendency to call a new tax a "fee". In New York even as in Wisconsin, corporations were required to pre-pay their taxes, for a temporary budget gain to the state. In additional states cities were authorized to levy supplementary taxes, and in other cases the taxing powers of municipalities was expanded. In a few capitols the brakes were applied on local aids—which may be a harbinger of events in Wisconsin.

But the theme is consistent; people are being required to pay more for state and local services. It struck us that Wisconsin residents, whatever their view of recent happenings at Madison, might derive a slight crumb of comfort from the fact that they have plenty of company in America.

The Cuban Tour

The State Department has never bothered to explain its reasons for the current ban on travel to Cuba. Presumably it has something to do with the dangers of espionage, the possibilities of American tourist dollars helping the Castro regime, or the dangers to American citizens in an unfriendly country. The point of view is debatable, especially since the State Department is not pressing its right to stamp the passports of those "students" who defied the ban this summer as invalid. A regulation that cannot be or is not enforced is a mockery of law.

But the students who took the trip and then began to demonstrate their immaturity at the House Un-American Activities Committee hearings have done nothing to help the situation.

The leaders, of course, are "students" in about the same way as the "students" sent from Russia qualify. They have graduated from college and are active in the Progressive Labor group which seems to be sort of a throwback to the Marxist college organizations of the 1930's. As one who went to Cuba says, "We consider ourselves Marxist-Leninists. Whatever name you want to call us—Communist, Socialist—if it fits, we'll wear it."

When subpoenaed by HUAC, these Marxists and their childish followers shouted "Fascist" and "racist" at police and Congressmen, tried to read statements dealing with just about everything except the Cuban trip, parked themselves in halls and disrupted the hearing with unruly behavior. As the New York Times said, "instead of a hearing, what . . . . these youngsters apparently need is a spanking."

Like most Marxists, the leaders of this group fell back upon American heroes for their defense. They quoted from Thoreau's essay on civil disobedience and cited Emerson as being on their side. But there is a world of difference between the right to refuse to obey a law which an honest man feels contradicts his greater loyalty to a moral absolute and the sneaky defiance of these students. They did not mention that their trip had been paid through an intermediary by the Cuban government. They did not hint that they were stooges shown planned tours of happy Cubans and willing workers singing at their labor.

It seems doubtful that any possible security dangers are worth the travel ban to Cuba. We are not completely cut off from news of the nation, of course. Visas are given for whatever the State Department feels are sound reasons. The Catholic priest now in trouble with his superiors because of the trip, violated no ban because he was given a visa as a newsman representing a Catholic publication.

But resuming normal travel relations with Cuba would make it more obvious that Castro wants only those who will give a glowing picture of his control. The ban plays into the hands of the young who are easily exploited by far more sinister elements than youth and protest.

Henry Taylor Writes

Voice of America in Trouble Explaining Appeasement Policy

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

It's hard to imagine what the Voice of America is saying to the world today. Able Edward Murrow is faced by a Kennedy policy as out of place as a tuna fish in a trumpet.

Taylor

Murrow's men (like the President himself) talk a good fight against communism. But that's the end of that. For American policy abroad speaks louder than any Voice of America broadcast. And where is our anti-Communist policy?

Mr. Kennedy's policy is appeasement and the entire world sees it. Nor will words make the world forget it so long as we say one thing and do another.

The Voice of America quoted Mr. Kennedy's repeated statements that we could never permit a Red-dominated Laos. It summoned all free Asia to rally to the President's words. Then the New Frontier did a duck-out about Laos at the Geneva conference. In fact, Presidential representative Averill Harriman even announced that "Laos isn't too important, after all."

VIET NAM UNDEFENDABLE?

Laos is about twice the size of Pennsylvania and completely flanks Viet Nam. With Laos abandoned, Viet Nam became largely undefendable — a fact known to, and stated by, Mr. Kennedy from the very beginning of his Laos exhortations. So where are we now in Viet Nam? Not an American military man alive knows how we can contain the Communists in Viet Nam so long as we have given them a sanctuary in Laos.

While the Voice of America was still using 24 languages to repeat the President's anti-Communist pledges about Laos, Khrushchev built the Berlin Wall and we did not knock it down. At this point the anti-Communist "Voice" began to sound like the boy on the burning deck whence all had fled save he.

Cuba came next, and the Voice of America fell silent, as the President fell silent, about the Soviet build-up there. Beginning with President Truman's Berlin airlift, how silently, how silently the basic vital Truman-Eisenhower policy of rebuff has been abandoned!

Is the world to think that Red imperialism threatens us less in Cuba than it did on Korea's Heartbreak Ridge? What horrible, ghastly nonsense to send millions of Americans to South Korea to stop the Communist thrust 7,000 miles away and then stage the Bay of Pigs debacle (unredressed) 90 miles from our shores. How ridiculous to have blocked the Red thrust toward Quemoy and Matsu, and in Lebanon, and then end up having our great Navy guarantee and protect the sanctuary of the Soviet lodgement inside our own defense periphery This is not fighting communism. It is helping it to succeed.

Nevertheless, the dithyrambic "Voice" broadcasts "keep your chin up" reassurances and guarantees to the whole free world. Ed Murrow has his work cut out for him

VOICE CROSSED UP

Even in detail, at the global propaganda level, our performance crosses up the Voice of America.

Blood-drenched Red Algerian assassin Ben Ben Bella, famous throughout the Middle East and Africa as a Sino-Soviet hatchet man and stooge, was nevertheless greeted on the White House lawn en route to his assignation with Castro in Cuba. Why? Moreover, our President actually stated, "Mr. Prime Minister, we are proud to have you here." Photographs of this handclasp went everywhere overseas.

Initialing the test-ban treaty in Moscow compounded the same fatality. Instead of treating this soberly and quietly as a long-overdue action by the enemy of freedom who broke the ban before, the entire (photographed) action, Harriman's bear hug of Khrushchev, Senate Foreign Relations Committee J. William Fulbright's benevolent clink of his champagne glass and the spectacle of our shirt-sleeved Secretary of State batting badminton birds at Gafra got the full, world-wide Madison Avenue treatment.

Many think Mr. Kennedy's appeasement policy is fatally wrong. Others rationalize it, avoiding the appeasement label all the while as they do the deed nevertheless. But one thing is certain. President Kennedy cannot perform as he does and still ask the world to believe the Voice of America and stand firm while he himself ducks America out the door at the rear. For the President's fundamental weakness is the gap between the words and the deeds.

Wisconsin Report

Legislative Group Is Working on Improved Budget Review System

BY JOHN POTTER

MADISON — The questions most frequently put to legislators are "Why is the budget so high?" "Can't it be cut?"

Potter

An honest answer would be "I don't know."

This is one of the basic problems of state government. Legislators believe that budgets are too high; that many expenditures are unnecessary; but they don't know which ones.

This lack of knowledge is inherent in the present system. In November and December the governor conducts his budget hearing at which department heads attempt to explain and justify their requests. Then the governor submits his budget bill embodying his recommendations.

The budget bill is referred to the joint committee on finance which holds public hearings. During ten to twelve weeks the department heads again appear. Members of the committee query those appearing on programs, costs and value.

From the size of the budgets it is obvious that the department heads do a real selling job.

SELLING JOE

The problem lies in the fact that there is no one to refute the arguments made in favor of the budget requests. The only persons with actual knowledge of the activities of the various departments are those making the requests. Their presentation is slanted.

The finance committee member is unable to cut the budget intelligently except for expenditures which are obviously excessive. To most, indiscriminate slashing without a reason for the slashing is irresponsible.

It has been suggested that each department budget be cut by some arbitrary peecentage. This would allow the department head to reduce his programs in his discretion so as to adjust for the loss. The danger here is the possibility that the cut would be made in a vital area so as to dramatize the cut and appeal to public sympathy.

Thus, the welfare department, faced with a 20 per cent slash in their budget, may well close down one of the mental hospitals, or the University refuse admission to half those applying as freshmen.

The answer is that the legislature must make its budget reductions intelligently and specifically.

This can only be done if the legislature can obtain objective and detailed information about the programs and budgets it is to appraise.

For the first time steps are being taken to achieve this.

The Ford Foundation offered to the state $40,000 a year for six years to help finance a program to improve the legislative process. The terms were that the state match the amount of the grant and use the funds to improve legislative organization and procedure and provide techniques for fiscal review and budget analysis. The legislature will make progress reports to the Ford Foundation so that results can be made available to other states.

The 1961 legislature passed a law to implement this program. A committee of senators and assemblymen is now functioning and directing this operation.

At this time emphasis is being given to that phase of the program dealing with fiscal and budgetary matters. A staff of persons qualified in budget and fiscal analysis is being hired under Dr. W. Donald White, a University of Wisconsin professor and former state budget adviser. Dr. White is working part time under the legislative committee in this program.

This staff will work the year around. It is the first major step in providing the legislature with independent and objective budgetary information.

John Potter is one of the leading members of the Republican state senate majority and chairman of a planning committee for the improvement of the budget - making process in the legislature. He is a lawyer at Wisconsin Rapids.

Strictly Personal

Why Not Count Ladies' Age After Marriage?

BY SIDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices: Patience does not mean, as so many people think, merely passive waiting; but is a creative act of hoping for events and preparing oneself to cope with them when and if they happen.

Harris

When the husband too ardently desires boy children, and the wife wishes intensely for girls, I always suspect there is a latent resentment against the other sex on both sides; the best marriages seem to be those in which each parent prefers children of the opposite gender.

Until we know more accurately how responsible society is for producing criminals, our system of punishment will be based on vengeance rather than reform.

The human personality gives off a scent, like the bodies of some animals: the man who expects to be offended usually is; the man who is afraid of being cheated almost always is. We generally react in compliance with the fears of others, which seem to invite our contempt or ill-feelng.

Conservatives and liberals might not be such implacable enemies if they knew how desperately each needs the other — the conservative to be taught a wider grasp of humanity, and the liberal to be given a deeper sense of reality.

There is always a good excuse for not raising wages in bad times; conditions don't warrant it; in good times, expenses are high and earnings must be reserved for the bad times that are sure to follow

If "all things are relative," as most modern people glibly assert, how can we judge among them? — for even two relative things need a third thing, which is not relative, to be compared to. The theory of relativity may apply to physics, but it wreaks terrible harm in ethics.

The best and tersest explanation of the steady output of creative productions was given by Auerbach, when he wrote. "The little dissatisfaction which every artist feels at the completion of a work forms the germ of a new work."

Grecian ladies, according to Homer, counted their age from their marriage, not their birth; which seems a much more sensible treatment of this delicate subject.

The myth that a strong army prevents war has carried more nations into war than any other illusion of mankind; the only thing that prevents war is universal disarmament, which only the weaker nations favor. To paraphrase Hegel's remark about history — all we learn from war is that we learn nothing from war.

Looking Backward

Two Days Battle Fiercest of War

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Oct. 15, 1863.

(The following is an excerpt from the letter of Lt. Col. Henry Pomeroy of Appleton to President R. Z. Mason of Lawrence Institute.)

The fighting on the 19th and 20th was probably the fiercest and most obstinate that has yet occurred in this war. The select troops of Longstreet, Ewell and Hill from Virginia came on with the final determination and the most confident expectations of crushing out our western troops.

We were outnumbered, and at every point of the attack were pressed in front and flank by these selected veterans In no single instance did the northwestern men give way to anything coming in front. The musketry, the artillery discharges and bayonet attacks were destructive beyond anything within the experience of either army. Both our own soldiers and the enemy's agree that they never saw the equal, either west or east.

Prisoners taken from Longstreet's corps say they never before were foiled in a charge made by themselves, nor driven back by charges made by us But both happened to them at Chickamauga

The rebels were terribly punished, by their own acknowledgement. They published a list of 14 generals killed, wounded or captured in those two days.

There was not, there never has been, one moment in which our troops felt themselves beaten. There was not a moment of despondency. Every one was cheerful from the 18th to the 25th — at which time all uncertainty, all doubts were passed, and every one saw that though nominally we were defeated, yet really the enemy was the losing party and that his loss was virtually the loss of his all; thta his failure was total; that his ruin is sure and nigh at hand.

The eyes of an anxious Europe were turned toward the little Bavarian town of Berchtesgaden that day as Britain's Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and German Chancellor Adolf Hitler met for the momentous talk that meant either peace or war. Meanwhile, Sudeten leader Konrad Henlein issued a proclamation demanding annexation of the Sudeten German regions of Czechoslovakia by Germany.

Brisk Bidding Brings Good Prices at Livestock Show

Post-Crescent News Service

DE PERE — Brisk bidding brought bright smiles Wednesday from most of the 300 young folks participating in the northeastern Wisconsin junior livestock exposition.

The auction sale of 635 steers, barrows and lambs concluded the three-day event at the Brown County fairgrounds. Fifteen counties were represented by exhibitors who had raised the animals as 4-H Club or Future Farmer projects.

Most prices were well above the current market, reflecting good community support behind the youths.

All but one of the grand and reserve champions pulled higher bids than last year New records, in fact, were set for five of the six dressed animals in the quality meats division, a relatively new feature of the show

For the grand champion on the hoof, the steer brought $1 40 a pound; the barrow, $2.15, and the lamb, an even $4

The Milwaukee stockyards, with Jim Smith, manager, doing the bidding, bought the champion steer The 982 pound Angus, shining black like a brand new shoe, was owned by Howard Pipkorn, 18, Mequon Smith's top offer was only 10 cents short of the $1 50 record for the show.

Bonnie Menke, 19, Markesan, concluding a highly successful history of participation in the northeastern event, sold the grand champion barrow. She is going to work for the State Dept. of Agriculture in Madison, and will not show next year.

Bonnie's 216-pound barrow, a Poland China, went to Edward Schuster, of Schuster Construction Co , Green Bay. It came mightly close, at $2 15, to reaching the record of $2 45 which Schuster himself set in 1961.

Red Owl Stores, represented by Jack Wotrang, bought the grand champion lamb, a Hampshire, from Roy Kalmerton, 14, Sheboygan Falls. The price of $4 compares with the record of $5.50 set in 1958. Roy's lamb weighed in at 125 pounds.

Prices for the grand champions last year included $1 20 for the steer, $2.10 for the barrow and $3.50 for the lamb.

Reserve champions also ran strong in the bidding.

Apparently anxious not to play favorites, Frankenthal announced he was donating half of the steer to St. Joseph's Home Green Bay, a Catholic institution, and the other half to a protestant organization A bid for the latter was promptly put in by a lady identifying herself as a Methodist

Hillshire Meats, New London, represented by Gary Bernegger, bought the reserve barrow from Ernest Bruns, Hortonville. The price also was 85 cents, with the Hampshire weighing 223 pounds

Judy Lefevre, 16, Casco, owner of the reserve lamb, received $1 60 a pound. The 102 - pound crossbred also was bought by Frankenthal

Champion Lambs

Judy, who appears to have the makings of another Bonnie Menke so far as winning ribbons goes had the grand champion lambs in 1960 and 1961 This year, besides winning the reserve in the live animal category, she was awarded the grand championship in the quality meats contest, where the animals are graded live, slaughtered and returned to the show for final grading and sale

The lamb carcass, another crossbred, brought Judy $1 05 a pound from Casco Telephone Co in her home town It was 25 cents short of the record.

A record $1 20 was paid to Don Depouw, Oconto, for the dressed barrow. It was bought by Dr George Drewry, an Oconto veterinarian.

Reserve carcasses were sold as follows:

Steers — owned by Allan Otto, Valders, to the Land O' Lakes Cooperative, 60 cents a pound.

Barrow—owned by Jerome Hillman, Reedsville, to Little Giant Supply, Manitowoc, $1 a pound.

Lamb—owned by Greg Lefevre, Casco, to Erwin Prust, of Alwin Manufacturing Co., Green Bay, for $1 a pound.

AMC Foresees Growing Demand For Compacts

FONTANA, Wis (AP)—American Motors, longtime chief advocate of the compact car, said today a recent survey showed an ever growing demand in the U S market for the compact vehicle

Roy Abernethy, AMC president, told a national press preview of the 1964 AMC line," the compact car concept will dominate the automobile market in 1964 with more than 3 million being sold for the first time in history "

. That would be about a 500,000 increase over the 2,482,000 compact cars sold in the 1963 model run AMC, Wisconsin's largest employer, got 464,000 units of that market.

Kennedy Points to Benefits Growing Out of Tax Slash

Avoids Break in Relations After Prod by Washington

BY TONY ESCODA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Faced with a British break in diplomatic relations and prodded by Washington, Indonesia expressed regret today for the mob burning and looting of the British Embassy and other property.

Strong forces of Indonesian troops appeared to have restored order in this capital after Wednesday's rampage by about 10,000 Indonesians protesting against the new, British-sponsored Federation of Malaysia. But in the uneasy calm, British women and children were preparing to quit Indonesia.

Violence Deplored

President Sukarno's government issued a conciliatory statement deploring the mob violence, worst demonstration ever staged here against a foreign power. British Foreign Secretary Lord Home had denounced "such uncivilized behavior" and threatened to sever diplomatic relations unless assured British subjects and property would be protected.

The Indonesian government statement was issued after U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones called on Sukarno with a message from Secretary of State Dean Rusk expressing the U.S. government's concern over the rioting. Rusk voiced similar concern to Indonesian Ambassador Zairin Zain in Washington.

Mob Action Renounced

The Indonesian statement said the government "certainly does not approve" of mob action and blamed the outburst in part on "the destruction of the Indonesian Embassy in Kuala Lumpur (capital of Malaysia)."

That riot followed Monday's stoning of the British and Malaysian embassies in Jakarta.

The Indonesian mob, screaming "Crush the British" and "Crush Malaysia," vented its fury against Britain's support of Malaysia, four-day-old nation formed in a federation of Malaya, Singapore and the British Borneo territories of Sarawak and North Borneo.

Sukarno's Stand

Sukarno opposed the federation on the ground it would perpetuate British colonialism in Southeast Asia. British officials believe, however, Sukarno is more interested in trying to take over Sarawak and North Borneo, which share the island of Borneo with Indonesian territory.

The Indonesian government said it had taken steps to prevent further violence.

In Kuala Lumpur, about 30 anti-Indonesian demonstrators seized the former Indonesian Embassy residence and threatened to burn themselves and the building if police tried to eject thm. Protesting the Jakarta riots, they vowed to stay inside until Malayan diplomats returning from Jakarta were safely home.

The Philippines also opposes Malaysia because of some territorial claims on North Borneo but has not been as vocal in its opposition as Indonesia. Malaysia has broken relations with both Indonesia and the Philippines.

California and U.S. Probes in Bus-Train Crash

Mexican Labor on American Farms May be Prohibited

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—Mounting investigations and outcries over Tuesday's railroad crossing crash which killed 28 Mexican migrant workers raised a question mark today over the status of the nation's bracero program.

As probes were pushed on both federal and state levels, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., called for defeat of a pending bill which would extend for one year the right to import Mexican laborers, or braceros, to do farm work.

"My witnesses are the dead and maimed," he said.

Legislation Urged

At Boulder, Colo., the migrant committee of the National Council of Churches said the crash, in which a freight train demolished a makeshift bus carrying 62 workers, underscored the need for more protective legislation.

"Such appalling accidents, which occur in every harvest season, should cause every American to take to heart the plight of one million migratory farm workers," stated a resolution passed by the committee.

Six of the more than 30 injured in California's worst vehicular accident in history remained near death.

Francisco Espinosa, 34, driver of the bus which was carried a half mile down the track while bodies tumbled on both sides, was in jail in felony manslaughter charges.

Federal and state investigators planned to question him further as to why, after stopping, he started across the tracks near Chualar eight miles south of Salinas, as the three-diesel freight bore down on the crossing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pfister, seated on coffee table, discuss their plight with their son, Henry Jr., in living room of their home in Beaumont, Texas, Wednesday. Even though the water continually flowed into the house, the family remained in the house all night. When the picture was made there was over 12-inches of water throughout the structure. Workers Fight to Avert Texas Flood

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Weary men labored through the night to keep flood waters loosed by departed hurricane Cindy from topping a levee and spilling into the neighboring town of Port Acres.

Cloudbursts of the past two days subsided into occasional light showers. All but a few of several thousand evacuees were able to return and start shoveling mud from soggy homes.

Emphasizing that losses could not be appraised accurately until flood waters finish ebbing, the Jefferson County Civil Defense Council estimated damage might reach $10 5 million.

The council appealed for Texas Gov. John Connally to declare the county, which includes Beaumont and Port Arthur, a disaster area.

Heavy Rains

Rains measuring up to nearly two feet drained into the Neches River and created the threat to Port Acres, 10 miles south of here and just west of Port Arthur.

Spokesman for the U.S. Engineers said if water topped an eight-foot levee protecting Port Acres, it could gush into 600 of the town's 1,000 homes and rout more than 2,000 people.

In a final advisory on hurricane Cindy, the Weather Bureau said it had degenerated into little more than a trace of the storm which packed 80-mile winds two days ago.

Predicting showers for another day or two over southern Louisiana and much of south Texas, the Weather Bureau said the last traces of Cindy should disappear by early Friday at the latest over southwest Texas or northern Mexico.

Air Force Ends Hunt for Payload

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force today called off a search for the United States' first winged spacecraft, which apparently sank in the Atlantic Ocean.

Officials decided after studying reports from Wednesday's 19-hour hunt that possibility of finding the 1,100-pound payload was remote.

Although the main goal of retrieving the craft was not achieved, project personnel reported some positive results.

The six-foot-tall payload flew its prescribed course and radio devices sent valuable information on pressures and temperatures which punished the vehicle.

A second launching in the series is scheduled in December.

Youth Admits Many Burglaries in 5 Years

RACINE (AP)—A 19-year-old youth, who said he started stealing at the age of 10 and is quoted by police as admitting between 100 and 200 burglaries in the last five years, was arraigned on a burglary charge Wednesday.

Bernard Smith waived a preliminary hearing in an appearance before Court Commissioner J. Lester Johnson and was jailed under 2,000 bond pending an appearance in County Court Friday.

Smith is charged with burglarizing the Square Deal T-V Service Store last weekend.

Colleges to Help Firms In Research

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's nine state colleges will offer research assistance to the state's industrial firms in an effort to improve the economic growth rate.

Eugene R. McPhee, director of state colleges, said Wednesday the institutions, in cooperation with the State Division of Industrial Development, are preparing a directory for use by industry. It will be similar to a University of Wisconsin directory, and will include the names of faculty members with special technical and scientific skills and an inventory of scentific equipment at the state colleges, private colleges and Marquette University.

More Technical Help

David Wiggins, director of the industrial development division, said that areas of greatest economic growth are on the East and West coasts, where colleges and universities are assisting industry.

The Wisconsin directories, Wiggins said, will make it easier for firms to seek technical aid.

"This should enable them to improve their products and production menthods in order to increase business and to bid on government contracts," Wiggins said.

The University of Wisconsin said Wednesday that one of its coed astronomers will begin outer space research when she joins the Northrup Space Laboratories in California next month.

Negro Youths Attack Police In Michigan

Officers Try to Prevent Violence At New High School

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—A mob of Negro teen-agers stoned police Wednesday as helmeted officers tried to prevent racial violence at a new $3-million high school in a predominantly white, neighborhood.

Later, police fought with several of an estimated 100 to 150 Negro adults who congregated at a residential street corner. No injuries were reported in either incident.

Ten students, including a white girl, were arrested after the hour-long disturbance Wednesday afternoon. Seven white youths were picked up later and released after questioning.

Inquiry Asked

Four policemen were assaulted by a mob of Negro students which also hurled rocks at the patrolmen and at passing cars. Police Chief Roscoe Gray, who said his "show of force didn't work," dispersed about 18 Negro youths at one point with a fire extinguisher.

The president of the Jackson chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Harold White, asked Gov. George Romney to investigate.

School officials scheduled classes as usual today at the Parkside High School, starting point of the flareups. Police ordered extra patrols for the day.

Appeal to Students

Dr. Elven Duvall, Jackson school superintendent, planned to appeal to the students in an assembly for an end to the incidents and tension.

The school is located on the southwest side of Jackson, a Southern Michigan city of 56,000.

After classes ended Wednesday several hundred students—mostly Negroes—gathered in the parking lot. About six Negro and white girls began shoving each other, witnesses said.

Some 200 Negroes began walking away from the lot, some of them throwing rocks at passing cars and at homes. Others shouted, "This isn't Alabama."

Police said the stones were hurled at them when they tried to disperse the mob. None of the officers reported being hit by the rocks.

The nine Negroes and one white student arrested were released to their parents. They were charged with disorderly conduct and ordered to appear in Juvenile Court.

Parkside High School opened for the first time Sept. 4. Its enrollment of 1,500 students was about evenly divided between whites and Negroes, officials said.

Dollar, Freedom Would be Strengthened, He Asserts In Appeal to U. S. Public

BY EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has urged the people to speak up in support of his tax reduction program. He said its benefits would range from new washing machines for families to new strength around the world for the American dollar and freedom.

"But that bill is in danger of being weakened or deferred," declared Kennedy. "It needs your help, your voice."

Thus through a national radio and television speech, the President sought to light a grassroots fire under Congress on behalf of the $11-billion tax reduction — which he called the most important domestic economic measure in 15 years.

House Test Next Week

The first major hurdle will come next Wednesday when the House is expected to vote on the tax program. But Kennedy was also looking toward the Senate where the bill faces a stormy time.

Kennedy directed his appeal all along the economic front, from businessmen to factory workers, from families watching their own shaky budgets to citizens worried over the government's unbalanced budget.

He asked for quick passage of the bill without a proposed Republican amendment tying tax cuts to curbs on spending.

Asks Equal Time

Almost as soon as Kennedy finished his address, William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, fired off telegrams to the networks asking equal time to reply to the President.

Retorting to GOP charges of fiscal recklessness, Kennedy said: "No wasteful, inefficient or unnecessary government activity will be tolerated on the grounds that it helps employment. We are pledged to a course of true fiscal responsibility, leading to a balanced budget."

Much of his appeal was directed to people like the $8,000-a-year family whose prospective benefits he singled out as an example. The head of such a household, he said could look to the tax cut for enough extra take home pay to meet "the installments on a new dishwasher for his wife."

Points to Benefits

Other families, he went on, might prefer to use theirs on "a new spring wardrobe, or a washing machine, or a longer vacation trip, or a down payment on a new car or a new home." And he said the demand so created would help the country "skip a

HILLSBORO, Wis. (AP) — A small plane from Streator, Ill., crashed in a heavily wooded area early today about four miles southeast of here, the Vernon County sheriff's office reported.

Vernon County Deputy Sheriff Milton Guell, who said first reports indicated two planes were involved, reported that three bodies were pulled from the wreckage of the Beechcraft.

Sources in Streator said a Beechcraft carrying three men left there at 4 a.m. today for a fishing trip at International Falls, Minn.

The passengers were identified as former Streator Mayor Albert E. Dittman, Eugene McMillon and Eugene McMillon, Jr.

The crash occurred about 7 a.m. Information on how it occurred or if two planes collided in mid-air was not immediately available.

Racial Situation in Birmingham Will be Principal Topic

BY CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy meets today with the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., and six other Negro leaders to discuss the simmering racial situation in Birmingham, Ala.

On Monday, five of the Negroes called on Kennedy to send federal troops to Birmingham to control "civil disorder."

Long weeks of racial tension in the Alabama steel city reached a climax Sunday when a bomb was tossed into a Negro church, killing four children and injuring 23 others. In later incidents the same day, two Negro youths were killed.

Day of Mourning Asked

Tunnel Favored Under Channel

LONDON (AP) — A group of British and French experts today recommended their governments build a tunnel under the English Channel but warned that financing it may be difficult.

After a two-year study the British and French officials estimated the capital cost of a tunnel at 143 million pounds ($400,400,000.)

They rejected an alternate suggestion of a bridge, saying it would cost twice as much and would be a serious hazard to shipping.

The plan calls for a 32-mile railway tunnel between Folkestone on the English side and Sangatte, a French village five miles west of Calais. It would take about six years to complete.

The experts suggested a joint venture by the British and French railways, both state-owned, or by the governments themselves "would be better suited to the nature of the project" rather than to leave it in the hands of a private operating company.

China Accuses Soviets Of Nuclear Blackmail, Avoiding Showdown

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China says the Russians like to play at nuclear blackmail but yield in a showdown.

In a new broadside against the Soviet Union, President Liu Shao-chi of Red China accused "modern revisionists" of replacing the hard revolutionary policies of Marx and Lenin with a soft philosophy of survival.

Liu spoke Wednesday in the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. His remarks were broadcast by the New China news agency.

Reynolds to Speak at Human Rights Center

MADISON (AP)—Gov. John W Reynolds will be a main speaker monday at a meeting of 200 delegates to the Governor's Conference on Human Rights at the Wisconsin Center.

Other principal speakers for the conference which is in observance of the centennial of the Emancipation Proclamation, are David Fellman, political science professor at the University of Wisconsin, and J. Martin Klotsche, provost of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

$100,000 Home Planned

Cash and Gifts to Quintuplets Estimated at About $250,000

ABERDEEN,S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets squirmed and squalled in their hospital nursery today while their fortunes and chances for survival continued to mount.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, parents of the four girls and a boy, got good news from several directions Wednesday.

They will someday live in a new house costing up to $100,000.

A potful of money (some say about $50,000) is coming their way for an exclusive contract signed with the Curtis Publishing Co.

Authorities at St. Luke's Hospital reported the quints still improving, eating more and showing lots of life in their Isolettes.

It is estimated that gifts and money received by the family so far total some $250,000.

E. C. Pieplow, president of the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce, told a news conference Wednesday night that the Fisher fawily has accepted the chamber offer to build the home, which may cost up to the $100,000 mark.

The site and size of the home have yet to be determined.

Don Schanche, managing editor of the Saturday Evening Post, announced that Curtis has secured radio, television and publishing rights to stories and pictures about the famous quints.

He refused to disclose any details of the agreement. Unofficial reports set the purchase price at about $50,000 for rights to the story for a few issues of the Post and Curtis' Ladies Home Journal.

Schanche said his company was "very happy to have concluded the agreement and thinks it is the best thing for all concerned."

He pledged the story of the quints would be handled "with dignity and decorum."

A hospital bulletin reported the quints were "still tolerating their food well" and the food intake has been increased beyond the teaspoonful or so of artificial milk formula and water being received every two hours.

The boy, James Andrew, remained the most active of the infants.

"He lets you know he's a boy," one nurse reported.

Also reported highly active and healthy were the four girls—Mary Margaret, Mary Magdalene, Mary Catherine and Mary Ann.

The babies haven't yet been weighed or measured but unofficial estimates place their weight at between three and four pounds and their length at about 17 inches.

Dr James Berbos, the family physician who delivered the brood last Saturday, said they had not gained any weight since their birth but that this was normal for premature babies. He said they were developing normally and "nothing apparently is wrong."

Babies Irritable

The quints were expected to remain in the hospital for at least two months but Mrs. Fischer, 30, was due for release later this week.

The infants, he said, are irritable and hard to handle—like all premature babies. They still are being fed through plastic tubes inserted into the nose and leading to the stomach. The doctor said he would take the infants "off the tubes" as soon as possible.

Premature babies are not fed by nipple and bottle until they acquire a sucking instinct.

380 New Lawrence Students Expected

Strong Emphasis on College In Class' Family Background

New students at Lawrence College—380 of them—arrive Wednesday for the annual pageant of luggage-toting that precedes every school year.

They come from five continents (North and South America, Asia, Africa and Europe), they represent four races and a dozen and a half creeds, and their parents' backgrounds range from African farmer to corporation president.

There are several common denominators between the class of 1967 and its immediate predecessors at Lawrence: a marked academic aptitude, a broad geographic range and a strong emphasis on Lawrence in their family backgrounds.

Twins in Class

There are 21 valedictorians and 10 salutatorians of high school graduating classes among the newcomers, including such institutions as the American School of Paris; the Belgian High School in Cologne, Germany; and the American Community School in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Both the valedictorian and the salutatorian of the Washington Union High School in Germantown, Wis., are in the class—Walter Gingery and his twin Joel. A total of 82 of the women and 48 of the men ranked in the top 10 per cent of their classes.

Twenty - three states and the District of Columbia are represented with the top ten in this order; Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Massachussetts, Indiana, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Missouri and Pennsylvania.

Foreign countries represented are Germany, Japan, Southern Rhodesia, West Cameroon, Switzerland, Uruguay and Peru.

Eighteen religious groups are listed among the incoming students, with 63 Episcopalians as the largest single group. They are followed by 46 Presbyterians, 41 each of Catholics and Congregationalists, 40 Methodists, 35 Lutherans, 19 Unitarians and less than 10 each of Baptist, Christian Science, Evangelical and United Brethren, Jewish, United Church of Christ, Moravian, Universalist, Alliance, Greek Orthodox, Reformed Church in America and Buddhist backgrounds.

The numbers of educators whose children choose Lawrence has increased yearly, with 27 in the current class. Included are Pamela Sabol, whose father is president of New York State University; Hope Harron, whose father is assistant to the president and director of university relations at Columbia; and Craig Harris, whose father is associate registrar at the University of Wisconsin.

There are faculty children from Michigan, Harvard, UW-M, Berkeley, Indiana, Northwestern, Washington, Wisconsin and Roosevelt universities; Allegheny, Converse, Doane, Lawrence, Moravian and Wooster colleges and the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

A total of 72 in the class have had relatives precede them at Lawrence; seven had both parents precede them at Lawrence, and more than 20 had one parent on alumni lists.

Longest Lawrence pedigree in the class is held by Mark Wilterding, Menasha, and his cousin Martha Colburn, DeKalb, Ill. They share a line of 18 known and probably several other Lawrence relatives stretching back to the 1890s. John Wilterding, father of Mark, edited the Lawrence Alumni Magazine for more than a decade and has held several offices in the alumni association.

Four of the newcomers' families have been Lawrentians for three generations. Mary Bennison, Grand Rapids, Mich., was preceded by her grandparents, Floyd, '12 and Cleo Wilson Bennison, '13, Coral Gables, Fla., who attended a golden reunion in June; and her father, the Rt. Rev. Charles Bennison, '39, Episcopal bishop of Western Michigan, her brother and an aunt.

The grandparents of Deborah Biggers, Menasha, were Dr. Walter A. Ladwig and Edith Reilly Ladwig, both '98, while her parents are Hayward, '31 and Julia Ladwig Biggers, '32. Six other relatives were Lawrentians.

Roth Parents

Mary Proctor, Spartanburg, S.C., is descended from A. G. Meating, '02, formerly of Appleton, now of Spartanburg; and is the child of Francis, '31, and Elizabeth Meating Proctor, '30. The grandparents of Deborah Waite, St. Louis, Mo., are Fred, '08, and Margarite Brown Sexsmith, '09, while her mother is Eleanor Eexsmith Waits, '33. All live in St. Louis. Several other newcomers list grandparents on Lawrence rolls, but no relatives in the intervening generation.

Seven new students have had both of their parents precede them at Lawrence: Robert Bletzinger, Neenah; Christine Bandy, Marinette; Martin Bridges, Winnetka, Ill.; Martha Colburn, DeKalb, Ill.; Anthony Walter, DePere; Mark Wilterding, Menasha; and Martha Schneider, Fond du Lac.

Lawrence has had a special place in the family history of Frances Leech, Stevens Point, whose great - grandfather gave the Whiting athletic field facilities to the college.

First official activity of the new class will be to gather at 1 p.m. Wednesday in Stansbury Theater of the Music-Drama Center to hear a welcome address by Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, newly - chosen 12th president of the college.

Calf Killed In Accident Near Chilton

CHILTON — A calf was killed when a cattle truck overturned after leaving a Town of Charlestown road northeast of here about 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Gerald Gilbertson, 18, route 4, Chilton, driver of the truck owned by Earl Lau, route 4, Chilton, told Calumet County police he lost control of the vehicle when he was rearranging some papers which had slipped off the seat. The truck left the road just north of a concrete bridge across the Killsnake River. It stuck a utility pole and a fence, winding up on its top.

Work Starts on Hospital Wings At Waupaca

Permit Lists Cost at $185,000; Deadline Set

WAUPACA — The Riverside Community Memorial Hospital board of trustees received a building permit for the $185,000 hospital expansion project, and excavating crews started digging the foundation Tuesday.

Ald. Vernon Johnson, who is serving as building inspector, said the building permit was issued Tuesday. The electrical permit will be issued at a later date.

The Ceman Construction Co., Berlin, according to Dick Ceman, job superintendent, has sublet digging operations to Faulks Brothers Construction Co., Waupaca.

A big crane and trucks started work Tuesday morning on the north wing of the hospital. The work is expected to be completed in about eight months.

Nine Rooms

The building, according to Gerald Almond, administrator, will include nine rooms on the first floor and four rooms in the basement. The south wing will consist of eight rooms on the first floor and two big rooms in the basement.

Plans call for installation of a tunnel to connect the north and south wings.

When the wings are completed and put into operation, work will start on remodeling existing facilities. Most of the departments will be enlarged to more adequately handle the increased use of the hospital.

Shiocton School District to Get Integrated Aids

State Superintendent Commends Building, Suggests Improvements

SHIOCTON — A letter from State Supt. of Schools Angus B. Rothwell to the board of education said the district has been classified to receive integrated aids for the coming year, and commended the district for completing building additions.

The superintendent recommended the school be in session 180 days and that advanced foreign languages and boy's vocal music be offered. He also asked that the pupil-teacher ratio be lowered, and a woman's physical education teacher be added.

Shiocton Supt. Marvin Obry said the teacher-pupil ratio already has been lowered with additional teachers. A woman's physical education teacher has been added to the faculty. Obry said it is expected that boys will be given the opportunity to take music either next year or the year after. Boys now are receiving music training in the elementary classes, he added.

Flat Daily Rate

A flat rate of $23 per day was set for all 54-passenger busses. In the contracts of private bus owners it calls for the $23 rate if a bus travels over 50 miles per day. For less than 50 miles per day the rate was $20 per day.

Complaints have been received, Obry said, from drivers who were hauling just as many students and making the same amount of stops but did not make the 50 miles per day.

Nine privately-owned busses are operated in the district along with two school-owned busses. Eight of the nine bus owners now will receive the $23 per day rate and the one 48-passenger bus owner will receive $20 per day.

In other business the board authorized the purchase of a new piano for $600.

Potter Church Plans Mission Fest Sunday

Deaconness Hospital Official to Speak At Harvest Ceremony

POTTER—A Milwaukee hospital official will be guest speaker Sunday when the Peace United Church of Christ holds its annual Mission Fest and Harvest Gathering Services.

He is the Rev. R. A. Wagner, Deaconness Hospital administrator. The Rev. R. O. Walkenhorst, pastor, will have charge of the liturgy during the 9 a.m. services.

In keeping with the harvest theme, the sanctuary will be decorated with garden and field produce and canned fruits and vegetables. A rail fence and well will serve as the focal point of the decorating plan. In charge of decorations is a committee comprised of Mrs. N. Freund, Mrs. Armin Hernke, Mrs. William Lerche, Mrs. Isabelle Kasper, the pastor and Mrs. Walkenhorst.

Harvest Dedication

The harvest items will be dedicated during the services, then divided among the church's benevolent institutions. They are Deaconness Hospital, Winnebago Children's Home, Neillsville, and Lakeland College, Plymouth.

The event has become a tradition at the church. It is one of the few churches in the area which observes the mission fest.

After the 10 a.m. Sunday School instructions, a potluck dinner will be served in the church hall. The Women's Guild is in charge. In the afternoon the Rev. Mr. Wagner will show slides and discuss the work of Deaconness Hospital.

Chilton C of C Prints Report About City

Booklet Will be Given to Newcomers, Others Interested

CHILTON — A booklet listing statistical and other information pertaining to the City of Chilton has been prepared by the Chamber of Commerce.

The exhaustive report is distributed to newcomers to the community and distributed to others interested in locating here.

Included in the booklet is a listing of churches, schools, post offices, banks, recreational facilities, the hospital, motels, hotels, rail and bus public transportation, the library, professional services and service and community improvement organizations.

In the public utilities section there is a breakdown of electrical, gas, telephone, water and sewage disposal services, the rates and the number of subscribers.

The city's location is pinpointed and its population, valuation, tax rate, type of government and police and fire protection is outlined.

Local industries also are listed.

Not all of the information contained in the booklet is of vital interest to the average newcomer or visitor, however. For example one learns that the city's average annual rainfall is 36 inches and that its altitude is 860 feet above sea level.

Waupaca Water Utility Cited for Safety Record

WAUPACA—An award of merit was presented to the management and employees of the water department by the American Water Works Association "in recognition of an excellent safety record in the water works industry."

The certificate was presented to Nels Rasmussen, street and water superintendent, Friday at the annual conference in Milwaukee. It was awarded for safety achievements during 1962.

It was signed by William Hammann, chairman of the safety committee, Leroy J. Beckman, chairman, and Harry Breimeister, secretary.

Flag Raisers Picked At Chilton High School

CHILTON — Tom Dhein and Jeanne Hoffmann have been selected by Chilton High School students for the honor of serving as school flag raisers for the current term.

They were picked as a result of a school election arranged by the student council. The council prepared a slate of four senior boys and four girls for the general balloting.

Attends FHA Meeting

WITTENBERG—Mary Hanson, representing the local FHA chapter as state recreation chairman attended the first state officers meeting over the weekend at Tony. Plans were made for the year and projects, the state convention, degree work, publications and the possibility of future sub-district meetings for the training of officers were discussed.

Railroad Indifferent Toward Flasher Need, Potter Men Say

POTTER—Members of the Potter Advancement Association reported this week that railroad company officials appear indifferent toward installation of electric flasher signals at the Soo Line crossing of State 114 just east of here.

Donald Duchow, the group's newly elected president who headed the drive to have signals installed, said he has been in contact with railroad company officials. The railroad, he said, at first asked for extensive traffic surveys and is now asking for a listing of traffic mishaps that occurred at the crossing with trains involved. "Near accidents don't count," Duchow said, adding, "prevention doesn't seem to be in the picture."

Elect Officers

Officers elected at the executive board meeting, in additon to Duchow, were Ray Rusch, vice president, James Meyers, secretary, and William Wunrow, treasurer.

The group's efforts to spur residential development of the unincorporated community seem stalemated on the question: What comes first, the homes or the roads?

Home Building

Considerable interest has been indicated in building homes on land to the rear of Peace United Church of Christ, but no roads or streets lead to the potential construction sites. Ray Rusch, who is advancement association vice president as well as Rantoul town chairman, promised a road at the first signs of construction. Potential builders, however, seem reluctant to launch a project unless the roads are there, it was reported.

Potter, as an unincorporated community in Rantoul Township, must look to the town board for road development unless a property owner decides to plat and develop a subdivision. Basic road developmen then generally becomes the land owner's responsibility.

Community Fund

The forthcoming Community Fund drive was discussed and Roy Wenzel was reappointed drive chairman. He will announce the campaign's starting date and other details soon.

The Community Fund plan was inaugurated here last year. Residents are solicited only once for donations to charitable and service organizations. They are given an opportunity to designate the recipients of their donations.

Wenzel will be in charge of the association sponsored ice skating rink during the coming winter. He will be assisted by Jack Voigt and Wallace Krueger. They plan to install lights for night skating.

Tigerton School Enrollment at 447

TIGERTON—School district No. 2 has an enrollment of 447 this fall according to Supt. of Schools Elmer W. Ruh. In the high school there are 40 seniors, 21 juniors, 38 sophomores and 41 freshmen. The seventh and eighth grades have 23 in grade 8 and 33 in grade 7.

Fifty children attend the kindergarten. Grade one has 35; grade 2, 33; grade 3, 40; grade 4, 27; grade 5, 33, and grade 6, 34.

2nd Pair of Runaways Caught at New London

NEW LONDON — It happened again Wednesday.

Tuesday evening two 15-year-old boys who had run away from their homes in Waukesha turned themselves in at the New London police station and were returned to their parents.

Wednesday afternoon police received a call from Krueger's Drive-In saying two boys there were acting suspiciously. Sgt. Willard Groat and Patrolman Thomas Blissett went to investigate and found two boys, one 15 and the other 14, hitch hiking north on U. S. 45.

The boys were taken to the police station where they were questioned. At first they said they had been staying near New London and were hitch hiking to a cottage belonging to one of the boys' uncles near Clintonville. They later admitted they had run away from home.

Milwaukee police were notified and a short time later a call came from parents of one of the boys saying they would come to New London and pick up the runaways.

While questioning the youths, officers learned that the boys had run away from home Tuesday and had spent the night in a woods near Milwaukee. Wednesday, they said, they started hitch hiking north and on their third ride reached New London.

In their call to Milwaukee, police learned this was the second time within a week the pair had run away from home. Last Friday they were as far as West Bend before they were apprehended and returned to their homes.

The pair of 15 year olds that reached New London Tuesday hitched a ride on a freight train as far as Fond du Lac and then hitch hiked the rest of the way to New London.

Chilton School Patrol To See Ball Game as Guests of Auto Group

CHILTON — The city's safety patrol boys and girls will be guests of the American Automobile Association at a Milwaukee Braves baseball game Sept. 28.

Police Chief Harry Thompson successfully appealed to the city council for authorization to organize the trip. Thompson told aldermen the school district would prvide buses and that two bus drivers, Pete Schmahl and Arno Hertel, had volunteered their services.

Horse Injured, Car Damaged at Waupaca

WAUPACA — A car driven by LeRoy Drew, 41, Wautoma, was damaged about 3:30 Sunday when it struck a horse on State Highway 22 nine miles north of Waupaca.

County police said the horse was not seriously injured. Damages to Drew's car were estimated at $500.

Shawano County Is Over a Barrel—1,140 to be Exact

Post-Crescent News Service

SHAWANO — Shawano County is over a barrel. Some 1,140 barrels to be exact.

The county board was informed that as part of its Civil Defense program, it must accept some 1,140 barrels with plastic liners to be used for storing potable water in case of an emergency.

The county's problem is where to store that many barrels full of water.

Finding Space

Tons of Civil Defense material already have been stored in the courthouse, according to Supv. Richard Gruenewald, Bonduel, since the courthouse was declared a fallout shelter.

Not only is finding space for that many barrels a very real problem, but finding a place where the water won't freeze and damage the barrels seems even more insurmountable.

"That stuff comes for free," Gruenewald said, "but you have to pay for it if it's damaged." Some supervisors suggested that the barrels could be distributed to the various villages in the county as well as Shawano for storage.

Shawano County has no full-time director of Civil Defense at this time. Mike Powers, chairman of the county board, is acting director. The board and the Shawano City Council have agreed, however, to split the cost of a Civil Defense office and personnel, starting Jan. 1. The hiring of a director and the water barrel problem will be discussed at committee meetings next month.

Clarence Zachow, General manager of the Atlas Conveyor Co., Clintonville, since the company's incorporation in 1932 and president since 1950, has announced his retirement. Lowell Larson, former Wisconsin sales manager for Brebner Machinery Co., Green Bay,, has acquired his interest in the company, effective immediately. From left are Clarence Zachow, Larson and George Zachow, who will continue as assistant manager and vice president. Larson is president and general manager. (Laib Photo)

Chilton Seeks Way to Stop Oil in Sewers

CHILTON — The city council took steps this week to shut off a drain oil deluge on the city's sewage disposal system.

Acting on a utilities commission recommendation, the council instructed City Atty. William Engler to prepare a notice ordering a halt to the practice of dumping oil into the sanitary sewerage system.

Vincent Reinkober, utilities commission chairman, said the heavy oil floating atop liquid waste creates a difficult treatment problem. The situation was discovered during a recent lagoon survey of the city's sewerage system by engineers from Davy Engineering Co., LaCrosse.

Waupaca Forester Hits Enforcement Problems

New Dutch Elm Disease Ordinance Could Cause Hardship Cases, Council Is Told

WAUPACA — Problems of enforcing the new Dutch elm disease ordinance and the need for additional tree trimmers was brought to the attention of the city council Tuesday night by Charles Booth, newly appointed city forester.

Hardship Cases

Reporting on his first week's activities as city forester, Booth told the council he was amazed to find most of the elm trees in need of trimming or removal are on properties owned by widows or people living on pensions.

He said the enforcement of the ordinance, which makes property owners responsible for trees on their lots, could cause some hardship cases.

Booth said he found many trees which need trimming. Major problem, he said, is to find tree trimmers to do the work. He said his telephone is ringing constantly with requests for information on tree trimmers.

He advised the council that his fall inspection has covered about 30 streets. He has mailed many 30-day notices ordering trimming of dead branches and removal of trees.

Wants More Time

He suggested the time limit be extended so that the work can be done before the April inspection. He said dead branches would have to be destroyed early in the spring before the beetles hatch to contaminate healthy trees.

Booth said he finds objectors to trimming trees between the sidewalks and the curbs. Mayor Lloyd Matheson said people have the right to trim or have the trees removed.

Council Agrees

The council agreed to allow Booth an additional week to work on the survey this fall. He was originally hired to work two weeks in the fall and two weeks in the spring.

Suggested changes in the fire zone, brought to the attention of the council by Ald. Vernon Johnson, were referred to the police and fire commission. Johnson said Fire Chief James "Bob" Hansen recommended an area on Oborn Street be placed in the fire zone because of bulk gasoline and oil tanks in the area. The fire zone forbids burning and orders fireproof construction of new buildings.

Plan Initiation at Stockbridge School

STOCKBRIDGE — Freshmen initiation has been scheduled for Friday at Stockbridge High School.

The initiation program, to be concluded with a social hour, will be conducted during the final two hours of the school day, according to Paul Dobias, principal. It is sponsored by the senior class.

Subdivision Action Held

Waupaca Council Wants Okay From Farmington, Dayton

WAUPACA — The city council Tuesday night postponed action on endorsing a subdivision around a portion of Old Taylor Lake, Town of Farmington, until after the subdivision is approved by the state and the town.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson said the city planning board withheld action on the request to approve the subdivision during its Sept. 12 meeting.

The Campfire Land Development Co., Appleton, brought the proposed subdivision to the attention of the planning board.

Mayor Matheson said Waupaca's interest in the subdivision centers on the possibility that the city may, at a future date, have to provide sewer services to the area if ordered to do so by the state.

52 Lots

Mayor Matheson said the state did not approve of plans for the subdivision, but indicated it would be approved with a few minor changes.

Ald. Duncan Campbell told the council there are varying amounts of water in the lake, according to the seasons. He called it a "mud hole."

Subdivision plans indicate there will be 51 lots, which will be sold for from $600 to $2,000 per lot. Plans call for a 60-foot public access road to the lake.

The proposed development area is across the road from the Towns of Farmington and Dayton dump.

Farm Bureau Men Draw Resolutions For Manawa Meeting

MANAWA — Six Farm Bureau men met at the Charles Timm home Sunday afternoon to draw up resolutions to be presented at the annual county meeting at 8 p.m. Oct. 8 at Blue Haven Ballroom.

Should the proposed resolutions be passed in the county, they will then be submitted to the state office.

Members who met were Frank Asman, Harvey Reinhart, Bert Sizer, Francis Malliet, Carl Kamenski, Leonard Jawort and Charles Timm.

Bonduel	1	0	Marion	0	1
Manawa	1	0	Iola-Scan.	0	1
Weyauwega	1	0	Waupaca	0	1
Wittenberg	1	0	Wautoma	0	1

Wittenberg at Marion.
Manawa at Waupaca.
Weyauwega at Bonduel.
Iola-Scandinavia at Wautoma.

Weyauwega and Bonduel, two of the strongest teams in the Central Wisconsin Conference, clash at Bonduel Friday night in the league's feature game.

Other tilts will have Manawa at Waupaca, Wittenberg at Marion and Iola - Scandinavia at Wautoma.

Both Weyauwega and Bonduel showed that they were good scoring machines in posting victories last week. The Indians of Weyauwega, defending champions, stopped Marion 33-6 while Bonduel's defense sparkled in blanking Iola-Scandinavia, 38-0.

Wittenberg travels to Marion in search of its second straight league win. The Maroons looked good in a 25-14 victory over Waupaca last week while Marion gave indication that it will be no pushover.

Manawa rolled to a 27-7 win over Wautoma and the Wolves will try for win No. 2 at Waupaca. The Comets, still smarting from the loss to Wittenberg, will be out to get in the win column.

Buck Contest

EMBARRASS — The Embarrass River Conservation Club decided at its meeting Monday night at Village Inn to again sponsor a buck contest. Lunch was served by Russell Anderson.

28 Graduates Of Chilton High Attend College

Six Students Go To UW; Many Others At State Schools

CHILTON — More than one third of last year's Chilton High School graduates have entered degree-granting universities and colleges and accredited schools of nursing, a school survey indicates.

A total of 28 CHS graduates, 35.4 per cent of the 79-member class of 1963, have started the new school term and the first step toward degrees. Another seven have entered area vocational and adult educational schools bringing the total number of graduates seeking post-high school education to 35. This represents 44.3 per cent of the class.

The University of Wisconsin, Madison, attracted six CHS graduates, more than any other school. They are Linda Gordon, Lowell Klessig, Gary Lisowe, Larry Mand, Margaret Nelson and Nancy Plappert.

In addition to those attending the state university at its Madison campus, Norman Ditter is enrolled at the UW-Fox Valley Center and Tony LaCrosse and Gerald TeVrucht are at the UW-Manitowoc Center.

State Colleges

Deadlocked as the second most popular school are the state colleges at Oshkosh and Whitewater. Enrolled at Oshkosh state are Karen Hackbarth, Arlene Koehler, Mary Jo Ortlieb and Susan Schneider. The state college at Whitewater attracted Ken Korb, Art Nennig, Nancy Peik and Virginia Nennig.

Tom Selk and Dick Rollman are enrolled at LaCrosse State College.

Other graduates seeking degrees are Sandra Gasch, Lakeland College; Ann Gruber, Stout State College; Carol Ludwig, Marion College; Gretchen Schmieder, St. Norbert College; Diane Woelfel, Alverno College, and Jim Wagner, Northern Michigan.

Entered in schools of nursing are Gretchen Bloomer, St. Agnes, Fond du Lac, and Ellen Schmid, St. Mary, Madison.

27,204 Used New London Pool This Summer

NEW LONDON — A total of 27,204 swimmers used Hatten Memorial Park swimming pool this summer, according to a report submitted to the common council by pool director, John Raasz.

Of the total number of swimmers, season ticket holders used the pool 7,722 times. During free days, which were on alternate days for boys and girls, 6,954 were admitted. There were 4,717 single children's tickets sold and 289 adult tickets.

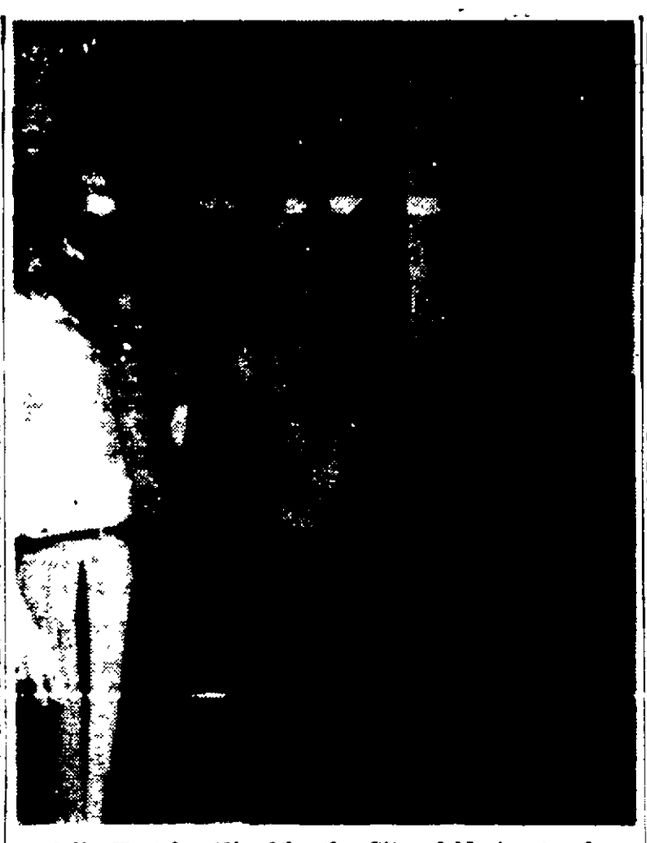

Swimming classes, which were held mornings four days a week, drew 7,425 children. Adult swimming class attendance was 97 for the season.

Revenue from the 193 season tickets sold amounted to $814 and single ticket sales, both children and adult totaled $861. Rental of towels, swimming caps and tags brought in $27 for a grand total of $1,703.

Vic Kersten Posts High Series at 598

NEW LONDON — Vic Kersten posted a 589 series as Kamke's took two games from Michael's Bowl in the Good Fellowship League at Michaels Bowl Monday night. Kersten's high single game was 202.

The high team game of 843 and high team series of 2,418 was turned in by Larson's Bar.

New London to Install More Parking Meters

Council Authorizes Television Check Of Wyman Street Sewer to Find Blockage

NEW LONDON — Two-hour parking meters will be installed on St. John Street, Park Street and the remainder of N. Pearl Street, the city council decided Tuesday.

Fred Noack Jr., chairman of the traffic and safety committee, polled the council to determine whether meters or two hour parking signs should be installed. The majority indicated they favored the meters. Estimated cost is $12,000 to $13,000. Money will be taken from the parking meter fund.

Sewer Check

The board of health was authorized to have a portion of sewers on Wyman street from Cameron to Millard streets televised to find a blockage problem. Estimated cost is $300.

The council also gave the board of health committee permission to advertise for a new tractor to be used at the city dump. The caterpiller tractor presently used will be traded in. Mrs. Grace Stern, chairman of the committee, said there is enough money in the budget to purchase the equipment.

The street department was instructed to replace the sidewalk in front of Cline-Hanson Furniture store adjacent to the city hall. The work is expected to begin Monday.

Francis Werner was reappointed to the utility commission for three years.

Advertise Roofing Bids

The park board was authorized to advertise for bids on a roof for the bathhouse. Richard Berglund, chairman of the park board, said that they have some roofing left over from the shelter house and it is possible that this could be matched.

A request by the Chamber of Commerce and the New London Industrial Opportunities, Inc., asking the city council to put money in their budget to help support the local airport was turned over to the planning commission for study. At the present time the airport is supported by a club called New London Aviation, Inc.

Waupaca Meters Will Pay for Selves

WAUPACA — Parking meters in the business district will pay for themselves in June or July, 1964, Mrs. Dell Ward, clerk-treasurer, has advised the city council.

The report listed $14,802 as the revenue from the meters for the year. Of the original purchase price of $22,940, the balance owed by the city is $6,845. The meters were first put into service in July, 1961.

Half of the net proceeds from the meters is paid to the parking meter company for the meters.

Woman Hostess for Methodist Circle

MANAWA—The Mary Circle of the Methodist Church will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Donald Craig.

Devotions will be given by Mrs. Clarence Roloff. Mrs. Robert Squires will be in charge of the program.

WITTENBERG—The first meeting of the Brush and Pallet Club was held at the home of Miss Emma Krueger. Monday the club will have a cook-out at the Andrew Nelson home at Three Lakes in Portage County following an hour of outdoor sketching.

About 150 Expected At Church Meeting

WAUPACA — About 150 women have made reservations to attend the joint meeting of the Green Bay District Women's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild Saturday at First Methodist Church here.

The registration will start about 9 a.m. Saturday, according to Mrs. Austin Trull, Waupaca, district president. The speaker will be Miss Edna Hutchens, Evanston, Ill., who recently returned from the missions in India. Miss Myrtle Jensen, Waupaca, is district secretary of the guild.

Chilton Tigers Face Kiel in 2nd EWC Tilt

EASTERN WIS. CONFERENCE

New Holstein	2	0	0	Plymouth	0	1	1
Valders	2	0	0	Sheb. Falls	0	1	1
Kohler	1	0	1	Brillion	0	1	0
Chilton	1	1	0	Oostburg	0	1	0
Kiel	0	1	1

Friday's Games:
Chilton at Kiel.
Plymouth at Oostburg.
Brillion at Sheboygan Falls.
Kohler at Valders.
New Holstein bye.

CHILTON — The Chilton Tigers will travel to Kiel Friday night in quest of their second Eastern Wisconsin Conference grid win.

Paced by a rock-ribbed defensive unit, the Tigers have been impressive their first two starts — a loss to powerful New Holstein and victory last week over Sheboygan Falls. Speedy Tom Dhein gave the Tigers some offensive punch in the victory, and the Tigers rule as favorites.

Kiel surprised the circuit by gaining a deadlock with big Plymouth in its opener but was disappointing in a 19-0 setback at the hands of Kohler last week. The Raiders, however, have enough size and experience to be dangerous. Halfback John Meiselwitz has sparkled as a deceptive runner.

The Brillion Lions, humbled last week by New Holstein, will take on another rugged foe Friday night when the Lions travel to Sheboygan Falls. Brillion is 1-1 overall and 0-1 in the conference. The Lion win was a 40-0 romp over Elkhart Lake.

Rugged Defense

At Falls the Lions will be confronted by another rugged defensive unit, much like New Holstein's. The Falcons are not as strong offensively, however. Falls was tied by Kohler in its opener and defeated at Chilton last week. Falls should have a slight edge.

The moment of truth for Kohler will come Friday night at Valders. The Bombers have been somewhat of a surprise team thus far with a win and a tie. Valders, almost the champion last year, has two wins including a convincing triumph over Plymouth. Paul Maki's passing has kept the Bomber attack moving while Valders has looked to little Tom Isselmen for much of its scoring. The Vikings' Dennis Alfson is perhaps Maki's equal as a passer

Plymouth, a highly touted preseason favorite, still is looking for a victory. The Panthers will attempt to end the search Friday night at Oostburg They rule as slight favorites despite the fine showing of the Flying Dutchmen thus far.

Undefeated New Holstein has the week off.

At School Meeting

CLINTONVILLE — Mrs. Sophia Johnson, elementary supervisor in Clintonville Joint School District No. 1, is attending the fall meeting for school administrators and supervisors at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, called by the State Superintendent of Schools.

Atlas Will Have New Management

CLINTONVILLE — Clarence Zachow, general manager of the Atlas Conveyor Co. since the firm's incorporation in 1932 and president since 1950, announced his retirement in favor of Lowell Larson, route 2, Clintonville, who has acquired Zachow's interest in the company.

Zachow will continue in an advisory capacity with the Atlas during the transition period.

Larson takes over responsibilities at the Atlas at once. He comes into the business with a background of 33 years experience in the manufacture and marketing of conveying equipment and construction machinery He was Wisconsin sales manager for the Brebner Machinery Co. Green Bay, distributor of Caterpillar products.

Plans for the company include expansion of sales and continuation of the operation in Clintonville with Larson as president and general manager, and George Zachow continuing as assistant and vice president.

Iola Man Forfeits Bond For Inattentive Driving

WAUPACA — John E. Olson, 20, Iola, forfeited bond of $73.25 when he failed to appear before Municipal Justice George Whalen on a charge of inattentive driving.

Olson was arrested after the car he was driving struck and broke off a power pole early Saturday morning at School and Eighth Streets.

FAA Reaffirms Its Stand Supporting Winnebago Port

But Agency Will Reconsider if Counties Agree on Joint Venture

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The Federal Aviation Agency today reaffirmed its position of support for the Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh to serve Appleton-Neenah-Menasha as a regional field but said it would "re-examine its position" should Outagamie and Winnebago Counties agree to construct a new, joint air facility.

The FAA opinion was sent to the Bureau of Economic Regulation which, several days ago, reversed itself on the same issue and recommended establishment of a new regional airport serving Appleton and Oshkosh to be located between the two communities.

In cases where the FAA and the Civil Aeronautics Board disagree on the site of a new airport the FAA usually accepts the recommendation of the CAB as to location, according to an FAA spokesman. The FAA then decides what kind of facility will be built and how much money will be spent on it.

CAB Examiner Edward T. Stodola, in charge of the air service case, has strongly recommended the two counties pursue a course of negotiation which could lead to a new, joint airport. But failure to agree on ground rules and scope have brought the situation to an impasse.

Today is the deadline set by Outagamie County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath for conference negotiations. The Winnebago County Aviation Committee met Wednesday night and no mention was made of Ponath's deadline or of a meeting with Outagamie officials.

Winnebago County has insisted that Fond du Lac and Green Lake County officials sit in on any airport discussions plus representatives of state and federal agencies.

Outagamie officials contend such a meeting goes beyond the scope set down by Stodola. They charge such a broad conference would be nothing more than a re-hearing of facts already presented at the 3-week CAB sessions in Wausau. If a joint airport agreement is to be worked out it would have to be done quickly since Outagamie has set Oct. 14 for the opening of bids for runway construction work at its Town of Greenville airport site.

The FAA opinion reaffirming its original stand said "The Oshkosh area can be made fully adequate to serve the communities in the Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha area ... at substantially less cost than constructing a new airport."

The Bureau of Economic Regulation in reversing its original stand favoring the Winnebago port said "our position is being revised in order to reflect our belief that this area should be served through a single airport that, ideally, would be a new regional airport located at some point between Appleton and Oshkosh and in such a manner as to best serve the majority of the area's air passengers located at Neenah-Menasha."

The bureau made it clear "that our revised position is not based upon any belief that the present Oshkosh Airport is unsafe." Safety factors at the Oshkosh port and its ability to handle full air service potential of future years were questioned several times by witnesses at the Wausau hearings.

Chairmen Named for Bear Creek Dinner

BEAR CREEK — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meidam have been named chairmen for the public chicken and ham dinner to be served at Trinity Lutheran Church starting at 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

Serving on the committee will be Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Splitt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Raschke and Mr. and Mrs. Elder Tesch.

Dinner proceeds will be applied to debt on the new church.

Monday Night Club Adds 11 New Members

WAUPACA — Eleven new members were accepted into the Monday Night club during its last meeting, according to Mrs. Eugene Hoye, president.

About 60 women attended the first meeting of the season, including members and women interested in joining the club.

The speaker was Mrs. George Dopp, Wild Rose, Seventh District president of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs. She spoke on the history of the federation and the European conference in Munich.

Mrs. Sam Salan gave a talk on the club's 1963-64 program. Mrs. Hoye welcomed the visitors, and Mrs. Tom A. Browne recited the club's collect.

Family Night Planned By Fremont Church Unit

FREMONT — A family night program will be sponsored by the Young People's Society of the St. Paul Lutheran Church Oct. 25.

Dorothy Brogaard, representing the local church on the district committee planning a rally at Symco Oct. 27, announced softball trophies will be presented at the event. Miss Lois Fischer and William Warnke were in charge of the meeting Monday.

$9,875 Hill Family Grant For St. Norbert Research

DE PERE — The St. Norbert College psychology department has received a grant of $9,875 from the Hill Family Foundation of St. Paul, Minn., for research on an experimental learning process, according to the Rev. D. M. Burke, O. Praem, president.

Dr. Neil J. Webb, Psychology Department chairman, is conducting research based on the premise that students can learn more effectively through teaching.

Dr. Webb said this approach to learning results from an oft-repeated phrase, "teaching a course offers a new dimension to the understanding of its material."

This project will extend through the 1963-1964 school year. Students from three different courses will form the experimental groups. The money will be used to purchase electronic recording equipment and booths.

Dr. Webb, an associate professor, joined St. Norbert in 1959 following completion of doctoral studies at Loyola University of Chicago. He is a native of Fond du Lac, attended elementary schools at Waupaca and has a bachelor's degree from Marquette University.

Vocational Classes Opening Monday at Iola High School

IOLA — The home economics adult vocational classes will begin at Iola-Scandinavia High School Monday with registration from 8 to 9 p.m. in the home economics room.

A description of courses will be given by Mrs. Kathryn Anderson, home economics instructor.

Courses include clothing construction, new garments from old, making the basic pattern, fun with new fabrics and millinery, hostess helps, hospitality foods, better meals for less money, international foods and low calorie meals.

All courses will be free of charge with the exception of millinery. The 10-lesson course and evening it is held will depend upon what registrants want.

Volunteer Firemen at Freedom Fete Wives

FREEDOM — About 60 volunteer firemen, directors and their wives attended the annual banquet at St. Nicholas Catholic Church hall Sunday evening.

Mrs. Hilmar Miller of Seymour showed slides of her agricultural trip to Columbia. Miss Diana Sherman of Seymour played the accordion. Ed Vandenberg, fire chief, was chairman of the event.

Iola-Scandinavia School Buses Pass Annual Inspection

IOLA—The fleet of buses maintained by the Iola-Scandinavia School District passed the 1963 inspection and are ready for another year of activity.

Two hundred and seventy-three elementary and 125 high school students depend on Iola-Scandinavia buses for transportation. The district's buses travel an estimated 128,000 miles a year using 17,000 gallons of gasoline. Eight buses ranging in size from 36 to 60 passenger capacity are included in the $50,000 fleet.

Appleton Man Chairman of GOP Campaign

William Fisher to Explain Fund Drive At Monday Meeting

William Fisher, 2304 S. Greenview Street, Appleton, has been named 8th District chairman for the Republican Party of Wisconsin Neighbor to Neighbor Campaign. His appointment was made by Mrs. C. W. Chatterson, Eau Claire, statewide Neighbor to Neighbor Committee chairman.

Fisher will present details of the state fund raising plan at the regular meeting of the Outagamie County GOP scheduled for 8:00 p.m. Monday at the Conway Hotel.

Olson to Speak

Lieut. Gov. Jack Olson will be featured speaker at the meeting which will be preceded by a reception at 7 p.m. Mrs. James Veum, 1736 N. Outagamie, president of the County Federation of Republican Women, is in charge of reception arrangements.

The Outagamie County GOP executive committee and other Republican leaders will meet and discuss state issues with Olson at a 5:30 p.m. dinner in the hotel.

Caucus Planned

Plans for the caucus were discussed at a meeting this week of the County Republican Executive Committee. County Chairman John Conway announced almost 750 people attended the Republican Party corn roast held recently. A resolution commending and thanking Appleton City Clerk Elden Brochm for his efforts as picnic chairman was unanimously passed by the committee.

The group heard a report from James P. Sutherland, county chairman for the October 19 "Salute to Byrnes" dinner and from William Fisher, chairman of Appleton's Republican Voluntary Precinct Organization.

Iola Sport Club Opening Drive For Members

IOLA — Iola Winter Sports Club is beginning its 28th year of activity with a membership drive goal of 200.

The club had 148 members last year. The campaign is being conducted by mail with Jon Spranger chairman, Dennis Sorenson and Roger Voie.

The club is a non-profit corporation chartered by the state to promote the sport of skiing. The Club's facilities are 5 miles northwest of Iola on County Truck MM on 127 acres of land.

The date for the annual senior ski jumping tournament is Feb. 9, a National Ski Association sanctioned meet. The official hill record on the senior hill is 155 feet held by Billy Olson of Eau Claire.

A junior program will be started this year. The junior committee is Irving Stoltenberg, chairman, Ken Carlson and Leverne Hoffman.

Milk Sales Started at Iola-Scandinavia High

IOLA—The sale of milk in the Iola-Scandinavia High School got underway this week with the Future Farmers of America as the sponsoring organization.

Milk will be available to students before school in the morning, immediately after school and following athletic practices. Extra milk at noon can be obtained on regular milk tickets as a part of the government-sponsored program. A plan to expand the dairy aspect of this added school program will include the sale of ice cream.

Hurt in Bike Mishap

Amherst Boy Found After Long Search

STEVENS POINT — A wet, badly bruised rural Amherst boy was found about 7:26 a.m. today after an all night search.

Donald Kealiher Jr., 8, route 1, was rushed to St. Michael Hospital after he flagged down a school bus in the search area.

Sheriff Emil Meshak, Portage County, who directed the search said the boy was in a state of shock and apparently suffering from concussion in addition to bruises on his face, arms and body.

The bus driver, who participated in the search last night, brought the boy to the county ambulance stationed in the search area.

Ran off Road

Kealiher was last seen about 4:35 p.m. Wednesday when he told his parents he was going to visit his grandfather, Raymond Kealiher. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kealiher, Sr., notified the sheriff's department the boy was missing about 7:30 p.m. when he failed to return for supper.

The boy, according to Meshak, had bicycled about four miles from his home and was about two miles from his grandfather's home when he accidently drove into a ditch. He told the sheriff he went into a hay field to spend the night because of injuries.

Dog Loses Scent

About 25 persons took part in the search, including the sheriff's department, Portage County police, Stevens Point city police, neighbors and relatives. A golden retriever trained for trailing owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Strasser, Wausau, was leading to the boy when rain washed away the scent.

About 75 Stevens Point State College students joined in the search about 5:30 a.m. today. Sheriff Meshak said he plans to question the boy when he recovers sufficiently at the hospital.

Briefings for Scout Leaders

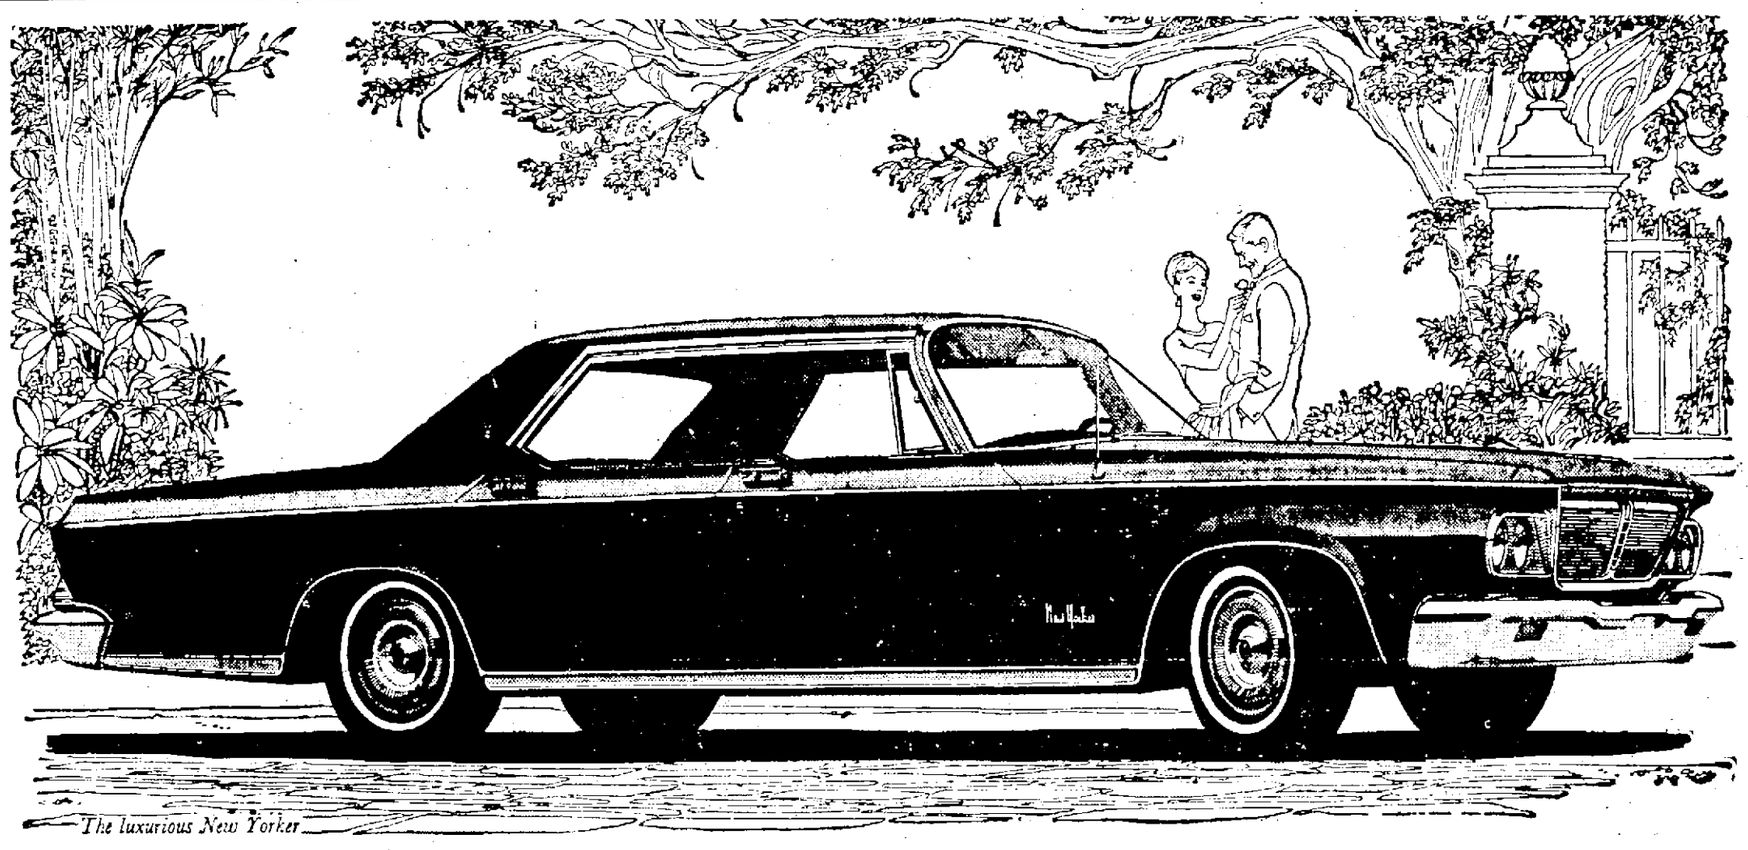

CLINTONVILLE — The second briefing session for adult leaders of Cub Scout packs and Boy Scout troops of the North District will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the New London Congregational church and Wednesday at the Peace United Church of Christ, Shawano.

Jack Kaphingst, Clintonville, will be in charge of the Boy Scout session on the subject, "Troop Operation." The Cub Scout session will be headed by Ted Jozwiak, Clintonville, on "Cub Scout Achievement-Planning."

Duane Hahn President Of Youth Fellowship

FREMONT—Duane Hahn has been elected president of the Junior Youth Fellowship of the Hope United Church of Christ to serve with Ronald Schafer, vice president, and Terry Potratz, secretary-treasurer.

Hosts for the organization meeting were the Rev. Raymond Barz and Gregg Neuschafer.

Bonduel's request to drop out of the conference was granted effective next year.

Two Men Who Pleaded Guilty of Fight Get Probation; One Fined

Two men who pleaded guilty of fighting in a ballroom over the weekend at Nichols were placed on probation for one year, and a third was fined $50 for his part in the fracas.

Placed on probation were Dennis Teschke, 23, 3304 N. Oneida St., Appleton, and Roy Dingeldien, 22, Forest Junction. Teschke had pleaded innocent to the charge of disorderly conduct, but changed his plea to guilty today.

Dennis Scheelk, 20, Nichols, was fined $50 for his part in the fight.

The fight grew out of a discussion on the merits of the Marine Corps as opposed to those of the Army. Scheelk is a Marine on leave and Dingeldien is a former Army man.

Waupaca Moves Site of Garage to Armory Lot

Police, Fire Equipment to be Stored There When Hall Shift Is Made

WAUPACA — A plan to move the site of the proposed Waupaca National Guard equipment garage to the armory parking lot at Washington and Union streets was approved by the City Council Tuesday night.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson said the Fire Rating Bureau is pressing Waupaca to start planning acquisition of a hook and ladder truck. He said the new location of the building would provide better facilities for the trucks. Previous council meetings were told the new buildings will eventually be used for city fire and police equipment when it is necessary for the city to move its city hall into the Armory.

Parking Lot

A motion to move the proposed building site stated the newly acquired lot at Fulton and Washington Streets is to serve as an armory parking lot. Ald. Vernon Johnson said the proposed building will leave a 31-foot wide area between the building and the sidewalk on the armory parking lot.

No action was taken on the bids for the construction of the equipment garage. They were opened at the previous meeting, but no action was taken when the bids were higher than the city engineer's estimate.

Rent Building

The council has worked out a plan with the National Guard to rent the new building and a portion of the armory over a period of years to retire the debt for the construction of the new garage.

The garage will enable the National Guard unit to store and work on its equipment. The equipment, trucks and howitzers, are being stored at the Grand Army Home for Veterans, King. The armory is the headquarters for the unit and is used for drilling, instructions on small arms and other equipment.

Badger Boys Will Report to Legion

WAUPACA—Coach LeRoy Haberkorn and the four delegates to Badger Boys' State last summer will be speakers at a meeting of the Shipley, Robinson, Moen Post of the American Legion at 7:30 p.m. today at the Grand Army Home for Veterans, King.

The meeting will be in the amusement hall at the home.

Stockbridge Pupils Get First Aid Course

STOCKBRIDGE — Forty eighth graders at St. Mary School have started the Red Cross Junior First Aid course, Sister M. Civina, principal, has announced.

The students are divided into five groups for the series of 30 half-hour lessons. After mastering each phase of the course, the eighth graders gave demonstrations on accepted first aid practices to the other classes.

Sister Civina is the instructor. Those who successfully complete the course will receive Red Cross first aid cards.

106 Waupaca Students May Make Tour of Washington

WAUPACA — Popularity of the biennial Waupaca High School student trip to Washington, D.C., was evident this week when 106 students said they were interested in making the trip in April.

George Hendrickson, superintendent of schools, who heads the faculty committee in charge of the trip, said the April 14-18 tour may be the biggest in the history of the school.

He said the cost per student will be about $105, which includes transportation, meals and lodging. It consists of special guided tours to historic and scenic places in Washington and area.

The Smithsonian Institute, National Museum, natural history building, U. S. Naval Academy, Washington Monument, National Congressional Library, Army Medical Museum, Corcoran Art Gallery, National Gallery of Art, Washington National Cathedral, wax museum, Supreme Court building, Capitol building, Lincoln Memorial and other plans will be visited by the group.

Hendrickson said 57 seniors and 49 juniors have signified they would like to take part.

Brisk Bidding Brings Good Prices at Livestock Show

Post-Crescent News Service

DE PERE — Brisk bidding brought bright smiles Wednesday from most of the 300 young folks participating in the northeastern Wisconsin junior livestock exposition.

The auction sale of 635 steers, barrows and lambs concluded the three-day event at the Brown County fairgrounds. Fifteen counties were represented by exhibitors who had raised the animals as 4-H Club or Future Farmer projects.

Most prices were well above the current market, reflecting good community support behind the youths.

All but one of the grand and reserve champions pulled higher bids than last year. New records, in fact, were set for five of the six dressed animals in the quality meats division, a relatively new feature of the show.

For the grand champion on the hoof, the steer brought $1.40 a pound; the barrow, $2.15, and the lamb, an even $4.

Milwaukee Purchase

The Milwaukee stockyards, with Jim Smith, manager, doing the bidding, bought the champion steer. The 982 pound Angus, shining black like a brand new shoe, was owned by Howard Pipkorn, 18, Mequon. Smith's top offer was only 10 cents short of the $1.50 record for the show.

Bonnie Menke, 19, Markesan, concluding a highly successful history of participation in the northeastern event, sold the grand champion barrow. She is going to work for the State Dept. of Agriculture in Madison, and will not show next year.

Bonnie's 216-pound barrow, a Poland China, went to Edward Schuster, of Schuster Construction Co., Green Bay. It came mightly close, at $2.15, to reaching the record of $2.45 which Schuster himself set in 1961.

Red Owl Stores, represented by Jack Wotrang, bought the grand champion lamb, a Hampshire, from Roy Kalmerton, 14, Sheboygan Falls. The price of $4 compares with the record of $5.50 set in 1958. Roy's lamb weighed in at 125 pounds.

Prices for the grand champions last year included $1.20 for the steer, $2.10 for the barrow and $3.50 for the lamb.

Reserves Strong

Reserve champions also ran strong in the bidding.

Siegfried Frankenthal, of Packerland Packing Co., paid 85 cents a pound for the reserve steer, owned by Bonnie Menke, who had just sold the grand champion barrow. Her steer, a Hereford, weighed 983 pounds, just a pound less than Pipkorn's champion.

Apparently anxious not to play favorites, Frankenthal announced he was donating half of the steer to St. Joseph's Home Green Bay, a Catholic institution, and the other half to a protestant organization. A bid for the latter was promptly put in by a lady identifying herself as a Methodist.

Hillshire Meats, New London, represented by Gary Bernegger, bought the reserve barrow from Ernest Bruns, Hortonville. The price also was 85 cents, with the Hampshire weighing 223 pounds.

Judy Lefevre, 16, Casco, owner of the reserve lamb, received $1.60 a pound. The 102 - pound crossbred also was bought by Frankenthal.

Champion Lambs

Judy, who appears to have the makings of another Bonnie Menke so far as winning ribbons goes, had the grand champion lambs in 1960 and 1961. This year, besides winning the reserve in the live animal category, she was awarded the grand championship in the quality meats contest, where the animals are graded live, slaughtered and returned to the show for final grading and sale.

The lamb carcass, another crossbred, brought Judy $1.05 a pound from Casco Telephone Co in her home town It was 25 cents short of the record.

A record $1.20 was paid to Don Depouw, Oconto, for the dressed barrow. It was bought by Dr. George Drewry, an Oconto veterinarian.

The champion steer carcass, a Hereford owned by Rosemary Menke, Bonnie's sister, was bought by Grand River Co-op, Markesan, for 60 cents a pound, 10 cents more than the record.

Reserve carcasses were sold as follows:

Steers — owned by Allan Otto, Valders, to the Land O' Lakes Cooperative, 60 cents a pound.

Barrow—owned by Jerome Hillman, Reedsville, to Little Giant Supply, Manitowoc, $1 a pound.

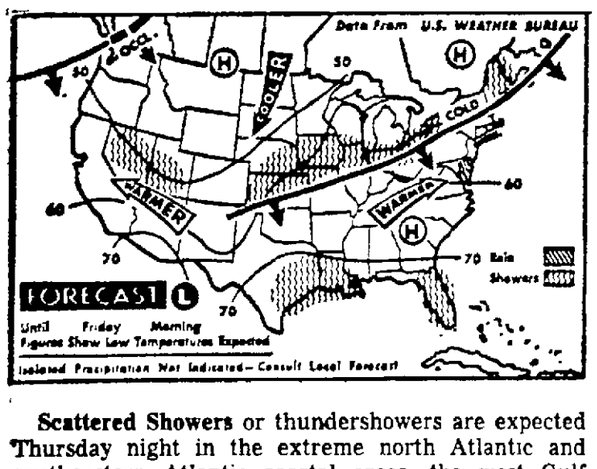

Lamb—owned by Greg Lefevre, Casco, to Erwin Prust, of Alwin Manufacturing Co., Green Bay, for $1 a pound.

Bicycle Riding Good for Mild-type Heart Patient

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I understand that bicycle riding is excellent exercise for heart patients. I ride every day and, as I have angina, I wonder if you approve. I don't notice any bad effects.—Mrs. G. S.

Molner

I approve, subject to several qualifications.

Under normal circumstances bicycle riding is mild, pleasant exercise. Dr. Paul Dudley White bless his heart and bless his advice on care of the heart, rides a bike. However, many other forms of exercise are just as good: not excessively strenuous, but steady and pleasant. But some may not suit your temperament and circumstances, or lend themselves as well to daily use. It may not be as easy (or it may, for some, be easier!) to do a little swimming, a little bowling, some calisthenics, a little work in the garden, some walking, some work in a basement workshop, paddling a canoe or rowing a boat. Golf leisurely, probably 9 holes rather than 18, on a not too-hilly course, is also acceptable.

Exercise Necessary

All of us need exercise unless some problem of health interferes.

There are heart patients for whom riding a bicycle would be too strenuous. This is also true of the other types of exercise that I mentioned. Walking up and down stairs, once, would be too much for them. But such individuals know it.

Generally, it is good for a heart patient to have as much exercise as can be tolerated without discomfort: without huffing and puffing and being out of breath, certainly without any heart pain, without a feeling of being 'pooped out' which may be all right for the young folks who need to use up their energy and harden their muscles.

For the person with angina if bicycle riding causes no bad effects—either shortness of breath or pain—it is good exercise. Any form of steady and regular exercise within those limitations is good. It will strengthen the heart by gradually increasing circulation through development of small blood vessels. Overdoing, indicated by pain or breathlessness, will not help. It will do damage.

In any case such exercise as is best for you should be steady and regular.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it safe to use depilatory creams to remove hair from the face. Or will it injure the skin?—F. P.

I can't say, because some people do, and some don't, have tender skins that these creams can irritate. The only answer is to try them. If you have a tender skin, you'll soon know it. In which case, stop using the creams.

Inflamed Kidney

Dear Dr. Molner: What is pyelonephritis? What are the symptoms? Does it make you dizzy and tired?—E. G.

It means inflammation of an important part of the kidney (or kidneys). Symptoms may include fever, cloudy urine, burning sensation when urinating, pain in the kidney region. The infection can cause fatigue, and fever and toxicity may cause dizziness.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

then there's the high school girl who filled out an application for a job at the Outagamie County courthouse.

She said she was a high school graduate and had been further trained at a vocational school.

The job for which she was applying, according to the standard form which she filled out, is that of a "tpyist."

American Heiress Now Seeks Divorce From Ex-Chauffeur Husband

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — American heiress Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu hid out with friends as her Romanian ex-chauffeur husband flew in from New York to find out more about the divorce proceedings she started.

Andre Porumbeanu, 37, found their luxury villa at Erlenbach shuttered and locked, and three servants gone and their two sons concealed in an undisclosed private home.

Mrs. Porumbeanu, 22, charged Andre with misconduct. She had defied her family and courts to marry him.
